CHESTERTOWN - JUNE 23, 1888.

MR. THURMAN'S FAMILY.

Something About the Old Roman's Wife, Children and Grandchildren.

An intimate friend of the family of ex-Senator Allen G. Thurman, the Democratic nominee for Vice-President, contributes the following to the New York World: "Mrs. Thurman, though quite as old as her husband, seems many years younger, and I could not help thinking to-day that she was the most serene and at the same time the most energetic woman I had ever seen. She was Miss Dunn, of Lexington, Ky., and the family must have emigrated to Ohio at an early date, as she was a widow—Mrs. Tompkins—living in Chillicothe, when Judge Thurman, as a young man, fell in love with and married her. Mrs. Thurman's three brothers, Walter, John and Robert Dunn, with their families, live in patriarchal style on an immense tract of land in Madison county, Ohio, not far from Columbus, which they purchased years ago and named 'Dunalan.' Some idea of its size can be gained by the fact that the homes of the brothers are several miles apart. They are gentlemen farmers, rich and prosperous, and 'Dunalan' is noted not only for the generous hospitality of these charming people, but for the very fine horses and cattle raised there. Mrs. Thurman had by her first marriage one daughter, who grew to womanhood, was married, and died soon after having a son.

"Of Judge Thurman's children there are three—a son, Allen W. Thurman, and two daughters, one the wife of Lieutenant Cowls, of the navy; the other the wife of ex-Governor McCormick, of Arizona. The daughters live at Richmond Hill, near Jamaica, L. I., in houses presented to them by their father. Mrs. Cowles was educated at the Ursuline Convent, Brown county, Oh'o, and at one time, under the ministrations of the late Bishop Rosecrans, of Columbus, she almost decided to become a Catholic. She became so attached to the church while at the convent that, although never really receiving the faith, she was a regular attendant at the Cathedral, on Broad street.

"Mrs. McCormick was educated at the school of Mrs. Pegram, in Baltimore. During her father's residence in Washington Mrs. McCormick lived next door to him. Their houses communicated, and were thrown together when either one gave a large entertainment—a most convenient and agreeable arrangement. It is needless to say that in Washington, as in the West, the hospitality of the Thurmans was hearty and unbounded. It would be difficult to find a more congenial, harmonious, loving couple than Judge and Mrs. Thurman have always been, and as I write memories of Mrs. Thurman's sympathy in affliction and uniform kindness to neighbors and friends crowd upon me, and I see her sweet, motherly face foremost in every good and kindly deed.

"Mrs. Cowles, her eldest daughter, is one of the most original, brilliant and independent women in the country, and I defy any one to be weary, or sad, or stupid in her presence. She speaks very rapidly as if trying to give utterance before they go to the quaint, humorous, witty thoughts that seem to cross her mind like successive flashes of lightning. Mrs. McCormick, though perhaps not as brilliant intellectually as her sister, has more beauty, is noted for her gentleness, and is altogether more conventional.

"But probably the most interesting members of the family are the promising children of Judge Thurman's son, Allen W. Thurman, who married Miss Webb, of Baltimore, daughter of the late A. L. Webb. Their eldest daughter, a girl of sixteen, is a radiant beauty, inheriting the wonderfel personal charms of her mother's family and the mental endowments of her illustrious grandfather. The spectacle of a young girl budding into womanhood, nearing that threshold beyond which is so much disappointment and misery for some—so much honor and happiness for others—can scarcely be viewed with indifference by any one. But when that young girl has beauty of face and character and a mind in keeping with both—when, by birth and position, she belongs, as it were, to the entire country, such an event as her entrance into society has a general interest for all. Whether it shall occur at Washington, which will make it a national affair, or in her quiet Western home, we can only say: 'May her ways be ways of pleasantness and all her paths be peace.'"

Blaine on Thurman.

"In his "Twenty Years in Congress" ex-Senator James G. Blaine wrote of ex-Senator Allen G. Thurman as follows: "His rank in the Senate was established from the day he took his seat and was never lowered during the period of his services. He was an admirably disciplined debater, was fair in his method of statement, logical in his argument, honest in his conclusions. He had no trick in discussion, no catch phrase to secure attention, but was always direct and manly. His mind was not preoccupied and engrossed with political contests or with affairs of State. He had natural and cultivated tastes outside of those fields. He was a discriminating reader, and enjoyed not only serious books, but inclined also to the lighter indulgence of romance and poetry. He was especially fond of the best French writers. He loved Molliere and Racine, and could quote with rare enjoyment the humorous scenes depicted by Balzac. He took pleasure in the drama and was devoted to music. In Washington he could usually be found in the best seat of the theatre when a good play was to be presented, or an opera was to be given. These tastes illustrate the genial side of his nature, and were a fitting compliment to the stronger and sterner elements of the man. His retirement from the Senate was a serious loss to his party; a loss, indeed, to the body. He left behind him the respect of all with whom he had been associated during his twelve years of honorable service."

The Shirt Worn Out.

This vigorous little speech was made by a farmer at a recent Democratic county convention in Illinois: "You may be surprised to see Bill Bledsoe here. If it was a republican pow-wow I would need no introduction. For twenty years I have voted the republican national ticket. I will do so no longer. I am not here because I love the democratic party, but because I love myself. I am convinced that the democratic party of to-day is the friend of the laboring man. I was in the Union army and fought all through the war. I came home a republican and remained such until this year. The old bloody shirt has played out with me. It will not pay my taxes, nor will it raise the price of my farm products one cent, nor reduce the cost of the necessaries of life. If I am not badly mistaken, 15,000 or 20,000 more farmers will do as I have done before the election in November—enough, at least, to change the State of Illinois from a republican high tariff and high State tax camp to a reform tariff, or farmers' protection State."

A Horrible Inheritance

The transmission of the fearful effects of contagious blood poison is certainly the most horrible inheritance which any man can leave to his innocent posterity. The curse contained in the Scriptural declaration: "The sins of the fathers shall be visited upon the children unto the third and fourth generation," can be certainly mitigated, and in the majority of cases, prevented, by the use of the antidote to the contagious blood poison which Nature herself furnishes, and which is to be found in its native purity and infallible efficacy in the remedy known all over the world as Swift's Specific—commonly called "S. S. S." As illustrative of this fact we give the following evidence—they are test cases, taken at random from hundreds of others of similar character:

Mr. J. H. Brown, of Hornelsville, N. Y., writes: Three years I suffered with this horrible disease. Swift's Specific cured me completely.

Prof. Edwin Baar, 234 E. Twenty-second street, New York, writes: Swift's Specific cured me of a fearful case of Blood Poison.

Dr. B. F. Wingfield, of the Soldier's Home, Richmond, Va., writes: Swift's Specific cured me of a severe case of Blood Poison.

D. W. K. Briggs, Brooklyn, N. Y.: I was a perfect wreck from Blood Poison. Specific restored health and hope, and I am well today.

C. W. Langhill, Savannah, Ga.: I have suffered a long time with Blood Poison. I tried Swift's Specific and am now a perfectly well man.

A. W. Buell, of Power's Hotel, Rochester, N. Y., writes: It is the best blood remedy on earth. I cured myself with it. I recommended it to a friend of mine, a well know business man, and it made him well.

Mr. F. L. Stanton, editor of the Smithville, Ga., News, writes that a friend of his was afflicted with a severe case of Blood Poison, and that two bottles of S. S. S. effected a complete cure. He tried every other remedy in vain.

Mr. J. R. Kellogg, Stamford, Conn., writes, December 16, 1887: Your S. S. S. is doing for me what ought to have been done long ago. It has done me more good in one week than all the medicines I have ever taken. Would I had gotten it before! But "all's well that ends well." It will make a new man of me, and I thank God that I have found it at last!

THOMPSON---Up Town.

TO THE PUBLIC GENERALLY:

Having been well patronized by the people of Chestertown and vicinity for the last seventeen years we tender our most sincere thanks for same and will in the future as in the past do our utmost to please all. We have and intend to keep in stock a full line of all of which will be sold at close figures. We have now a Ladies Button or Lace Shoe at $1; a man's Solid (or no sale) Plow Shoe at $1 a pair; a man's Dress Shoe at $1.25, $1.50, $2 and $2.50; and the best Glove Kid Top, kid front, worked buttonhole Shoe for Ladies and Misses at $1.75 that we ever saw—Having sold 600 pairs of them in two (2) years without one just complaint. We also have a Kid-toe Shoe for Ladies at $1.25 a pair, but please bear in mind that when you buy a pair of $1.25 kid-top shoes of us you will not get our $1.75 shoe, as we only advertise what we can and will do and nothing more.

LIME, HAIR, WHITEWASH BRUSHES, &c. We are selling the W. J. Lime, which is said by both carpenters and masons to slack at least one-fourth more than other lime, and having made a special contract for same would like builder as well as whitewasher to call and get prices.

We also have Wm. Lea & Sons, C. A. Gambrill's, and other brands of FLOUR, which we are selling by the Pound, Bag or Barrel as cheap as it can be bought in the city for the cash, as we sell Flour by the barrel for the CASH ONLY.

We claim to keep a little of everything and by buying our goods close for cash and discounting all our bills we are enabled to meet all and any competition. Again thanking you for past favors we ask a continuance of same. Respectfully,

May 7, 1887. W. C. A. THOMPSON.
