THE RIGHT TRIUMPHANT.

The following, from the Washington National Intelligencer, of Wednesday, shows a most accurate appreciation of the situation in Baltimore and the election result in the State:

The machinations of demagogues, the frantic appeals of mischief-making revolutionists, the recklessness of law-defying public functionaries and the adroit chicane of accomplished and unscrupulous lawyers, are all in vain against the settled purpose of the people to sustain the right. The citizens of Baltimore have earned the eternal gratitude of the American people. No people have ever been more sorely tried. No people have ever borne themselves more nobly against their oppressors.

A handful of men, claiming to be the simon-pure loyalists of the city, though some of them were leaders in inciting the popular storm which culminated in the riot of 1861, got possession of the city government through a system of legislation that, however well adapted to an era of war, was by no means consonant with the spirit of peace, and sought to perpetuate their power by the most iniquitous disfranchisement of their fellow-citizens, on the plea that they were disloyal. They refused to register lawful voters. They excluded from the ballot-boxes those who were justly entitled to the right of suffrage, under a severely restrictive enactment. They countenanced corrupt judges of election, and sought to evade the punishment due their wrong-doing by keeping in power a board of police, in defiance of the action of the Executive, and availed themselves of a partizan judge, once a pronounced secessionist, to imprison those who were lawfully appointed police commissioners, and to arrest the course of justice; and in the midst of their iniquity, leagued themselves with the wholesale slanderers of their State, who were summoning the citizens of adjoining States to armed interference with the affairs of Maryland. All these outrages the citizens of Baltimore have borne—not tamely, not without irrepressible indignation, but without violence. They have kept themselves in due subordination to the law, and have bided their time. At the polls on Tuesday they administered a memorable, overwhelming rebuke to the cunning plotters and unscrupulous demagogues, both in and out of the State, who, to perpetuate the power of a party, would not hesitate to light the flames of another civil war.—We congratulate Baltimore and the State of Maryland on overthrowing a lawless faction which, professing the purest loyalty, was guided by the most reckless selfishness, and especially do we congratulate the conservative leaders and the masses upon the forbearance, the self-control, the patriotism, and the respect for law, which gild their triumph with its proudest memories.

NEGRO LABOR IN THE SOUTH.—We are informed by an observer who has had extensive opportunities for surveying the condition and prosperity of negro labor in the Southern States, that it would be a very liberal estimate to say that the blacks performed one half as much labor as they formerly did when in slavery. Their former habits (enforced habits, it is true,) of steady and continuous work, have, to a large extent, given place to indolence, and employers find it difficult to rely upon them in those planting operations where formerly their industry was so effective. In some places the condition of things is exceedingly bad, and planters feel utterly discouraged. The question of compensating the blacks has been one of the hardest of settlement.

Owing to the want of money last Spring a great proportion of the planters agreed to give the negroes a share in the crop; but this mode is found to have led to endless confusion and trouble, beside producing discontent on all hands; and the plan will be generally abolished hereafter, and that of weekly or monthly wages in actual money substituted. There are very many grave and threatening difficulties connected with this negro question in the South, and those who think they can all be solved by simply giving the black population the privilege of voting, will yet find themselves greatly mistaken.—N. Y. Times.

SOUTH CAROLINA.—Governor Perry has published a long letter addressed to Chas W. Woodward, of Philadelphia, in reply to a letter from that gentleman, urging South Carolina to ratify the Constitutional amendment. Governor Perry takes the ground that the Southern States may be ruined, but cannot be dishonored and disgraced except by their own acts. He expresses the conviction that the amendment can never gain the assent of three-fourths of the States. He reviews the sections of the amendment seriatim, and gives his views against each at some length. He closes his letter in these words: "Let me conclude by assuring you that, as feeble as South Carolina may be, and as powerless as you say she is to protect herself, she is nevertheless able to maintain amid all her oppressions her honor unsullied, and will never voluntarily accept her own degradation."

THERE are in New York city in all 170 newspapers and periodicals, counting the dailies, semi-weeklies, weeklies and the monthlies. Of these the Evening Post says that one-eighth are making fortunes for their owners; one-fourth are progressing comfortably; another fourth about make their expenses, and the remainder, nearly one-half, "gasp."

A FRANK CONFESSION.—Mr. O. E. CASTLE, of Rochester, N. Y., writes: "I have used your machine for several months; and being familiar with most other first-class machines, I unhesitatingly pronunce yours the best family Sewing Machine.—In common with many others, I confess I was prejudiced against it, on account of its being a one shread machine, until I had thoroughly tested it. I am now satisfied that it is the simplest, least liable to get out of order, and easiest to work; that it runs the stillest, makes the strongest seam, and hems, fells and cords, better then any other machine."—[Letter to Willcox & Gibbs S. M. Co., April 17, 1866.]

Wilcox & Gibbs Sewing Machine.

"Its seam is stronger and less liable to rip in use or wear than the Lock-Stitch." ["Judges' Report," at the "Grand Trial."]

Send for the "Report," and samples of work, containing both kinds of stitches, on the same piece of goods.

AND WINTER GOODS.

I. FRANK'S CLOTHING STORE,

UNDER THE VOSHELL HOUSE,

HAS become one of the Institutions of Chestertown, and the quality of his goods, as well as the manner of his dealing, are so well known and so generally appreciated, that it don't require a great flourish of hollow words and a constant blowing of trumpets, to attract public attention to it, and enlist public judgment in its favor. He therefore deems it only necessary to state, without enumerating anything in particular, that he has on hand as usual a well selected stock of

of his own manufacture, together with a full assortment of HATS, and GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS, which will be sold at the lowest rates. His salesman, Mr. B. STRAUSS, is directed to sell at as small an advance upon original cost as possible, and to wait upon everybody with politeness, whether they wish to buy or not. Therefore, no one need apprehend cause for ill feeling by examining my Goods without purchasing.

A fine stock of city-made BOOTS, (Ritter's celebrated make,) on hand. Respectfully, Nov. 3, 1866. I. FRANK.
