Why Brunswick Tires Win Preference

There are two main reasons — one, the name itself, [illegible]hich certifies superfine value — the other, that time [illegible]s the same story.

Thus reputation and performance unite in giving you all you expect — and more.

Yet Brunswicks cost no more than like-type tires. [illegible]any motorists would pay more readily, but the [illegible]runswick idea is to GIVE the utmost, rather than [illegible] GET the utmost. And this has been true since 1845. [illegible]ou can appreciate what Brunswick Standards mean [illegible] trying ONE Brunswick Tire. It will be a reve[illegible]. You'll agree that you could not buy a better, [illegible]dless of price.

[illegible]d, like other motorists, you'll decide to have [illegible] Brunswicks. Then you'll know supreme satis[illegible]on from your tires — longer life, minimum [illegible]le, lower cost.

BANKS TO SAFEGUARD BONDS AND STAMPS

Are Ready to Protect Securities of Small Investors Free or For Nominal Charge.

In buying Liberty Bonds, Victory Bonds, Thrift and War Savings Stamps the people of the United States have done more than perform a patriotic duty—they have invested in the soundest securities in the world, gold obligations of the United States of America.

But the safeguarding of these securities has become a problem for many folk. Only a few persons, relatively, have either a safe in the house or office, or a safe-deposit box in the vaults of the bank. Far too many patriotic citizens are keeping bonds and stamps about the house, in the bureau drawer, under the mattress, or on the shelf. And even if the treasure is thus hidden from thieves, there is the ever present danger of fire, and the loss of the money invested.

There may be no further call for the people at large to subscribe to huge bond issues, but the government needs the daily and weekly sums which come in from the sale of Thrift and War Savings Stamps for taxes must be kept down. The danger of loss has deterred some people from getting as many stamps as they might otherwise buy. Hence the problem will be a future question as well as a present one.

Steps have been taken, however, to meet this situation.

First, every bond or stamp certificate may be registered with the Treasury Department. Registration means that the owner's name and the number of his security have been "registered" by the government, and that nobody but himself can possibly get the money which the bond or stamp certificate calls for. Certificates may be registered through the nearest postoffice; bonds through the nearest bank.

And the second method for safeguarding has been provided by the banks themselves. Every bank—national bank or savings bank—and every trust company has, of course, ample and secure vaults. For the man who does not feel that he can afford to rent a safe deposit box to keep Liberty Bonds and War Savings Stamps in, many of the banks and trust companies have announced their willingness to keep these securities for him in their own vaults.

SUCCESSFUL DOLLARS ARE THOSE WORKING

Invested in War Savings Stamps They Never Fail to Yield You Handsome Profit.

It is the dollar that goes to work that is the successful dollar. The idle dollar is a failure. The successful dollar brings back another dollar with it. It makes itself a dollar and something—two dollars and something—a whole family of dollars.

But the careless dollar goes off somewhere and is never seen again.

A Texas man the other day lost a life-time's savings—$786. His dollars had gone off in the pockets of two fake stock promoters. He had not taught his dollars to keep good company.

Hundreds of years ago a man to whom a handful of money had been trusted buried it all in a napkin. He got no increase—he did not even keep what he had.

The dollar that succeeds is energetic—and careful. War Savings Stamps do more than save your dollars. They put them to work at compound interest. And they never fail. Your government guarantees every one of them.

A man once bought Manhattan Island for $24. He had the $24. Buy War Savings Stamps and be ready.

Provide a silver lining for the coming cloud. War Savngs Stamps will do it.

DIRECTORIES

Your telephone book is one of many. In the year 1918 we published and distributed 989,127 individual copies of telephone directories. These directories contain the names of telephone subscribers and their numbers.

"Wrong numbers" are often caused by telephone users who do not consult the telephone directory. They rely on memory, and memory is fickle. Others persist in calling by name, expecting the operator to remember the number of every subscriber. This is decidedly unfair to the operator. Always look up the number in the latest telephone directory.
