The Election.

The voters of Kent will remember that on WEDNESDAY NEXT, the 4th instant, they will be called upon to discharge their duty at the ballot box. From all portions of the State we have the most cheering prospect of the triumphant election of our popular candidate, Thomas H Hicks The reports from all the Congressional Districts are alike encourging We do not remember the time, in the history of parties, when there was a stronger disposition and a more settled determination, on the part of the people, of this county to disregard the petty lines of party, so far as the election of some of the county officers. All seem to be actuated with the desire of selecting good and well tried public servants. This is as it should be.

WITHDRAWN.—We are authorized to say, that DR. WROTH, expecting to remove from the county, is not a candidate for the Clerkship.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.—T. W. Eliason Ext'r of Mrs. Rebecca Ringgold, sold at public sale on Monday the dwelling house and premises, lately occupied by the deceased, for $2,180. John Brown, Esq purchaser.

George Vickers, Esq. as agent, sold the farm belonging to Lucas Aldrich near Harmony, containing 517 acres, for $19,-230. David Gemmill, of Delaware, purchaser.

PRESURE IN THE HORSE MARKET.—The New York Tribune states that the derangement of the money market has had a most disastrous effect upon the market for horses. Horses which cost their owners $759 were sold lately for $175 in that city. Another horse, which a year ago had a standing offer off $1,500, was sold for $300; and a handsome bay, for which $600 was paid last summer, and not considered dear at that, brought but $125 a few days ago.

EFFECT OF THE REVOLT IN INDIA.—The mutiny in India is likely to effect disastrously a vast amount of progressive industry. Within the last twenty years the amount of the products of other countries consumed in India has increased from $20,000,000 to $85,000,000, and her native productions have more than kept ace with it. Every nation which trades with her becomes her debtor. In 1835 the surplus produce of India was $40,-000,000; in 1855 it exceeded $125,000,-000. Last year the balance due India for the excess of the exports over the imports was $41,000,000. The specie importations have increased from $14,000,-000 in 1846 to $62,000,000 in 1856.—The present war puts a stop to all this trade.

EXCITING HORSE RACE.—A trotting race, of 25 miles, came of on Friday last at Bridgeport, Conn., between the Dalton horse and the Taylor horse, which won by the former—performing the distance in 1 hour, 32 minutes and 36 seconds. The authorities of the city obliged Messrs. Dalton and Taylor to make oath that they had not and would not bet on the result, before they would permit the race to come off. The horses kept close together throughout the race.

PRICE OF PROVISIONS.—Housekeepers complain that the price of provissions do not decline in proportion to the stringency in the money market. Retailers say that the wholesale prices are maintained, and the wholesale dealers say that the supply is not yet sufficiently in excess of the demand to force down the prices.—One thing, however, is certain housekeepers arebecoming economical, and their economy will tell on the prices of all articles which are most used when money is plenty. With an abundant supply of food in the country and money scarce, the prices must fall. The very economy on which all classes of our citizens have entered will bring them down. Retrenchment is the order of the day in New York. The bank contractions hove caused a general contraction of expenditures, and this policy must lead to a very sensible decline in the bread and provision market. New York Sun.

FOREIGN NEWS.—The steamship Persia arrived at New York yesterday, from Liverpool the 17th, with three days' later news from Europe, and £200,000 in specie. There has been a decrease in bullion in the Bank of England of £553,000. Another triumph for the American horses is announceded, Mr. Ten Broeck's Babylon having taken a purse at Newmarket. This will by gratifying news to the sporting men on this side of the Atlantic.—The presure at the Bank of England, for discounts continued very heavy, but nevertheless the tone of the and money market is more foverable than at the depar- of the Baltic. The Bank is paying dividends to the extent of £6,000,000. Several additional failures are announced, but none of very great magnitude. The funds continued very sensitive. Consols have fluctuated considerably, but on Friday there was an upward tendency of prices. Barings' London Circular says that the demand for money continues active at seven per ceni. Consols closed firm at London on Friday. There is great anxiety for further advices from the United States. The Indian mails have reached London. The details of the news add nothing very interesting to the telegraph dispatches.

FROM KANSAS:—Indignation Meeting of Democrats at Lecompton.—ST. LOUIS, Oct. 28.—At a Democratic meeting held at Lecompton, Kansas, on the 20th inst. resolutions were adopted, strongly condemnatory of the action of Messrs. Walker and and Stanton, respecting the returns of Oxford precinct of Johnson county.

The course of the Governor and Secretary is characterized as high-handed and illegal, and a usurpation of the power belonging only to the Legislature.

A Great Leak.

Nothing can afford at a glance a clearer insight into the universal prevalence of luxury in the United States than the fact that during the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1856, we imported silk piece goods to the amount of $25,000,000, other silk goods to the value of $6,017,115, laces $1,601,610 embroideries $4,664,-353, making altogether over thirty-seven millions of dollars. These are the things which run away with the wealth of the country.

Mormon Resistance of the Government.

ST. LOUIS, October 26.—The Republican publishes a speech of Elder Kimball at Utah, expressing his determination to resist the government troops, if he has to call out even the women and children to arms. He declared that he would have Brigham Young for Governor all his lifetimer

BALTIMORE MARKETS.

[CORRECTED FROM THE "CLIPPER" OF FRIDAY.]

GRAIN.—Wheat.—The receipts this morning comprise 5,600 bush. The market was somewhat improved. We note sales of 2,000 bus. white at $1.08 to $1.17 for common to fair; $1 20 to $1 27 for fair to prime; and $1.30 to $1.35 for choice. Of red the sales only reached 1300 bus., at from $1.15 to 1.18 per bus. for good to prime.

Corn —The receipts this morning reached 2,000 bus., and we not sales of white ai 53a54c for inferior, 65a66c for good to prime, and mixed at 56 cts. Yellow sold at 67c for fair to prime.

Orts.—The receipts to-day reach about 1600 bus., and we note sales of 200 bush. good to prime Maryland and Virginia at 30a32 cts. per bushel. The market is dull.

To the Voters of Kent County:

FELLOW CITIZENS:—An election is to be held on Wednesday next for various officers of importance, and among the most important the Clerk of your county court. The qualifications for this office are not soon not easily acquired, but they are to be obtained, in a considerable degree, only by a close and faithful study and apprenticeship—an acquaintance in some degree with the laws, and the business and operations of the Courts. After these qualifications are secured, they are to be exercised for the benefit of the community, and an obliging and attentive officer has it in his power to communicate much and valuable information to the people in regard to the laws and to their interests—that information is as valid and effectual as if it emanated from professional lawyers and will necessarily be a great saving to persons having business in that office. Without these qualifications and dispositions of an officer, a great mass of the information now imparted to the people gratis, would have to be sought at much expense, from the profession of the Law. It follows as a consequence that the public are greatly interested and to be benefitted in the election of an officer to the Clerkship who is qualified, and ready to give to all, without distinction, and without charge, important information, and to manage and conduct the whole business of his department with an ability, a prudence, care and skill that shall carry out in all its beneficent operations, the object and operations of his office.

You have, in Mr. GORDON, the present incumbent, an officer adapted and qualified by practice—skill and knowledge—by an affability, courtesy and kindness, and a cheerful readiness to give information, to fill the important post for which he is a candidate Why change for the sake of change? Would any discreet and provident Farmer, if he had a farm in good condition, with the buildings improved, the fences in perfect order, ths gates in fine repair and well suited to their objects—the fields finely set in grass—well arranged and proportioned, in good cultivation and productive,—would the owner of such a farm look out for a manager or a tenant, who had no experience in farming, had never set a panel of fence nor hung a gate, nor run a furrow, nor sowed a handful of seed—and had no practical knowledge of the time of planting and seeding—of cultivating the soil, nor of raising stock, composts, &c., and of skillfully managing and preserving the products of such an estate? however well read or respectable such applicant might be? or would not the proprietor, make choice of an experienced and judicious farmer, who had a knowledge of soils—its mode of cultivation—of the time and seasons for agricultural operations—of the rearing of grass, stock, &c.?

If, in the ordinary operations and business of life, we would thus be influenced, why should we not in our civil and political capacity carry out this useful, sensible and practical principle? Should we be less careful and provident in the performance of this great duty than in the ordinary business and avocations of life? Should we be less prudent in such an important matter not involving any political principle, than in the selection of business agents? Let not the cry of change influence you against the dictates of your better judgment.

It was said by one of the wisest and greatest men that has lived in the annals of time, that it is "not good to try experiments in States, except the necessity be urgent or the utility evident; and well to beware that it is the reformation that draweth on the change, and not the desire of change that pretendeth the reformation." Apply this principle in a common sense view of the case, and we fear not the result! In Mr. GORDON you have a faithful, trusty, competent and obliging officer,—in his hands your interests, your titles and your official business, are safe—you have in him one that is able, ready, willing to serve you. What more can be asked? What more expected?

A FARMER.

For the Kent News.

MR. EDITOR:—In the list of candidates for office we find the name of Mr. JOHN T. BRISCOE, for the office of Register of Wills. We have known Mr. B. for many years personally, intimately, and by reputation, and we can truly say, that at all times, under all circumstances, we have found him to be an honest and honorable man—and worthy the confidence and esteem of the community. As a neighbor, friend, and citizen, he is exemplary, and merits the favour of the people.

Mr. B. has been a merchant for many years—is a most excellent clerk—has been a Justice of the Peace, and Post Master and has a good understanding of business, and would make a popular and excellent officer if elected. We commend him to the favorable notice of the voters of Kent, assured that if they will give him a fair trial, they will not be disappointed, but will secure a good officer.
