WILLYS-KNIGHT LTD. OPENS TRADE THOUGHT

Union Of Quantity Producer With Established British Maker Offers Advantages To Both—New Company Is Bond Of Alliance.

While his ostensible mission to England was an inspection of the Olympia Show in London, Vice-President E. B. Jackson, of the Willys-Overland Co., found time to cement a deal of considerable magnitude involving the Willys company and a prominent British manufacturer. This is no less than an alliance with Crossley Motors, Ltd., builder of the well-known Crossley car, and takes the corporate form of a new company, the Willys-Overland-Crossley, Ltd. Such is the cabled news that reached this country this week.

One of the recent phenomena of the British trade has been the growth of sentiment that if light cars produced along American lines of mass production can supply the market, they should be encouraged in view of the failure of British makers to make any progress along such a course. With this demand, however, and the assured market that would meet any delivery of cars into England, was the no less significant statement from the British Government in answer to a protest from its automobile manufacturers, that there is a practical differential of 80 per cent in favor of cars produced in the Island. This, it was pointed out, is due not only to the existing duty, but to high costs of ocean freight, record low rates of exchange, and the incidential costs of extra handling in export shipments and the like. By producing Overland cars from a British factory, it is pointed out, the new organization could not only help meet a large demand, but could do it at less per car than by shipping from this country.

Conversely, the cabled intelligence indicates some big things in store for the Crossley company, and for the British trade. Observers at the recent Olympia show pointed out as one of the big features notable through their absence, any semblance of a movement looking toward mass production with its economies and resultant price reductions. In the Overland line, particularly in its new model "4," the trade in England will have available a design admirably suited to the purpose. By producing it in England, morever, the differential of 80 per cent will prove a further advantage for the car in the eyes of the British trade. Coupled with this is the strategic benefit to be derived from an alliance with a name so thoroughly identified with the trade as is Crossley..

With Three-Point Cantilever Springs New Overland 4 Seems to "Sail Over The Roads"

THE new Three-Point Cantilever Springs of Overland 4, by their special construction and design, protect car and passengers from ordinary road jolts. Bumping, twisting, swaying and vibrating are wonderfully lessened. The blows of the road seldom reach you. There is less tendency to bodily fatigue after long rides.

The springs of Overland 4 attached at the ends of a 130-inch Springbase give the riding comfort and road steadiness heretofore possible only with cars of long wheelbase and great weight, yet Overland 4 retains the light weight and economy advantages of 100-inch wheelbase.

Three-Point Cantilever Springs protect the car from the hammering and wear of road blows. They lengthen its life and reduce upkeep costs.

Equipment of Overland 4 is dependable and complete from Auto-Lite Starting and Lighting to Tillotson Carburetor.

250,000 miles of test have made the strength and endurance of this car a matter of record.

See Overland 4 at the first opportunity. Ask for booklet. Overland 4 Touring, $845; Roadster, $845; Coupe, $1325; Sedan, $1375. Prices f. o. b. Toledo.

Try One Brunswick Then Decide

The best way to know for yourself the superiority of the Brunswick Tire is to buy one and compare it.

That is, if the very name of Brunswick isn't sufficient proof to you, as it is to most men, that here is an extraordinary tire.

Thousands of men who have known the name of Brunswick for years, realize that a Brunswick Tire has to be the best—for a mediocre product could never bear this historic name.

Long before the Overland Trail became famous, the House of Brunswick was established. It was one of the chief users of rubber for fifty years before automobiles came into use.

No concern with such a history could afford to offer anything but the best. For reputations are built slowly, but can be quickly destroyed.

This is a practical guarantee that Brunswick Tires offer more than the usual, yet at no added cost.

Get your first one now. You'll not be satisfied until you have ALL Brunswicks.
