LOCAL NOTES

The colored schools of Kent County will open Monday, Oct. 4th.

Sheppard, the negro, was hung at Denton in full view of five hundred persons Friday morning last.

H. Hachs & Son's store will be closed on Thursday, Sept. 9th and Saturday, Sept 18th until 6 p. m. on account of holiday.

Ground has been broken for a hotel 70 ft. x 90 ft. at Chesapeake Haven Four hundred lots have been sold and several cottages are being built.

H H Beneman, of Millington, offers great reductions on all summer goods. Special attention is called to furniture, carpets and mattings. See ad.

Graham, Clements & Sutton received four new Chevrolet autos last week and disposed of them all. Mr. Harry Rash was the only Kent countian to get one.

Bordley & Sons announce in this issue, the arrival of a splendid showing of boys school suits at very moderate prices The largest assortment in the County. Call and see them.

The store of H. Sachs & Son will be closed on Thursday, Sept. 9, and Saturday, Sept. 18 until 6 p m., these dates being holidays. Watch their adv. next week for fall and winter opening.

The "Dreamland" will run an excursion from Baltimore on Wednesday, Sept. 8 to Chestertown. The Epworth Leagues of Baltimore will run three boat loads from the same city on the following Monday.

The tournament that was to have been held Saturday at Rock Hall, was postponed on account of the bad weather. State's Attorney H. W. Vickers will deliver the coronation address to the Knights. The tournament will be held this Saturday.

Boys made another raid last week on Mr. E R Anthony's melon patch They bursted open many melons and played havoc with the vines. Mr. Anthony informes us that he has the "dots" on the boys and a repetition of the same will result in their incarceration. Mr. Plummer, near Hanesville, has also lost many melons by thieving.

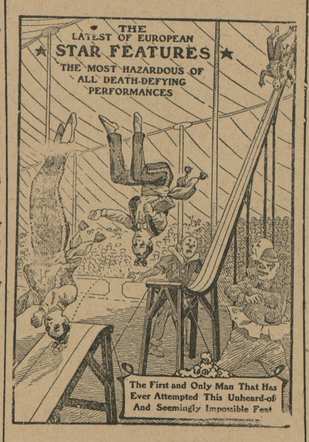
A fox living in the corn around his house, has recently stolen about eighteen hens from Mr. and Mr. J. Thomas Smith, in Queen Annes, near town. Mr. Smith has been using every means to trap him, but the wily reynard has been too sharp. Mr. Smith will cut his corn shortly and says that will do away with the stealing of his hens, at least.

The Board of County School Commissioners of Queen Annes, have added two new teachers to the corps at the Centreville High School. One is Miss Esther Brown, of Church Hill, who has been appointed assistant in English and History. The second is Prof. Grover Kinzy, formerly assistant professor of Agronomy at Maryland Agricultural College, who has been appointed principal of the Agricultural Department, vice Prof. N. A. LeSavoy, resigned.

The condition of J. Wilson Merritt, who was injured in an automobile accident near Middletown, several weeks ago, remains unchanged. Mr. Merritt sustained a broken back and it was at first thought that there was some chance of recovery. A very delicate operation was performed, and the pressure on the spinal cord was removed, but paralysis of the lower limb has now developed and there is little hopes of his being able to walk again. Mr. Merritt is a son of Judge Richard Merritt, of Warwick.

Mr. W. B. Strong is the early fisherman that catches the fish. He gets up at 3 A M. and goes out in the bay and returns with big catches. Some of the Rock Hall boys have caught as high as 45 trout in an hour. Watermen are unable to account for the large numbers of trout found in the rivers, creeks and coves. Hundreds of hook and line fishermen have visited the favorite fishing grounds during the last few weeks and all report splendid success. Many of the trout weigh as high as two or three pounds apiece. Rock fish do not appear to be so plentiful but several fine catches have been made by local sportmen. The run has just begun.

The Sheriff and his efficient deputy caught Buddy Rattler last Thursday night.



HESSIAN FLY INJURY CAN BE PREVENTED.

Seasonable Planting Of Wheat Is Recommended.

NICHOLAS SCHMITZ,
Maryland Agricultural Experiment Station.

The loss in this State of the 1915 wheat crop from the Hessian fly, while not generally as severe as in some years in the past, was nevertheless considerable, and should be taken as a warning of what may follow in another year. Now is the proper time to begin fighting this pest, and in order to combat it effectively something must be known of its life-history.

There are at least 2 generations of the fly each year, one in the fall and one the following spring. The spring generation may be considered as the children of the fall generation. At the present time the fly may be found in the wheat fields in what is known as the "flaxseed" stage, from which the adult will begin to emerge about the middle of August and continue to do so until sometime in October or later, depending upon the weather and latitude. The maximum emergence usually occurs the last 2 weeks in September or the first week in October, depending upon the locality. The usual recommendations given for combating the fly by discing or plowing under the stubble early in July or August are not practical in Maryland, because the majority of the stubble fields must be left on account of the grass crop they hold. The best methods that the Maryland farmer can employ are: First, seeding after the maximum period of adult emergence, and, second, crop rotations. Trapping the fly by sowing narrow strips of wheat and later plowing them under deeply and packing the land firmly by rolling will help when this is practical. All voluntary wheat should also be destroyed, or, what is perhaps better, it should not be allowed to grow.

It must be remembered, however, that if one man makes every effort possible to destroy the fly the effectiveness of his work may largely be destroyed if his neighbor does not do the same thing, since the fly may go from one field to another to lay the egg which hatches into the magot that does the damage. Therefore the adoption of a date which will make a uniformly safe period for the sowing of wheat in each locality by all farmers is of greatest importance. From observations and reports of the State Entomologist, he has recommended the following dates in the surrounding country of the following cities and towns of the State:

Oakland	Sept. 12-19.
Hagerstown	Oct. 1- 7.
Frederick	Oct. 3-10.
Westminster	Sept. 25-Oct. 5.
Rockville	Oct. 2- 8.
Germantown	Oct. 2- 8.
Ellicott City	Oct. 2- 9.
LaPlata	Oct. 9-18.
Cockeysville	Oct. 3-10.
Bel Air	Oct. 2- 9.
Elkton	Oct. 2- 9.
Chestertown	Oct. 6-16.
Easton	Oct. 9-16.

Dates of sowing for adjoining sections to the above can be figured by moving forward the date of sowing 1 day for each 20 miles north and 1 day for each hundred feet in elevation [illegible]
