it by aggressive wars. Still I cannot think it reasonable—hardly respectful—on the part of England and France, while they are daily extending themselves on every shore and in every sea, and pushing their dominions, by new conquests, to the utermost ends of the earth, to call upon the United States to bind themselves by a perpetual compact never, under any circumstances, to admit into the Union an island which lies at their doors, and commands the entrance into the interior of their continent. I remain, my Lord, with the highest respect,

faithfully yours,
EDWARD EVERETT.

Speaking Out.

The Richmond Enquirer is getting to understand its own party in New York, and on Thursday morning the editors of that Journal came to the aid of the Hunkers in the following gallant style:

"It is enough for us that we find the abolitionist and Barnburners of 1848—the men whose traitorous assaults on the South shook the Union to its centre—arrayed in fierce hostility against the gallant band of patriots who, under the lead of Dickinson, stood firmly and fearlessly by the constitution and the Union. We may bewail the sad condition of things—we may lament the utter disorganization of the party, and the consequent embarrassments of the Administration; but we cannot stand idly by in stupid wonder and unavailing regret. The dictates of prudence no less than obligations of honor, impel the South to extend to its faithful friends, whatever encouragement and support there may be in a free and generous expression of its sympathy and approval.

"The Democracy of the South cannot be deceived as to the merits of a Dix or a Van Buren. We are struck rather with the unspeakable impudence and effrontery than with the logic of those old Buffalo orators who now denounce disorganizers and "bolters" with such affectation of zeal and sincerity. We know who the "bolters" are. We see among the chiefs and champions of the "Softs" of the present day, the very men who instigated the Buffalo treachery of 1848, and who forfeited by that act of base defection, every claim to the respect and confidence of the Democracy of the Union. On the other hand, we see standing together in the support of a common cause, the men who stood together in the support of the Democratic party in 1848, and in support of the Constitution and the South in 1852—men who, in every crisis, have been as true to the country as to the principles and candidates of their party.

"We cannot doubt as to the issue of the contest between the Barnburners and the Hunkers of New York. A motley aggregate of spoilsmen and Buffalo traitors standing in uneasy posture on a platform made up of principles which in their hearts they abjure, cannot contend against men who battle for the right with the utmost sincerity of devotion, and who are sustained and animated in the conflict by the assurance of the sympathy and good will of the country."

Important to Magistrates.—We take the following sections from chapter 201 of the acts of the last session of the Legislature, which authorize Justices of the Peace to issue attachments by way of execution, and prescribe the time within which they must enter up judgments:

SEC. 1.—Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That it shall be lawful for the several Justices of the Peace of this State, to issue attachments by way of executions, on all judgements obtained before any Justice of the Peace in all cases where writs of fieri facias may now issue.

SEC. 2.—And be it enacted, That it be the duty of the Justices of the Peace to enter up judgements in all cases brought and tried before them, respectively, within three days after a final hearing of the case.

ITEM FOR FARMERS.—The United States Commissioner of Patents has addressed a circular to Postmasters, stating that the Bureau will have for distribution, in the course of the current year many volumes of the Patent Office Report, both Agricultural and Mechanical, as well as a large amount and variety of seeds. The circular accordingly request Postmasters to forward to him the names of some twenty or more of the most enterprising and practical residents of each county to whom Mechanical or Agricultural Reports or seeds should be sent. Officers of Agricultural Societies, or of Mechanical Institutes are desired to give like information.

Wm. H. Kercheval, who accidentally shot young Loockerman, has been released on bail in the sum of $200.—Loockerman is still in jail.

Capt. H. J. Strandberg, of the Steamer Champion, has purchased the farm lately occupied by T. R. Loockerman, near Easton, for $500. It contains 131 acres. Capt. S. has also purchased of Col. H. E. Bateman, 94 acres of land, lying near the Friends' Meeting-house, for $4,000.

Inferior Guano and Artificial Manures—Analyses.

The present scarcity of Peruvian Guano in our markets has induced a great demand for other fertilizers, and to supply this demand many articles for the improvement of the soil are daily advertised and sold at a price very far above their real value. We have had Mexican, African, and Patagonia guano going off at a cost which can never repay those who bought them; "Biphosphates," "Improved Phosphates," and various other compounds, offered for sale at prices very nearly double their value. For the information of the agricultural community, I here state the comparative value of these different manures, from samples which were sent me, with the calculation of their value.

For the Patagonian guano, I take its average composition in former years.—The analyses which have been sent to our markets, with some of these manures and guanos, are totally unworthy of credit, if, any should not be relied on. They may be, and doubtless are, correct analyses of the samples examined by the gentlemen whose names are signed to them, but they certainly do not represent the articles offerred for sale here. In the following table the value of the ammonia (in manures which contain it) is estimated by its cost in good Peruvian guano; and the phosphate of lime by its cost in bone dust. These are taken as a standard because of their being better and more universally known than other articles. The calculation of positive value is, therefore, very nearly correct, and for comparison precisely so. Thus, if a ton of bones be worth $20, then Mexican guano is worth $21 20. Superphosphate (which is bones dissolved in oil of vitriol) $26 80, without the labor necessary to mix the materials, which is about $6; mineral phosphate of lime, 22 40; and in the same way with other manures whose chief value consists in Bone phosphate of lime.

TABLE.

	Mexican Guano average of three samples	Spanish Guano	Patagonian Guano average	Superphosphate from New York	Mineral Phosphate of Lime
Pure bone phos. of lime	53	54	57	36.4	66
Organic matter, and Ammonia	6	6	19	5
	0.4	0.4	2.5	trace
Other earthly matters	11.6	12.6	17.5	18.6	34
Water	29	27	24	17
Sulphuric acid of 66 deg.				22
Value of 2000 lbs.	$21.20	$21.60	19 50	$26.80	22 40
			Labor	6 00
				$32 80

As a substitute for Peruvian Guano, of which there will be a very insufficient supply, I would recommend where the analyses which I have made and published in my reports, show a deficiency of phosphoric acid, or on soils where bone dust or Mexican guano has proved useful, the following mixture:

Mineral phosphate of lime 500 lbs; or ten bushels of bone dust (finely ground) to the acre—to be ploughed or harrowed in with wheat in the fall.

And in the spring the following top dressing:—Nitrate of soda 50 lbs. per acre, common salt one to two bushels per acre.

These should be well pulverised, finely mixed, divided into three equal parts; and sown broadcast on the wheat in the spring at three dressings: the first of which should be applied about the first of March, or as soon as the wheat commences to grow after the cold weather of winter; the second ten or fifteen days afterwards; and the third portion at about the same interval.

This top dressing has been very fully tested on wheat and grass in England and Scotland; and pays there, as stated in reports from the highest authority, more than one hundred per cent on the outlay. It makes a clean, strong, bright straw, increases the weight, and adds greatly to the product of the grain. I hope our farmers will use it on a small scale at least; and test the success of its application in this country, and I request all who do use it to furnish me with the results.

THE EXPEDITION TO JAPAN.—The Weser Gazette of Amsterdam, says: "It is stated that the Russian Government has resolved to resist the attempts of the Americans against Japan, and that the Russian squadron which recently sailed for those seas was intended for that purpose. The Dutch Government is said to be pleased with this determination of the Cabinet of St. Petersburg, as the Americans also threaten the Dutch Archipelago.

Great Fire at Buffalo.

BUFFALO, Oct. 5.—A fire broke out here this morning in Evans street, by which over 100 buildings, including some valuable brick blocks, were destroyed—The buildings covered five acres of ground, and the wind being very high, baffled the efforts of the firemen. The loss is roughly esumated at $300,000.

Yellow Fever at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 3.—The interments from the yellow fever during the 24 hours ending this morning were only 6, and the board of health have determined to discontinue their daily reports for the future, considering the epidemic at an end.

Health of Mobile.

MOBILE, Oct. 3.—The sickness, recently so fatal here, is rapidly declining. Only 7 deaths are reported to day including 2 from yellow fever.

Death of a Newly Elected Senator.—The Burlington Vt. Free Press says that Mr. Bogue, Dem., who at the late election was chosen Senator from Franklin county, by two majority died at Fairfax, on Saturday evening. There is no provision in the Constitutionn by which the vacancy can be filled.

☞The Whig convention of Baltimore county met at Cockeysville on Saturday last, and nominated Samuel Barnes, Jas. Turner and Jas. Mahoo', Sen., for House of Delegates; John H. Longnecker for sheriff; Peter W. Gibbons and William Hutchings for county commissioners.

Bible Agent.

The Rev'd John A. Asay, agent for the Kent County Bible Society, is at present engaged in the Lower and Middle Districts of our county; he will continue about two week and then repair to the Upper District to complete his labours there. In that section he has visited 250 families and distributed about 200 Bibles and Testaments. Prayers have been offered up in many families, and a goodly number of children have been baptised. The mission of a Colporteur is one of mercy and love, and we bespeak for him, among our people, a kind welcome, and generous donations. Voluntary and liberal contributions are necessary to sustain the operations of the Society. The moral condition of our county, is a comparitive healthy one—crimes and breaches of the peace are scarcely heard of—This healthful condition is attributable in no small degree, to the operations of the Bible Society for the last two or thee years. Let the efforts of the friends of the Bible be seconded by our citizens, and we shall have cause to rejoice that we live in a land so highly favored.

DIED.
