Suffered Twenty-One Years —Finally Found Relief

Having suffered for twenty-one years with a pain in my side, I finally have found relief in Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root Injections of morphine were my only relief for short periods of time. I became so sick that I had to undergo a surgical operation in New Orleans, which benefitted me for two years. When the same pain came back one day I was so sick that I gave up hopes of living. A friend advised me to try your Swamp-Root and I once commenced using it The first bottle did me so much good that I purchased two more bottle. I am now on my second bottle and am feeling like a new woman. I passed a gravel stone as large as a big red bean and several small ones. I have not had the least feeling of pain since taking your Swamp Root and I feel it my duty to recommend this great mediciue to all suffering humanity. Gratefully yours,

MRS. JOSEPH CONSTANCE,

Rapids Par. Echo, La.

Personally appeared before me, this 15th day of July, 1911, Mrs. Joseph Constance, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

PROFIT IN DAIRYING DEPENDS ON WISE FEEDING

Silage Or Legume Hay Needed In Ration To Lessen Cost Of Feeding.

G. E. WOLCOTT.
Maryland Agricultural Experiment Station.

During the summer months, when cows are on pasture, the dairyman is not troubled with the problem of supplying the herd with a ration which will maintain the flow of milk and also be economical.

To the farmer who has a loft full of alfalfa or clover, and a silo full of silage, the problem is simple; he will need comparatively little grain to make a balanced ration.

If cut fodder, alone is available for roughage, it will be necessary to supply a large part of the nutrients, required to maintain the production of the herd, in the form of a grain mixture which will necessarily be expensive. This is the season when the farmer realizes, more than ever that silage and some legume hay are necessary for the profitable production of milk and butter. Two-thirds of the nutrients required for a normal production can be supplied in the form of rough feed; but where neither silage nor legumes are available two-thirds of the daily feed must be supplied in the form of grain. This necessitates the purchase of large amounts of high priced concentrates; which will make the cost of production very high and probably unprofitable.

In selecting the feeds for his grain mixture the dairyman should choose those that are to be had at the lowest cost; and use only enough of each so that the mixture will when fed with what roughage is available, supply the nutrients that are required for a given production. This is a balanced ration.

WELL-FED COW.

The following grain mixtures may be found helpful; others may be obtained by writing direct to the writer at College Park, Md.:

When 10 lbs. of alfalfa, or 12 lbs. of clover hay are fed with 35 lbs. of corn silage, the following grain mixture, fed at the rate of one pound of grain to 3½ pounds of 4 per cent. milk, will be about right for a cow weighing 1,000 lbs.

400 lbs. corn chop.
200 lbs. bran.
100 lbs. cotton seed meal.

400 lbs. corn chop.
200 lbs. dried brewers' grs.
50 lbs. cotton seed meal.

200 lbs. corn chop.
300 lbs. ground oats.
100 lbs. cotton seed meal.
50 lbs. gluten feed.

IMPROVEMENT OF SCHOOL GROUNDS IS VERY DESIRABLE.

B. W. AUSPON.
Maryland Agricultural College.

Many of our rural schoolhouses are so situated that they wholly lack protection from inclement weather. Consequently, the teacher and pupils are often subjected to trying conditions in severe weather. When it is almost impossible to keep the building warm. Not only are the winds of winter trying, but those of spring are equally so, while the intense rays of the summer sun often have similar effect. By the judicious planting of trees and shrubs marked changes can be secured. The severe winds will be checked from striking the building, thus mitigating the temperature to some extent. In spring the trees will give that refreshing shade so welcome at that season of the year.

In addition to serving as a protection and adding beauty to the school grounds, such planting proves of great educational value. By planting and caring for trees the children are given some knowledge of tree culture, which will prove useful in later years. The writer will gladly co-operate with local teachers in planning school grounds and selecting trees and shrubs.

DRIVE POULTRY GENTLY.

ROY H. WAITE.
Maryland Agricultural Experiment Station.

It pays to be gentle with poultry at all times, but especially during the late fall when the pullets are just developing into laying condition. At this time a sudden scare or excitement will set them back in egg production. When putting them into winter quarters, be as careful as you can. If they have been kept tame, as they should be, they can usually be driven into their house very easily. An easy way to drive them is for two or three persons to get around them, each with a long, light board or pole, held in the middle. This is used to gently usher them along without the necessity of running them down.

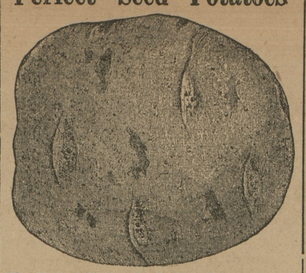
BOLGIANO'S Perfect Seed Potatoes



The United States Agricultural Department places their Tag of Inspection and Approval on every sack of SEED POTATOES Purchased From J. BOLGIANO & SON.

CERTIFICATE OF QUALITY.

This is to certify that I have had charge of all the Seed Potatoes grown for J. Bolgiano & Son, during this growing season. I have been with them since April 15th; looked after the selecting of their seed and the treating of the same, have also had charge of the spraying during the growing season. There was nothing planted but the very best selected seed, and nothing has been left undone to have them right. The crop is now being harvested, and the results of my work are most satisfactory. We are harvesting one of the largest crops ever grown in Aroostock County, Maine, and of the finest quality, free from any disease and true to name. I spent some time in Washington, D. C., with the Horticultural Board before coming here and their ideas of producing FIRST CLASS SEED have been carried out to the letter for J. Bolgiano & Son.
