EXCURSION SEASON NEAR.

Tolchester Being Put In Condition. Many Early Bookings.

The summer excursion season at Tolchester Beach will open on June 1. The steamers of the Tolchester line are being newly equipped and refitted. The steamer Emma Giles was the first one to be completed, and has resumed her route. President William C. Eliason and several other directors of the Improvement Company will visit the Beach on Saturday to view improvements that are now being made by Superintendent Noland.

"The excursions booked so far have exceeded any previous season," said President Eliason. "Among some of the largest excursions booked are the following:

"Christ, Emmanuel, St. Michael and All Angels', St. Peter's and St. Paul's Episcopal Churches, Grace and First Methodist Episcopal Churches, Brantly Baptist Church, Christ English Lutheran Church, Lutheran Church of the Incarnation, St. Leo's Gymnasium, St. Paul's English Lutheran Church, Scott-Street Baptist Church and Trinity English Lutheran Church. All the Hampden Sunday-schools will hold an excursion on Saturday, June 10, and all the Reformed churches will picnic there on June 23. In addition to the above, many societies and social organizations have been booked."

Say The Crab Supply Will Be Short.—Those who love crab meat and the sport of netting them at the end of a line during the summer and fall months may find both appetite and sport disappointed and curtailed. In the first place it is reported that it is contemplated to organize a crab trust and corner the crabs of the Chesapeake bay. The way it is proposed to do the trick is to purchase all the crab packing houses in Maryland and Virginia and utilize all the crabs caught at these places and ship to market a short supply, which it is thought will bring remunerative prices. Then again great numbers of crabs were killed by the intense cold of the winter of 1903—4, and, in consequence, almost prohibitive prices prevailed until well into the summer last year. Winter-killed crabs began to float ashore down the bay about two weeks ago and some dealers are apprehensive that even greater damage was done on the hibernating grounds by the more severe winter of the last three months than resulted of the cold winter a year ago. Some local dealers claim that the death of the crabs is due to their being dragged from their beds in the mud during the cold weather and left exposed to the unusually chilled waters. Fears are felt that the coming summer may be a reputition of the summer of last year, or that the crab supply may be even shorter and prices higher. The rumored trust is causing dealers and consumers less anxiety than the fear of winter damage. It does seem strange that crabs should ever become scarce when it is known, through government experts who have investigated crab propagation, that the mother crab produces 2,500,000 eggs at each hatch. Despite this munificence of nature, unless the mother crab is protected from her greatest enemy—man—the Chesapeake bay delicacy is doomed. The young crab, which is at first a mere animated speck, is devoured in countless millions by fish, and but few of the great number of eggs hatched live to reach maturity.

A GIFT of $10,000,000 by Andrew Carnegie, to provide annuites for College professors who are not able to continue in active service, was announced Thursday by Frank A. Vanderlip, vice president of the National City Bank of New York. Professors in the United States, Canada and Newfoundland will share in the distribution of the income of the fund.

THE season rapidly is approaching when danger arises from lightening. The Scientific American says if you are afraid of lightning, here is a simple safeguard to remember: Simply put on your gum shoes or rubbers and then stand up so that your clothes wont touch anything; whether you are indoors or out of doors you are perfectly safe, for rubber is a nonconductor and you are perfectly insulated. This is worth remembering.
