Cows Killed by Nails and Wire in Feed

Live stock insurance companies are warning dairymen to beware of feeds containing nails, slugs, staples, tag fasteners and baling wire.

Swallowed with feed this death dealing junk ruptures the stomach and lodges in the animal's heart. Death is sure to follow.

LARRO protects your cows from this danger. It is the only dairy feed which, in its finished state, passes over a powerful electro-magnet. Every piece of iron and steel is thus removed from LARRO.

Don't take chances with your cows when LARRO guarantees this protection.

DOES LAUNDRY WORK AND HOUSEWORK TOO

Surprised to Find Herself Feeling So Well

Taunton, Mass.—"I used to have pains in my back and legs so badly, with other troubles that women sometimes have, that my doctor ordered me to stay in bed a week in every month. It didn't do me much good, so one day after talking with a friend who took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for about the same troubles I had, I thought I would try it also.

I find that I can work in the laundry all through the time and do my housework, too. Last month I was so surprised at myself to be up and around and feeling so good while before I used to feel completely lifeless. I have told some of the girls who work with me and have such troubles to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I tell them how it has helped me. You can use my testimonial for the good of others."—Mrs. BLANCHE SILVIA, 59 Grant St., Taunton, Mass.

It's the same story—one friend telling another of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

2,000 AT EXHIBITION OF TALKING MOVIES

Western Electric Company Engineer Gives Demonstration Of New Film Scheme — Speaker Also Shows Sending Of Five Messages Over One Telegraph Wire.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 6.—With President Angell, of Yale, and former President Hadley among the audience of scientists and local people numbering 2,000, Dr. E. B. Craft, chief engineer of the Western Electric Company, gave the first exhibition of a talking movie in Woolsey Hall, at Yale.

The moving picture showed the operation of the Western Electric vacuumtube and the explanatory lecture accompanying it was delivered automatically by a bevy of electric phonographs, loud-speaking telephones.

The speech was recorded several days ago in the company's laboratories in New York, using a recently developed electrical recording device. By the use of his apparatus Dr. Craft said a political speaker could simultaneously address any number of audiences at widely scattered points, or a great actor could preserve his voice and gestures for all time.

The speech was unusually clear and distinct and had none of the blur characteristic of many phonographic speech records.

Thomas A. Edison and Lee De Forest appeared in the movie film.

Dr. Craft also gave a demonstration of sending five telephone messages over one wire. He had two microphones on the desk before him, huge horn amplifiers above him and other equipment on each side of the stage.

A screen was in position for lantern and motion pictures. As he supplemented diagrams showing sound waves with comments and instructions to his assistants, one could hear from the horns a message on the retirement of a boxing champion, another reporting the stock market, etc.

They went on the wire at the same time from a number of assistants, but were "filtered" and isolated until at last they came tumbling out one after another.

Discussing the development of radio, Dr. Craft intimated that Mars could listen in if there be humans there. Long-distance plants call for long wave, low frequency equipment and are very expensive. As for secrecy, he said the great expense necessitated makes it practically impossible as yet. In a local way, 25 conversations from the same point are feasible.

The radiophone can be used across the continent if the needed funds are forthcoming. With amplifiers, a man can stand on a roof of a New York building and talk to ships in the harbor.

GUERNSEYS BRING $1060

Queen Anne's county breeders of thoroughbred Guernsey cattle are highly elated over the big success achieved by two yearling calves and a two-year heifer, from the herd of John R. E. Turpin, Locust Hill Farm, Centreville, at a Guernsey cattle sale held Monday at Timonium. The three animals were sold for $1,060.

Last Monday County Demonstrator Oliver C. Jones and James Ferrick, Lloyd T. Boyce, Herman Comegys, A. S. Gadd, Jr., A. E. Gadd, Sr. John R. E. Turpin attended the sale at Timonium. Mr. Ferrick purchased a yearling heifer from one of the Baltimore county breeders.

W. C. DEFEATED

The Mount St. Mary's College eleven defeated the Washington College team Saturday afternoon in a hard fought game 18 to 14. The game abounded in thrills from the start to the blowing of the whistle at the conclusion of the contest.

The work of Cronin for Mount St. Mary's was the feature of the contest. He could hit the line for gains, could skirt end, throw passes and excel in practically every department of the game. Rielly and Lomond played their usual good game for the Mountaineers.

Crow, Rigger and Flowers starred for the visiting eleven. One other outstanding feature of the contest was the fighting spirit of the Washington College eleven which kept that team from giving up even after two touchdowns has been scored and the game was half over.

Mrs. Grace Vickers Fletcher, formerly of Kent county, underwent a serious operation at her home last Saturday by Dr. Henry B. Kolb, and Dr. Moore, from Franklin Square Hospital, Philadelphia. She is doing as well as can be expected.

Edward W. Emory living near town, is harvesting one of the largestt crops of white potatoes ever grown in this section. He makes a specialty of growing potatoes for the market, and he finds it one of the most profitable crops on the farm.

Mrs. Andrew Bradley died Saturday at her home, near Elkton. Her death is said to have resulted from grief over the failure of the Second National Bank of Elkton, which caused her to lose $6,000.

GAINS 15 POUNDS AND FEELS FINE

Bronchial Trouble And Dyspepsia Were Quickly Ended By Tanlac, Says Mrs. Leach.

"I have just finished my third bottle of Tanlac and now feel better than I have in years. I have gained nearly fifteen pounds and am still taking the medicine, for I want to get good and well," said Mrs. Hannah Leach, 2673 Pennsylvania Ave., Baltimore, Md.

"For about two years I suffered with bronchical trouble, with terrible coughing spells that would almost smother me. My throat felt sore and rasped all the time and I was just constantly in misery. I lost weight until I was a walking shadow and was so weak, pale and run down that the slightest effort would tire me out completely.

"My stomach got to be badly disordered, and my food would disagree with me and did me no good. I was so unstrung and worried over my condition I spent many a night without getting even a single nap, and in the mornings was nearly always getting even a single nap, and in the mornings was nearly always as tired and sluggish as when I went to bed. A terrible pain between my shoulders blades added to my miseries and It was just simply agony when I had one of my coughing spells.

"I tried several things recommended to me but never got any relief until I took Tanlac. I now feel so wonderfully improved I just can't say enough for this medicine. I have a splendid appetite, relish all my food and it agrees with me perfectly. I am stronger and better in every way. I bless the day I got Tanlac and I am more than willing to tell what it has done for me."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.—Adv.
