RED CROSS CHRISTMAS SEALS 12 YEARS OLD

Little Stamps That Finance Fight Against Tuberculosis Originated In Delaware.

Idea Came From Denmark.

The Red Cross Christmas Seal, as millions of Americans know it today, is an agent of happiness and health. It was originated in 1907 by Miss Emily Bissel, of Wilmington, Delaware, who had learned through Jacob Riis of somewhat similar seals that were sold in Denmark for the purpose of raising funds to fight disease.

Miss Bissel persuaded the American Red Cross to take up the idea with the result that the seals were sold in a limited number of communities in 1908. The sale yielded a revenue of approximately $3,000. The Red Cross then decided to issue the Seals each year and to turn the proceeds over to the National Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated societies for the purpose of financing the fight against tuberculosis. The number of seals sold in America increased by leaps and bounds until in 1917 the total reached 180,000,000. In 1918, as a war measure, the seals were not sold but through an agreement between the Red Cross and the National Tuberculosis Association, were awarded in limited quantities to each member of the Red Cross.

This year the seals are again on sale beginning December 1. More than half a billion seals have been printed for distribution to state and local organizations. In addition to the seals there will be offered this year "Health Bonds" in denominations ranging from $5 to $500 to be sold in lieu of seals to large contributors who do not send out a sufficient quantity of mail in December to make use of all the seals they would like to purchase.

Maryland will be particularly interested in this year's sale of Red Cross Christmas Seals, for the death rate from tuberculosis in Maryland is disgracefully high—nearly 44 per cent greater than the death rate from the disease throughout the United States as a whole. The state is one of the "sore spots" on the national health map, and the campaign of education to prevent and cure tuberculosis needs to be especially stressed here.

Baltimore city and all of the counties will have special committees to urge the sale of the seals. The quota for the state is $125,000 worth of the little stickers, this amount being divided between Baltimore city and the counties in this way: Baltimore city $100,000; Allegany, $2,500; Anne Arundel, $825; Baltimore, $2,750; Calvert $200; Caroline, $700; Carroll, $2,000; Cecil, $700; Charles, $200; Dorchester $700; Frederick, $3,100; Garrett, $800; Harford, $1,650; Howard, $875; Kent $700; Montgomery, $925; Prince George, $825; Queen Anne, $700; St. Mary's, $200; Somerset, $700; Talbot $700; Washington, $2,375; Wicomico $700; Worcester, $700.

GARRETT HAS LOWEST COUNTY DEATH RATE

Tuberculosis Figures For Counties Show "Sore Spots" On Health Map.

Two people out of every thousand in Maryland died of tuberculosis last year. Figures compiled by the State Board of Health show it.

In fact, the death rate from pulmonary tuberculosis per thousand of population was 204.5 or 1.44 times greater than the average rate for the country as a whole, which was 141.6. St. Mary's and Anne Arundel counties had the highest death rates from the disease while Garrett carried off honors as the healthiest county.

Garrett county had only nine deaths from tuberculosis, a death rate of only 40 per thousand of population. Garrett has a fairly active local tuberculosis organization cooperating with the Maryland and the National Tuberculosis Association in all health moves. It has no special tuberculosis nurse, as some of the counties have, though it is now considering the appointment of a special county social worker.

The following are the county tuberculosis death rates, approximated on the latest estimated population figures:

Allegany	0.87
Anne Arundel	2.20
Baltimore	1.79
Calvert	1.93
Caroline	1.90
Carroll	1.17
Charles	2.10
Dorchester	2.06

Queen Anne's	1.72
Somerset	1.34
St. Mary's	2.50
