FOR SHERIFF:

NEXT Tuesday will be election day. Democrats should go to the polls early and stay all day, if possible, working for the whole ticket.

REPORTS from every section of the State indicate a sweeping Democratic victory next month. The admirable platform promulgated by the Democratic convention; the high character of the convention's nominations in ratification of the expressed will of the Democratic voters, and the unequivocal determination of all elements of the party to uphold President Wilson's hands in his complete program of genuine reform, have met with a popular response that fully warrants the above prediction. All that is left to be done is for every Democrat to see that each and every Democrat casts his ballot.

OYSTERMEN READ THIS.

Every Senator and Delegate elected on the Democratic ticket, either from Western Maryland, Southern Maryland, Baltimore city, the Eastern Shore, or from any part of the State are pledged to stand by the oystermen on the following plank of the Democratic platform:

"The Democratic party pledges itself to guard jealousy the rights of the oystermen, and all of those who earn their livelihood out of the waters of the State, and we do hereby pledge our party representatives in the next Legislature of Maryland to enact such legislation as will protect or restore their rights. In order to guarantee fully that no natural oyster bottoms shall be leased by the State for private planting, we specifically promise a law duly authorizing and empowering the Shellfish Commissioners, upon proper and reasonable complaint, to make re-examination of the bottoms complained against, and if such complaint be well founded so as to amend the survey heretofore made that the fallest extent, under the spirit of the law, no natural oyster bed, bar or rock shall be left out of said survey or become subject to private leasing."

HOW CAN YOU DO IT?

Read this and ask yourself whether or not "Tom" Parran is entitled to the vote of any white man in Kent county. The Baltimore Sun of October 14, 1913, says:

"NEGROES APPLAUD PARRAN

"He and Metzerott Speak in Perkins Square Church (Colored).

"Former Congressman Parran, who wants to be United States Senator, and Oliver Metzerott, candidate for the State Comptrollership on the Republican ticket, made speeches last night before a large audience of colored men and women at the Perkins Square Baptist Church.

"City Councilman Harry S. Cummings, colored, presided and opened the meeting, making a brief speech. In introducing Mr. Parran he announced that the United States Senate was controlled by men who intended to wipe out the Fifteenth Amendment and that it was well for the colored people of the United States that the Seventeenth Amendment had been passed. He also spoke of Mr. Parran's services to the colored people and thanked God that 'Tom' Parran was to be the first Republican candidate for the Senate who would ask the people of Maryland to vote for him for Senator.

"'He was born in Southern Maryland,' said Cummings, 'and if he wanted to go back on the colored man he couldn't do it to save his life. Now, just as you have rallied around me in this little bailiwick of mine, I want you to rally around 'Tom' Parran on election day.'

"Mr. Parran moved some flowers on the pulpit to one side so he could get room on it for his elbow, and, resting on it, made one of his characteristic speeches, calling on 'his friends' for their support and telling them some jokes that kept them in roars of laughter.

"It was a very successful meeting."

With such performances as this the issue is surely and certainly drawn. We do not see how the Republicans can go out and ask the white people of this county to vote for Parran and Metzerott against Blair Lee and Emerson C. Harrington.

MASS MEETING

There will be a Democratic Mass Meeting at Betterton this Saturday afternoon at 3 P. M.

A Democratic Mass- Meeting will be held at Rock Hall this Saturday evening.

Congressman Linthicum and Speaker Trippe will speak at both Meetings.

SUPPORT THE TICKET

The Democratic ticket, as printed at the head of this column, is worthy of support from top to bottom. Hon. Blair Lee is needed in the United States Senate to aid in carrying out the principles of the Baltimore platform and he can be depended upon to work for legislation in the interest of the people. Hon. Emerson Harrington has made a splendid record as Comptroller of the State and has earned his right to re-election. Hon. Caleb Magruder, too, has made good as Clerk of the Court of Appeals and is deserving of success.

The candidates for the House of Delegates, Messrs. Howard Turner and Robert A. Shallcross, are men of intelligence, honesty and sobriety, and can be depended upon to advocate only such legislation at Annapolis as will redound to the credit of Kent county and its citizens.

Our candidates for Commissioners are T. Benj. Crew and John C. Wood, two of Kent's popular farmers and men interested in the finances of the county. Their family name cannot but help in bringing strength to them and their associates.

Mr. Wm. E. Brown, known as the "reliable oyster man," of Quaker Neck, is our candidate for Sheriff. He possesses the necessary qualifications for this office and should be supported by every Democrat in the county.

For Treasurer we present the name of Mr. Samuel G. Caldwell, who is well known to the farmers of Kent as a man of character and industry and well fitted for this office.

Now then let every man who voted in the Primary support the above ticket and old Kent will take her place in the front rank of Democratic counties. This should be the case, and the NEWS calls upon every friend to rally to its support.

BRYAN AND GLENN ENDORSE BLAIR LEE

The NEWS is the same now as ever in its advocacy of men whom it believes will carry out the wishes of the people. In Hon. Blair Lee we have an honest, upright gentleman who is worthy the vote of every citizen. That clean citizen and temperance Democrat, Hon. Wm. Jennings Bryan, in talking to the people of the Eastern Shore, says:

"I'm here to talk about the coming elections. I would like to get every voter in this section to cast his ballot for every Democrat on the ticket. In reality, however, I do not hope for this, for I know there are Republicans in the audience who, after they hear me, will still vote as Republicans. Still I wish to make them as uncomfortable as possible when they do this.

"Formerly Republicans had rather looked down upon Democrats as lacking prestige. At Democratic political gatherings plain "misters" were the speakers, while, when Republicans assembled, they were addressed by titled speakers. Those times have changed, and now there are Democratic Governors, Ambassadors, Ministers and Cabinet officers, as well as a Democratic President. And we are going to put some more titles on Democrats, particularly do we wish to put a high and distinguished title on Blair Lee.

"I know Blair Lee. I have known him for a good many years. I think it is something like 17 or 18 years since I first became acquainted with him, and in that time I have met him frequently. I have been associated with him intimately. I have watched him grow and I have taken a great deal of pleasure in the political progress of Blair Lee. This is not far from Washington down here in Maryland. It is no great task for me to come down and speak for him.

"My friends, I would come further than this to speak for Blair Lee. I would cross the Continent if by so doing I could help to put him in the United States Senate. He is the kind of a man that we need in public life. He is a man whose ideals are high, whose conception of public service is exalted and whose sympathies are broad. They include all the people, I say. I am glad to be here if I can by coming help to make more certain his election.

"But then I am here for another reason. I am here also because the action of Maryland in the election this fall will be taken as an indication of your attitude toward the national administration. Even a man as prominent as Blair Lee will not be known personally by many men outside the State, and when the people of other States read the returns the first words those returns will bring will be that Maryland has either approved or disapproved of President Wilson's administration. Therefore, I have a right to beg you to bear in mind that your vote will have an influence in the shaping of public opinion and in the informing of the nation of your esteem for the President in the White House.

"Now, it is not only that, but in the election of a Senator you will either help him or you will hinder him. We have a majority in the Senate and we can get along with that majority. It is very close, though. We would like to have more and we can use a few more good Democrats in the Senate, and especially as good a Democrat as Blair Lee. And I think it is perfectly proper for you to have in mind when you vote whether you are going to help President Wilson to carry out his program and keep his pledges or whether you are going to try to obstruct him and interfere with the working of his plans.

Mr. Parran's Idea

"This is not only a fair assumption but the candidate for the Senate on the Republican ticket has seen fit to give expression to that very thing. Mr. Parran said, I think, on the 12th of this month, that Blair Lee wanted to be elected to uphold the hands of the President, but Mr. Parran said he desired to be elected in order to tie the hands of the President. There is a great deal of difference as to whether you uphold his hands or tie his hands. The real effect of this election, so far as it concerns the Senate, is whether you are going to send a man there to act with or act against the President."

WE are confident that the voters of Kent county believe that as Blair Lee is good enough for Woodrow Wilson and William J. Bryan, he is good enough for them.

TEST OF PARTY UNITY.

Direct primaries, introduced by popular vote two years ago, are skillfully and persistently avoided by the Republicans, their idea apparently being that it is all right for Democrats but all wrong for Republicans. The policy of the latter is to stand back and enjoy any possible discomfiture that may result from a direct primary campaign but to stand ready all the time for any accessions to their own forces by reason of the family differences of their opponents.

The time has come when the great test of party unity is to be had. The direct system is built on the doctrine of majority control. The people have made the nominations; it is for the party to stand by them. No doubt after the sharp encounter of the primary campaign, the temptation to beat somebody is great. That is just what the Republicans want and it will be to their complete satisfaction to see as many Democrats beaten as possible.

True Democrats need not be appalled to avoid such a condition of affairs. It is a true Democratic principle that the people shall rule, and if their vote has named the various candidates for office, the plain duty now is to support them.

To that next Tuesday we face this grave question: Shall we as Democrats, whatever our family differences, yield to the popular will and stand by the candidates the people have selected?

We have too much confidence in the Democrats of this county to believe that they will, by indifference or otherwise, avoid this question. The party, as a whole, can afford to bury a lot of direct primary talk, and be a unit to bury the Republican party instead.

So far as our candidates are concerned, we have good ones from Blair Lee down to the last one on the County ticket. They are men of unswerving Democratic faith; they are men of character and business energy, and they are men whom the Democrats will delight to honor. Let us avoid controversies and small talk and get down to the real business of the campaign. We want our party to succeed, and to accomplish it, let us each do our share of this important work.

LET EVERY Democrat before going in the booth to vote examine the list of candidates and be sure to get the cross mark in the right square.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear mother, FRANCES A. ORR, who departed this life three years ago, October 20, 1913.

Death our dearest ties can sever.
Take our loved ones from our side;
Bear them from our homes forever,
On the dark, cold river's tide.

In that happy land we'll meet them,
With those loved and gone before;
And again with joy we'll greet them,
There where parting is no more.
