FREEDMEN'S BUREAU BILL.

The bill enlarging the powers of the freedmen's bureau passed the House of Representatives, on Tuesday, by a vote of yeas 136, nays 33. It is, as passed, a substitute for the Senate bill, but differing, however, in only one or two essential features. During the consideration of the bill, General Rosseau, of Kentucky, who served four years in the Union army, made an able and pointed speech in opposition to it, the following extracts from which are commended to general perusal:

Mr. Rousseau, of Kentucky, said he did not justify any wrongs, but rose to discuss the bill under consideration. He was opposed to it; not from personal spirit, but because, if this oppressive measure should be passed, it would lead to the injury of those which it was claimed to protect.—He was not a Republican, but had acted with the Union party, and he was sorry to say the Union and the Republican parties were not always the same. During the last four years he had voted with the Republican party to suppress the rebellion, and had given it a hearty and honest support. The object of the war was at the outset declared to be to suppress the rebellion, defend the Constitution, and to restore the States to the dignity and rights which they enjoyed before the contest began.

There were now no armed rebels to make war; and should they, with such standing armies as they could always obtain, talk about war with unarmed men and women of the South? This was an absolute disgrace not only in his judgment, but in that of those who would suffer by it. Such extraordinary powers had never before been conferred. Take care, he said, of the negro, and he would stand by those who would do so; but do not place such power in the hands of bad men who would be sent to the Southern States.—The whole thing was without warrant, and wiped away the Constitution and laws of Kentucky. He showed what difficulties would arise from the operations of this bill, producing conflicts between whites and blacks.

They had been told by Messrs. Stevens and Shellabarger, and other extreme men, that the Southern States are out of the Union, and that the Constitution must be amended to keep the Republican party in power. With him, Northern and Southern secessionists are the same. He held the position, from which he would not be driven, that every citizen in the United States holds paramount allegiance to the General Government, and that such allegiance, when given, entitled the parties to all the protection which could be afforded.

The war was, he repeated, for the Union, and this purpose was declared by Congress directly after the battle of Bull Run.—But now they were gravely told that the Southern States were out of the Union.—He referred to the refusal of the House to admit the members elect from Arkansas even to the privileges of the floor, and to the members from Tennessee being denied admission to their seats. These men were earnest and efficient in support of the Union cause, and some of them rendered efficient service in the field.

Mr. Marshall, of Illinois, said it was difficult to conceive of a more important measure than that now pending. Its professed object was to look after and take care of a race which has recently been released from bondage, and this involved the expenditure of untold millions of dollars. He denied that the Federal Government can become the common almoner of the people, and also denied that Congress could put their hands into the pockets of the poor and industrious laborers and take a part of their hard earnings to distribute the money among those who may need it; and he denied that the Federal Government was established for any such purpose, and further that there was no authority or warrant in the Constitution for such an extraordinary measure.

This House had become a revolutionary tribunal, as lawless as that of the Jacobins in France, which brought the unfortunate Louis XVI. to the block, and was animated by similar purposes. For the expression of generous sentiments the gentleman from New York (Mr. Raymond,) was to be immolated and dragged down, and such epithets hurled at him as were never before heard in a deliberative assembly. A willing and abject majority were here to record the edicts of a dictatorship, which had been established over every department of the Government.

THE HISTORY OF THE CIVIL WAR IN THE UNITED STATES: its cause, origin, progress and conclusion; containing full, impartial and graphic descriptions of the various Military & Naval Engagements, with the heroic deeds achieved by armies and individuals, touching scenes and incidents in the camp, the cabin, the field and the hospital; and biographical sketches of its heroes. By SAMUEL M. SCHMUCHER, LL.D., author of Lives of the Four Georges, Kings of England; History of Napoleon III; Arctic Explorations and Discoveries; Life of Alexander Hamilton; History of Nicholas I; The Crimean War, &c., &c. Revised and completed by Dr. L. P. BROCHETT, author of Our Great Captains, Philanthropic Results of the War, &c., &c.

The above is the title of a work which will be issued from the press about the first of April. We have examined the style of the work and specimens of the engravings, and consider them of a superior character. Of its matter we cannot particularly speak, but it is claimed that in its selection, the author has confined himself strictly to official data, derived from the reports of Northern and Southern Generals, the report of the committee on the Conduct of the War, National and Confederate Archieves, &c. He has carefully avoided the introduction of any matter not strictly reliable and official, and has succeeded in producing what is universally demanded, a fair and impartial History of the War. The worke contains allusions to numerous historical events which led to the war, with accurate descriptions of the various battles, sieges and engagements which took place during its progress, on land and water. It will describe all the events of any importance which occurred, both civil and military, during the continuance of the war and connected with it; it will also contain biographical sketches of the various Commanders and Generals, naval and military, who distinguished themselves by their achievements.

The work is printed from a beautiful, clear, new type and will contain over one thousand super-royal pages, splendidly illustrated with over one huudred and fifty fine portraits of Generals, battle scenes, naval engagements, maps and diagrams, including among others fine portraits of the following distinguished characters:—Presidents Lincoln and Johnson, Generals Grant, Sherman and Sheridan; Jefferson Davis, Alex. H. Stephens, Gens. R. E. Lee, Stonewall Jackson and Beauregard.

It will be furnished to subscribers—in a few months—in fine cloth at $6.50 per copy, or in fine leather, spring back, library style, at $7.50 per copy, in English or German language.

Mr. A. J. Jordan, of the firm of Sullivan & Jordan, Baltimore, general commissioned agents for the sale of new works, is now canvassing our county for the above work, and will take the names of all who may desire to subscribe.

"DEMORREST'S MONTHLY."—This is one of the most beautiful and largest fashion Magazines in the world. It contains a large colored fashion plate, braid work, embroideries, fashionable novelties, &c. The reading matter is original, choice, and profusely illustrated; all these attractions combine to make it a welcome visitor to the fireside. Terms, for single subscriptions, $3.00. Address W. Jennings Demorest, 473 Broadway, New York.

RAILROAD MEETING.—On the 27th ult. a meeting was held at Preston, Caroline county, Md., at which Colonel James M. McCartre presided and Dr. Stafford was secretary. A committee, consisting of Messrs. G. W. Carroll, T. S. Noble, William H. Stafford and Colonel Jas. McCartre, was appointed to confer with the citizens of Dorchester county to secure their aid in building a railroad from the Delaware road to Cambridge, via Andersontown.—Cambridge News.

A NEW ASPECT TO BE GIVEN POLITICAL AFFAIRS.—A Washington correspondent writes: The public may prepare for some political events within a few weeks, or even days, that will give a new aspect to national affairs. Hitherto Congress, or rather, the leaders of Congress, have had everything in their own way. Perhaps they may remain a unit, even after another unit of equal and co-ordinate power shall be placed in antagonism to them.

BERGER & BUTZ'S
EXCELSIOR
SUPER-PHOSPHATE OF LIME,
—AND—
Berger & Butz's
AMMONIATED
SUPER-PHOSPHATE
OF LIME.

WE OFFER TO THE FARMERS OF KENT and the adjoining counties, these well known FERTILIZERS, for the Spring seeding. BERGER & BUTZ'S EXCELSIOR SUPER-PHOSPHATE OF LIME has for the last five years undergone the most rigid tests upon all crops, and has never been excelled.—It not only acts immediately upon the crop but is certain to produce a heavy growth of grass. BERGER & BUTZ'S AMMONIATED SUPER-PHOSPHATE OF LIME we guarantee to be a good article.

We give a certificate from one of the most reliable Farmers in New Jersey, showing the effect upon Wheat, Oats and Corn:

HOPEWELL TOWNSHIP, Cumberland Co., N.J., August 7th, 1860.

MESSRS. BERGER & BUTZ:

I have now used your Super-Phosphate of Lime for two seasons. Last fall I used it upon part of my wheat, which has turned out as well as where I manured with good barn-yard manure. This last spring I put in my oats with it; the oats were sown upon poor ground, still the yield was most excellent, far better than I had any reason to expect.

I also used it upon Corn alongside of another well known fertilizer. The drought has been very severe this summer, and the corn is therefore backward, still your phosphate has done very much better than the other, and does not seem to have suffered so much from the drought. I consider your Super-Phosphate of Lime not only a good manure, but better than any other fertilizer I ever used.

Yours, respectfully,
ROBERT JONES.

We will say to Farmers and Dealers, that by the introduction of new and improved machinery into our factory, our article will be much better prepared than heretofore, and if it is not found to be in every way equal to the original standard we will not demand one dollar for our article.

THE FERTILIZER
For Maryland Lands.

Baugh's Raw-Bone Phosphate,
Containing 53 per cent. of Phosphate of Lime, and 4.05 " " Ammonia.

It should be borne in mind that the Phosphate of Lime in this article, being obtained exclusively from Raw Bones and a true Bird Guano, there is no portion of it inoperative, as in the case of Super Phosphates made from Mineral Guanos, but being entirely Soluble in the Soil, continues to impart its fertilizing qualities to the crops for years.

The remarkable success which has attended its use in Maryland and parts of Virginia, is a sufficient guaranty to induce those who have not tried it to do so.

The Grain Crop in the State where this fertilizer has been applied is supposed to have been increased from 25 to 50 per cent. by its use. While for Tobacco and Grass Lands its success has been equally decided.
