GREAT FAIR AT TOLCHESTER!

Full List of Prize Winners in All the Departments—The Exhibits Above Last Year—Summary of the Races—Excellent Conduct Prevailed—The Next Governor Present and Popular With the People.

THE Seventh Annual Kent and Queen Anne's Fair proved equal to its predecessors and if it is possible to judge created a more wide spread interest. Supt. Edward Noland has become an expert manager and everything went off smoothly while Capt. Eliason handled the crowds by boat in his characteristic skillful manner.

The attendance on Tuesday was about 4,000. Hon. Edwin Warfield, candidate for the nomination for Governor on the Democratic ticket, came down on the morning boat and mingled freely with the visitors. He was cordially received on all sides and if signs are any account he will be the next Governor of Maryland. He was escorted about the grounds by Mr. Samuel Vannort, J. Walter Skirven, H. W. Vickers, Esq., and others. Nearly every candidate on the ticket was on the grounds and politics occupied the attention of many during the day.

The superintendents comprised the following: Horses—T. E. W. Crew; Cattle, Walter T. Morris; sheep, J. W. Skirven; Swine, John E. Morris; poultry, James Bell; machinery, William E. Keyser: farm and garden products, Alfred Bramble; flowers, Mrs. A. M. Kendall; fruits, Mrs J P Nicholson; dairy, Mrs J W Corey; domestic manufactures, Mrs J P Nicholson and Mrs Bramble; works of art, Mrs T E W Crew; culinary, Mrs Thos. Skirven; preserves, Mrs James Bramble; children's garden products, James L Beck; school, Fred G Usilton and T D Bowers.

The second day attracted nearly 7,000 people. The steamers Louise and Susquehanna made two trips each from Baltimore. The B S Ford brought excursionists from Chester river. The Annapolis brought excursionists also. She met an excursion from Salisbury at Claiborne and brought about 400 persons to the fair. The Kitty Knight came from Sassafras river, the Endeavor from Queen Anne's railroad and the Thomas L. Worthly also brought passengers.

Thursday was the "Big Day." The steamers Louise and Susquehanna made two trips each, and, assisted by the Tred Avon, brought 7,000 people from Baltimore; the Queen Anne and Endeavor brought 1,500 from points on the Queen Anne R. R.; 1,000 more came on the B. S. Ford and Gratitude from Chester river; Emma Giles 1500 from up the Bay, while fully 4,000 residents of the counties came in vehicles. Teams were passing through Chestertown as early as 4 o'clock, and at sun-up some were at the gates waiting for admission.

Of the exhibits the poultry display was one of the best. William K. Birely & Co., of Frederick, have on show 250 chickens of various breeds. The next largest exhibit is shown by James T. Bell, of Kent county. A brood of twenty muscovy ducks, shown by Miss Francis Norris, came in for a great deal of praise.
