Venida truly rules the waves my temper, time and looks it saves. 'Tis made of finest human hair to match all shades, brunette or fair. So good the match, for young or old. From one's own hair it can't be told netted by hand. It come two styles—transforming stormy days to smiles; the "Fringe" is either veil or net; the "Cap" defied both wind and wet. 'Tis shaped and self-comforting, too. A blessing after a shampoo. 'Tis stirilated, guaranteed and everyday fills every need. These briefly, are the reasons why Venida nets I always buy—at

KANE DECLARES HE IS POWERLESS TO CHECK GOUGERS

Handicapped by Cooke's Refusal to Reorganize Wartime Fair-Price Board, He Says

ATTORNEY'S DUTY TO STOP PROFITEERING, SAYS HEINZ

Prosecutor Has No Time to Answer Questions Concerning Action in Other Cities

With the housewives of this city clamoring for direct, vigorous action against the food gougers, whom they hold responsible for the undernourishment of their children, Francis I. Kane, United States district attorney, declared yesterday he was powerless to check profiteering.

Mr. Kane complained he was hampered by the refusal of Jay Cooke, formerly food administrator for Philadelphia, to reorganize the fair-price board. That board, he said, of publicity, ought to [illegible] profiteers, he said.

But Howard Heinz, food administrator for Pennsylvania, [illegible] Mr. Kane on that point. In an interview with the PUBLIC LEDGER [illegible] Pittsburgh last night Mr. Heinz said, although he was making every effort to have fair-price boards re-established, he was not willing to take any steps that would not relieve the federal authorities from their duty to stop profiteering.

The district attorney said, however, that the Lever food-control act would prove to be effective in cases of hoarding as distinct from profiteering. He reiterated that it would be extremely difficult to prove violations.

Mr. Kane acknowledges that prices are inordinately high. Ignoring the price of meats, regarding which Robert M. Simmers, agent of the State Food and Dairy Department and government food and drug inspector, has given him a mass of evidence, he said, that "the prices of green vegetables are terrible."

"The United States food administration had taken the position that though we must pack differently for the New York market.

LAST season's suit still holds together and we can half-sole our shoes. And you can still buy a big generous tin of the jolliest old pipe tobacco that ever came down the pike, without mortgaging the old homestead. Hooray!

Good old Kentucky is still growing Velvet's honest fragrant leaf. We're still ageing Velvet in the wood. Velvet's just as smooth and mellow and mild as it ever was. The quality's there and the quantity's there just the same.

Take the "cost" out of the "high cost of living" and what do you get? Why, "high living" of course. Well, sir, that's what Velvet does.

It's like Velvet Joe says:

"Anybody can tell you how much Velvet costs. But only yo' old pipe can tell you how much Velvet is worth."

There's goodness knows how many pipe loads in every tin of Velvet. Or if you want the mildest cigarette ever—there's 45 big ones in every tin.

The Best Machinery Investment You Can Make

Ask any user of the John Deere Spreader, and he will tell you it is the best machinery investment he ever made—not only because it saves hard work and valuable time, but because it makes every forkful of manure count for a bigger crop yield.

Manure goes farther and does more good when you use a John Deere Spreader. You can spread manure evenly, heavy or light—no under-fertilized or over-fertilized spots.

Come in and see this spreader. We want to show you why it will do better work, why it will last longer than others, why it will cost less for repairs, and why it is easier to load and operate.

Mounting the beater on the axle of the John Deere gives you a combination of advantages you can't get in any other spreader.

Come in and know the reasons why there are so many satisfied users of John Deere Spreaders.

VELVET JOE'S 1920 ALMANAC

In his new almnac, Velvet Joe, the genial philosopher of the tobacco world, has collected a rich fund of interesting information, timely statistics, helping suggestions, with his own quaint, pointed comments on life and things in general.

Printed in the old-fashioned almanac style, and replete with splendid illustrations, this year-book will again take its place on home reading tables with the dictionary and the encyclopaedia. Throughout the forty-eight pages, Velvet Joe offers answers to the hundred and one questions that invariably arise when family or friends converse.

Anyone desiring a copy of Velvet Joe's 1920 Almanac can secure it free by writing to Velvet Joe, 4241 Folsom Avenue, St. Louis, Missouri.
