We Don't Order These Clothes From a Book

WHEN we make a selection of the famous Adler-Rochester Clothes we don't order them from a book of pictures or some samples of cloth and guess how they will look.

We see every model on a live man.

We see just how the general effect of the materials will look.

We see just how every model fits.

We see just how the cut and the style of every model looks.

We see these superb clothes right on a live man, and that's the only way to buy clothes.

That's the only way for you to buy clothes, too.

That's the way we want to show you our selection of

Adler-Rochester Clothes

We want to show you the style, fit, material and workmanship right on you.

We don't select them by "guess work," and we don't want you to select a suit by "guess work."

Come in and see yourself in these snappy new models. See that you are stylishly fitted—see that the material is becoming before you commit yourself.

Isn't that a lot more sensible than committing yourself in advance and taking chances on the fit and appearance of a suit?

And our prices for these famous Adler-Rochester models are exceptionally moderate.

Also, a COMPLETE LINE OF BOYS' SUITS now on display.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Hadaway spent Sunday in Baltimore with friends.

Mrs. A. Parks Rasin entertained the Embroidery Club Wednesday afternoon in a most delectable manner.

Mrs. Seth Ellegood, of New York, is the guest of Mrs. Merrick Clements, on Kent Circle.

Sheriff Medders is quite ill at his home on Cannon street, but is better at this writing.

Miss Summerille, of Baltimore, is the guest of Miss Helen Hynson.

We regret to state that Rev. Father Urner, of Sacred Heart Church, is quite sick. He is at his home in Wilmington, and his condition is such that it is not known just when he will be able to resume his duties.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Reed, of Baltimore, have returned to Chestertown and reside on Kent street.

Miss Elizabeth Schauber, of Philadelphia, spent the Easter holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Schauber, near town.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. N. Satterfield left for the seat of the Maryland Conference in Lynchburg, Va., on Monday. Mr. Satterfield is the delegate from Christ M. P. Church.

Mr. Evans and son, of Baltimore, have been guests of her brother, Mr. Alwyn M. Culp and his wife, on the avenue during the week.

Miss Mary Whaland entertained a number of her friends at her High street home a few days ago in a most enjoyable manner.

Mr. Norman Crouch, of Baltimore, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Crouch.

LOCAL NOTES

THE Mrs. Woodrow Wilson handkerchief was won at the Chestertown Bazaar by Sheriff Wm. H. Mckee. Mrs. Wm. F. Russell took the cake!

THE engagement has just been announced of Miss Marie Westcott to Mr. Raymond S. Williams.

Miss Westcott is the daughter of Mrs. and the late Chas. T. Westcott of 906 St. Paul street, Baltimore.

Mr. Williams is the son of Mr. and Mrs John Williams of Walbrook, and is a well known lawyer of Baltimore. The wedding will take place in June.

THE wedding of James W. Johns, vice-principal of Rock Hall High School, and Miss Etta L. Durding, youngest daughter of Mrs. Minnie Durding, of Rock Hall, were quietly married in Baltimore last Friday March 28. They will reside at Mr. and Mrs. Abe Casey's.

THE Wilson-Nichol sales, near Easton adv. in KENT NEWS, were largely attended Tuesday. There were three pairs of mules sold for $1500. Messrs. Robert J. McWhorter, James G. Beck and Wm. H. Mckee, Robert Moffett and John Moffett attended from Kent and purchased the fine bay stallion, Star Bingen.

THE Hall property near Galena was sold at public sale Tuesday by Lewin W. Wickes, Esq., trustee, for $125.

THE fly was so bad in wheat near Lambson's that one farmer had to plow up 16 acres.

THE farmers of Quaker Neck will begin work on the new county wharf as soon as possible. Mr Elmer Leary will likely have the contract. The firm of Kirwan & Co., Baltimore, have agreed to pay farmers of Quaker Neck $8.40 per ton for tomatoes and contracts are being signed for this amount.

THE high winds have greatly retarded the work of Kent fishermen. However a crew from Betterton caught a fair catch last week and sold $125 worth of fish.

A FARMER in Kent fed his chickens canned tomatoes and as a result a number of of them died from ptomaine poisning.

SAMUEL FRIEL on Saturday purchased the farm of the Queenstown and Love Point Land Improvement Company containing about 100 acres for $7,000. This farm is situated between the track of the railroad and the public road leading to the railroad pier.
