SATURDAY, JULY 26, 1913.

Mr. HARRY C. WILLIS received notice this week that Judge Duffy had reversed the decision of the Public Service Commission that the Nicholson's Branch road should be operated. An appeal will be taken to the Court of Appeals.

THERE is no use telling the public that the Transcript confesses the one-man power issue. Reject that and what becomes of them? So far as the Antis are concerned Barroll, like Louix XIV., says, "I am the State." Without Barroll where would the faction be?

AFTER making a big howl over the appointment to a scholarship at Annapolis, the Barroll organ confesses from a hidden corner of their last week's issue that, "It is but proper to say in this case that Mr. Jarman received the highest average of those who took the examination." We do not desire to make any unjust inference, but this sounds as if they said, "We are compelled against our own will to say this, but it is likely some one else will come out with it if we do not."

THAT was an awfully "stinging rebuke" contained in that Still Pond letter. We would like to ask the author of it, if he has forgotten the time he went down in his pocket and paid his taxes after the imposition of a $1.85 rate by the Barroll board of county commissioners. Because he is being paid back some of the coin then dragged from his jeans, he is deluded into the belief that money is being saved for him. Better get some of those ladies to enlighten him.

THE JARMAN SCHOLARSHIP

TO THE PUBLIC:

Last week the Transcript called upon me to investigate the Urie-Jarman scholarship affair.

I have investigated the affair and submit the following correspondence to the public, and also will submit the same to the Grand Jury at its next session.

HARRISON W. VICKERS, JR.

CHESTERTOWN, MD., July 19th, 1913.

Mr. John P. Ahern, Millington, Md.

Dear Sir: I am enclosing to you a copy of a letter which I have written to Dr. Jarman. Kindly give me a statement of this matter as far as you are concerned, and whether or not you had any knowledge of this affair. Kindly send me a written statement, and oblige

Very truly yours,

H. W. VICKERS, JR.,
State's Attorney.

MILLINGTON, MD., July 23, 1913.

Mr. H. W. Vickers, State's Attorney, Chestertown, Md.

Dear Sir: Answering your letter of the 19th instant, relative to an alleged conversation between Mr. John D. Urie and Dr. G. Allen Jarman in regard to the scholarship for which Dr. Jarman's son was a competitive applicant, I knew nothing of the conversation until I reached Chestertown Tuesday morning, the 15th inst.

After the School Board meeting, at which Dr. Jarman's son was appointed to the scholarship at St. John's, he having won it by a small margin, I saw the Doctor, and he related that a conversation had taken place between him and Mr. Urie, to the following effect:

Mr. Urie met him on the street and said he regretted that his son had failed to win the scholarship by a small margin; that he was sorry he had failed, as he thought he would be a good one to represent the county well; that it might be arranged to give him the scholarship, and then asked him how he stood with me; that it might be well to write to me.

The Doctor replied that he knew me personally; that we spoke when we met, but that he did not think there would be any politics in a matter of this kind.

Mr. Urie then remarked that there was a little politics in everything.

After hearing the Doctor's statement, I informed him that I regretted my name had been brought in the discussion; that Mr. Urie had never at any time mentioned the scholarship to me; that he had no authority or right to infer that any influence could be brought to bear that would secure my vote for any one but the one who won on his merits and got the highest per cent. in the examination; that his (Dr. Jarman's) son had won the scholarship by competitive examination; that if he had not so won it, he could not have brought any influence to get it over the one who had won it; that every vote ever made by me since being a member of the School Board had been for the one who made the highest average, and that the same rule would apply so long as I was a member of the board. That it was unfair and unjust to put the slightest blame on me for a conversation of which I was absolutely unaware.

The Doctor then expressed himself as being satisfied with my explanation.

Very respectfully yours,

J. P. AHERN.

CHESTERTOWN, MD., July 19, 1913.

Dr. G. Allen Jarman, Chestertown, Md.

Dear Sir: I see by this morning's Chestertown Transcript of July 19th, an account of the incident which we were discussing yesterday.

I wish you would be good enough to submit to me a written statement covering everything said and done.

I believe I understood you to tell me yesterday that Mr. Thomas D. Bowers had written the article which appeared in today's Transcript and that you had been called in by Mr. Bowers to advise and to use your own expression, that you had cut and slashed Mr. Bowers' original account of this matter and that even now there were some mistakes in the statement concerning the interview which took place between you and Mr. Urie. In the Transcript's statement I see that Mr. Urie informed you that he was favorable to your son's appointment, and I would like to know from you whether or not Mr. Urie said anything or did anything or attempted in any manner to influence you in order that you or your son might have his support as school commissioner in securing the scholarship to St. John's College for your son, Carey. Did or not Mr. Urie volunteer his approval of your son's appointment? Have you not told Mr. John P. Ahern that you were satisfied that he had nothing whatever to do with this matter and that in your opinion Mr. Ahern did not know anything about it? Kindly inform me whether or not your son did not attain the highest average and was entitled by the Competitive Examination to the Scholarship? Kindly give me a detailed statement in writing so that there will be no misunderstanding of the facts. I would like to have your statement by Wednesday, the 23rd day of July. Thanking you very kindly, I am,

Very truly yours,

H. W. VICKERS, JR.

[Dr. Jarman informs me that he will not reply to the above letter.]

POLITICS IN SCHOOL.

The Barroll organ features it's last week's issue with a double column article anent John D. Urie, Esq., and his connection with an appointment of a Chestertown boy to a scholarship at St. John's College, Annapolis, Md.

The editor rushes before the public with the wonderful piece of information with a glee similar to that we notice at times manifested by the small boy when he goes running to his play mates waving his hands and exclaiming hilariously, "I found something!"

Then he reveals what he has, and, nine times out of ten, the crowd shows its appreciation by such exclamations as "Aw, g'wan, 'taint nothin'!" And unless we are very much mistaken, every mother's son who reads that display article will feel like saying the same thing—be he of what political affiliation you choose.

We verily believe that if a flee dog should happen to grab an Anti by the pants leg, the little critter" would be accused of being "sicked" on by an Organization man, and promised a bone for his plucky attack. We judge this by some of the strange deductions which our brother editor makes in the article referred to.

The public will notice that this article is an arraignment of John D. Urie, Esq., the Republican member of the board of County School Commissioners. It contains question after question which have for their objects the implication of the above named gentleman with the political interests of the Organization Democracy of Kent.

These questions, of course, remain unanswered. If the author of them were called upon to answer, he either could not, or would be forced to give such answers as would show he had been attempting a big bluff, allowing his effort to work out its own salvation by the method of suggestion, and depending upon the construction each reader might put upon them, for any good result to the Anti faction.

The Organization denies and challenges any man to the proof that it has accepted the assistance of Mr. Urie in this campaign. If Mr. Urie feels that the interests of his own party are not jeopardized by throwing to one of the two opposing factions what influence he has among democrats, we are going to observe how quickly the Anti's would bring the question of morality, right and justice, to bear upon the political situation, when Mr. Urie, places the weight of his influences on the Anti side of the factional scales, and notice whether they will politely tell him, "you are not wanted."

The Barroll scribe then insinuates that Mr. Urie will profit in some way by advocating the Organization cause, but doesn't seem to explain how the benefit will accrue. Mr. Urie being a Republican how is he going to profit by Democratic success? Come out and say what you mean, Mr. Anti.

Then, again, by inference only, Mr. Urie violates the Corrupt Practices Act. Let us suppose, for argument sake, that Mr. Urie has been reported correctly upon the question of the St. John's scholarship. Mr. Urie asks Mr. Blank how he stands with Mr. Ahern, that Mr. Blank had better write to Mr. Ahern. The inference any sensible man would draw would be—write to Mr. Ahern about the appointment of his (Mr. Blank's) son to the college position. What does the Barroll scribe twist it into? Into a barter of votes! Mr. Ahern votes for Mr. Blank's son, and Mr. Blank votes for Mr. Ahern.

Now whether the Anti is right or wrong in his inference, it is an inference only, drawn to poison public opinion and reflecting no credit upon any man who harbors in his mind any such suspicions.

If the Anti's want to be fair in this campaign, let them confine themselves to facts; such matter as their feature article is belittling to any man or news sheet, and it is impossible to see how the intelligence of a community can be otherwise than unfavorably affected by it. Remember the biblical injunction, "Judge not lest ye be judged."

We do not feel called upon at all to defend Mr. Urie: a defense of him would probably be twisted by the opposition into a community of interest, but we do desire to say that Mr. Urie has never been accused of a lack of political astuteness; we imagine that he has been schooled in the science sufficiently to hold his own against any man who poses as leader of the Anti-Organization.

Of course, we all know that this little incident has been noted in order to weaken Mr. Ahern before the people. But we will call attention to the fact that no participation by Mr. Ahern in this alleged little plot is mentioned by the Barroll organ. Indeed, our cotemporary has too high an opinion of Mr. Ahern to enter, consistently, to oppose him for any office. We know that the Anti's are not slow in assuming all political virtue to themselves, but it has been too recently that the Barroll organ glowingly eulogized Mr. Ahern for him to have fallen so far from grace as to lay himself open to such political obliquity.

It has not been very long ago that our neighbor spoke of Mr. Ahern as "one of the leaders of the First district, and a man in whose personal, political and business integrity we have the highest confidence." Of his connection with school matters, it was said at the same time: To the exceeding great credit of John P. Ahern and W. B. Copper, during their incumbency in office as school commissioners the schools of the county have been conducted with an eye single to their moral and educational welfare; and politics have been kept out of the system, to the great honor and credit of those in authority."

The public will see in Mr. Ahern the same sort of individual as depicted by the Barroll organ in its issue of July 8, 1911

Last Saturday's issue of the Barroll organ made a great point of politics in the schools, and instanced the effort alleged by Mr. Urie to gain the recommendation of Mr. Urie for Mr. Blank's son to the college scholarship.

Mr. Barroll is the recognized leader of a political faction in Kent county. The agitation of the question of politics in schools presupposes that such a condition does exist. How then does Mr. Barroll improve the situation by naming for schools certain young men and women who might apply to him for recommendation? Can he, no matter how sincere his motives, divorce himself from his political leadership and characterize his letters of approval nothing more than acts of the mere every day citizen?

And when he does give these letters (as he himself confesses he did in his organ of July 22, 1911) in what respect does he differ from the situation the Barroll organ desires to create in its issue of Saturday last? No matter who asked him for them. The suppliant himself is not to be considered; his reason for going to Mr. Barroll is the point at issue.

And looking at the political complexion of affairs at that time, noting that throughout the county such men as John S. Newnam, J. B. Stevens, R. W. Comegys and Dr. E. A. Scott, all of the First district; W. T. Hepbron and Thos. J. Shallcross, of the Second, and Wm. F. Russell, of the Fourth, had all been removed from office for political purpose; and in the removal either Anti or Republican influence had been effective. Cognizant of all these facts, is it any wonder that Mr. Barroll holds an entirely indefensible position when he declares politics had nothing to do with the recommendations.

And as to the scholarship in question, when Mr. Barroll looks back to October 8, 1872, and remembers that on that date he was appointed to a scholarship in St. John's College, we wonder if politics had anything to do with it? And if they did, we wonder if he felt that he was the recipient of tainted money when his expenses were paid by the State at that venerable institution? We can almost hear him say, "Oh, 'gwan, 'taint nuthin'."

Our brother of the Barroll organ, in our humble opinion, is very rash. He openly accuses Mr. Urie of suborning his position for political preferment. He has one suit on his hands, does he want another?

This latest effort of the Barrollites, like their injection of the aristocracy plea, seems to us a desperate one. It looks very much like a drowning man catching at straws; it look as if the Barrollites feel themselves "a-slippin'" and are staring defeat straight in the face at the primaries in September.
