SIN IS SIN

Don't send my boy where your girl can't go,
And say, "There's no danger for boys, you know,
Because they all have their wild oats to sow."
There is no more excuse for my boy to be low
Than your girl. Then please don't tell him so.
Don't send my boy where your girl can't go,
For a boy or a girl, sin, is sin, you know,
And my baby boy's hands are as clean and white,
And his heart as pure as your girl's to-night.

—EXCHANGE.

HAVE you seen the boys answer the whistle?

THE Schoenwolf red lights are dim compared to others.

THE arrival of the four airships at Chestertown Tuesday was a rare sight and marks another epoch in the history of the town. If we had only known of their coming we'd given them a bigger reception.

G. D. LOFLAND refused to serve as a candidate on the Barroll ticket showing his good judgment. Sheriff W. H McKee has been substituted. Isn't this rather unusual for an officer of the law?

BETTERTON on Saturday had an election for town commissioners which rivaled Chestertown. Col. A. H. Suplee and Mr. A. P. Emerson locked horns and the result was a tie, 32 to 32. Opinions have been given that the old members hold over for a year while others authorize a new election next Friday.

MR. PAUL DUNN, who had been announced as candidate for State Central Committee from the First District, finds that his work will interfere with his serving on this committee and therefore retires. He says he is in hearty sympathy with the Organization and will do all he can for the success of all its candidates.

MR. WILLIAM H. STRADLEY, of near Galena, an untiring party worker, will succeed Mr. Dunn. He is in every way fitted for this position and will poll a big vote.

THE Organization ranks are growing every day. At a store in the Second district recently there were 17 men gathered on account of the rain and 16 of them were organization and one Barrollite! The one lonesome man left in the rain disgusted! 16 to 1 is good enough, but why not make it unanimous, John?

THE many friends of MR. VERNON M. BARNETT are urging him as one of the candidates for delegate to the State Convention in Baltimore. Mr. Barnett is a rock-ribbed Democrat, a business man of Chestertown, a land owner, honest, industrious and intelligent. He would make a fine representative of his party.

HONORS FOR SENATOR SMITH.

Senator John Walter Smith was the orator at the graduation exercises at the Naval Academy. This was decided upon at a meeting of the Board of Visitors and marks the second honor conferred upon the Maryland Senator during the June week exercises. When the board first went into session during the early part of the week he was elected chairman and has now been selected to make the fairwell address to the large class. Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels, presented the diplomas and the commissions to the men.

DID IT OCCUR to anyone reading that squib concerning the value of Mr. Caldwell to the farmers of this county, that the farmers had been about as valuable to him as he to them? We never heard anything wrong about Mr. Caldwell, but we fail to understand what particular claim he has on the suffrage of Kent's citizens because he sells them horses and cattle, and is making a tidy little sum to keep the wolf from the door and to be the support of his declining years. The farmers are to vote for him because he sells them a horse or a mule says the Barroll organ! Well, that's a binding argument for one's suffrage!

SHALLCROSS AND TURNER

The Barroll organ, on page 7, column 4, top of column (to be exact) treats its readers to about ten sticks, more or less, of valuable (?) information concerning the two Organization candidates for the Legislature—Messrs. Shallcross and Turner. "Dr." Bowers proceeds to diagnose the case of these two gentlemen, who, he apparently thinks, are politically diseased. Of course, it is easy for such a distinguished specialist as the "Doctor" to decide at once that they are suffering from an infection which he fears may inoculate this good old shire from northern peak to southern slope. He says the trouble with these gentlemen is Organizitis, or some such technical name. The symptoms he declares to be: First, enlargement of the heart, superinduced by too great a generosity with the county exchequer; second, loss of memory, in connection with certain legislative obligations; third, defective eyesight, seeing double on the re-assessment question; fourth, aggravated Gibbsites. These are enough, he decides, either to kill the afflicted ones, or if they happen to survive, the germs will be sown broadcast, so that none may escape infection—no, not one. We hasten, however, to reassure the public and to state that Dr. Bowers has been frequently known to err in his diagnoses. Very recently he was called into consultation by the chief physician of the Antis to give his opinion in some cases which might be known as Bet-itis, and so crass was his ignorance in the face of this disease that all decided he must be a quack of the 33rd degree.

Dropping the figurative, though, we think, expressive style, and adopting plain discourse, the Barroll organ introduces Messrs. Turner and Shallcross as the Organization candidates for the Legislature. In so doing the Barroll organ very truthfully states that they have been selected by the Organization; selected, too, "to represent and carry out the policies" of the Organization; truthfully, too, that they "would never have been selected" but for that purpose; truthfully, too, that "if they are elected they will carry out the policies of the Organization"; truthfully, too, that they "will endeavor (and possibly succeed) to say to the voters that they will legislate in the interests of the people; truthfully, too, that such legislation will be in the interest of the Organization faction—they being a part of the people. All this is good Organization gospel, and in sizing up the situation the Barroll scribe had in mind, no doubt, an identical purpose in the minds of the Barrollites when Messrs. Harris and Kibler were selected to wage the legislative fight against Messrs Turner and Shallcross. When the two former gentlemen allow their names to be nailed to the mast head of the Anti-Organization political war-vessel they are expected to die fighting on the deck beneath, and they would be traitors to their cause if they did not.

But all this preamble in the Transcript article was not meant to be a generous tribute to the loyalty of Messrs. Turner and Shallcross to the staunch Democracy of Kent; far from it. It was meant to insinuate that the connection of these gentlemen with the Organization was as a stench in the nostrils of the people—the emphasis laid upon the fact that they were bound up with the fortunes of that faction was for the purpose of belittling them and insinuating that these high-toned and influential citizens of Kent had soiled their hands when they touched the garment of Organization politics. And the inference could be logically drawn that such being the situation it behooved those angels of purity—the Antis—to come to the rescue. And now the names of Kibler and Harris are as a delicious perfume upon the political air; that the aroma issuing from these two names is as sweet incense to heaven, and that there is silence among the gods when their messengers bring any news to Olympus of these earthly prodigies.

Now, we are willing to accept the dreadful doom pronounced upon Messrs. Turner and Shallcross, as Organization candidates. We believe that they will survive the grave into which the Transcript desired to bury them. We are perfectly willing to acknowledge them wedded to Organization policies, but we draw the line at accepting any intepretation put upon those policies by any such authority as Dr. Bowers of the Barroll organ. We believe him incapable, by reason of a mind rendered almost callous by an acquired prejudice, of dealing fairly and squarely with any issue before the people of Kent today. His brain seems to be atrophied and he indulges in all sorts of speculation and bluff, hazard and venture, which to all well-balanced minds appear to be the ravings of a fanatic. And then when some one has the nerve to call his bluff he screams like a frightened child, and takes refuge behind the skirts of former boyhood acquaintance, a fancied family respectability and social standing, or a pious church affiliation.

During the course of this campaign we shall take up the several aspects of Dr. Bowers' diagnosis of the legislative case, and we hope to show that he is endeavoring to create a panic among the people as to the health of the body politic, in order that he may get in some of his own quack treatment and remunerate himself, as all other quacks seek to do.

IT seems a little inconsistent in the Barroll organ to try to make capital out of the political career of Messrs. Turner and Ahern. I suppose they do so on the principle that "misery loves company." The Transcript has been found to champion the cause of one Wm. L. Marbury, and there has never been a man so prominent in the public eye as he who has been compelled to defend himself so rigorously against the charge of Republicanism
