ROCK HALL NOTES.

"Leaves have their time to fall
And flowers to wither at the North winds blast,
And stars to set,
But thou hast all seasons for thine own. Oh! death.

Nor is the grim reaper a respecter of persons. During the past week he claimed that sweet life, Miss Carrie Blackiston. Carrie is no more. She has joined the innumerable company of God's redeemed on the "Happy Golden Shore," where papa and mama have been waiting for her. What a joyful greeting!

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Judefind too, has been visited and their darling infant has been transfered to that "land of pure delight, where saints immortal dwell." May "He, who tempers the wind to the shorn lamb" be the solace of the bereaved ones in their sorrow.

The oystermen of this place as a rule have the profoundest respect for Mr. B. Howard Haman, but they draw the line on Capt. Stanley Bryan. The latter's letter in Tuesday's SUN is rediculous to say the least. He evidently doesn't know whereof he writes, when he says rest does not benefit the oyster bars. It is a well established fact that when ever any of the bars in our waters have had only one season's rest, the result has been exceedingly beneficial, 12 or 13 years ago practically all the oysters on Swan Point and other near by bars were dead, the oystermen were compelled to go into Chester river to ply their trade for two seasons, and during those two seasons Swan Point recuperated and yielded large quantities of oysters ever since. Bryan says many rains during the closed season is detrimental to spat. Here he is off again. The closed season 1904 was very wet, but the catch of spat was exceeding large and healthy. The present closed season has been more wet than the last, and the catch of spat is even greater than ever before. These are facts and Capt. Bryan can know for himself if he will make an unprejudiced examination, our watermen know that rest is the thing needed for the bars.

"We'uns" were rejoicing that "General Humidity" had taken his final departure from us last week, but our hopes are knocked into smithereens, the old fe low is back with us again and is making it decidely uncomfortable, he is by no means welcome in our midst.

Basket making at Leary's factory wound up on Tuesday, since then Mr. E. E. Leary and crew are rafting logs from Wye river.

The harbor improvement has been of slow progress the past week or more. Reinforcement has been added. There are now two dredging machines at work.

Our purse net fishermen are finding their pursuit of the finny tribe quite slow. Four gasoline launches in command of game wardens are constantly manoeuvering on the forbidden waters to see that the law is not violated.

Reports are current that oysters on Swan Point and adjacent bars are in good condition, while down the bay the reverse prevails.

Mrs. J. F. Stevens, of Virginia, is enjoying a visit among relatives and friends here. She reports Capt. Frank, her husband, fatter than ever.

Mr. L. Crocket and family, after a year's residence here, have removed back to Tilghman's Island. Mr. C. likes this place and had purposed to end his days here, but the madam was averse to reside here longer, although if a suitable house with land enough for trucking could be had they would have continued to stay here. They were splendid neighbors and there is much regret at their departure.

Mrs. Thomas Warren has been visiting her relatives here.

Rev. Mr. Burr has secured a fine dog for birding this fall. He will show the sports how to bag game.

Capt. Samuel D. Sewell who recently returned to his post of duty in an improved state of health, has taken a relapse, and is again at the parental home, Capt. and Mrs. G. T. Sewell.

"Farmer" Brown, a well-known colored man near Rock Hall died Wednesday. He was about 83 years of age and an old war veteran About a year ago he received nearly $1100 in cash in back pay and has been getting a good pension ever since. He left no known family.

Rev. Warren Burr on Sunday morning sallied forth into the enemies camp and delivered one of those messages of reproof that are "sharper than a two edged sword." The subject was Christian Corruption, using for his text Rev. 3: 4. Rock Hall was flayed, and there were more or less wincing, but the forcefulness of the truth was so plain that everyone took the dose manfully. A feature of Sunday's service in the M. E. Church was the large attendance of non-residents.

WE learn on good authority, that the ladies of our town will soon have an opportunity of sampling at their homes the far famed "57 Varieties" prepared by H. J. Heinz Co. The method of introduction as now being used in some of our neighboring towns, is to sample the goods at the home, and give the lady of the house an opportunity to purchase small amounts with the privilege of having same delivered to her through her regular grocer. If all of these goods are equal to some of the varieties which we have had the pleasure of enjoying, we can bespeak for the Heinz representatives a cordial welcome to many of our homes.

"My hair nearly all came out. I then tried Ayer's Hair Vigor and only one bottle stopped the falling. New hair came in real thick and just a little curly."—MRS. L. M. SMITH, Saratoga, N. Y.

WE ARE HOLDING A SALE OF THE ENTIRE STOCK OF

CHAS. SIMON'S SONS CO.

—208 N. HOWARD STREET—

We have acquired the building and the entire stock of the Chas. Simon's Sons Co., 208 North Howard Street—next door to us.

This is not news to most of you—the papers told of the acquisition at the time it was made—some weeks ago.

The Simon business is the oldest retail dry goods business in Baltimore It has an honorable past of 90 years—three generations.

It has always been a high-grade business—never an element of the sensational or the shoddy has entered into it.

By reason of the decision of the members of the firm of The Chas. Simon's Sons Co. to retire from business, there are opportunities to buy the fine goods for which the store is famous at much less than former prices.

Every course of action that has earned for the Chas. Simon's Sons Co. the good-will and respect of the public will be continued for time to come; every tradition that has endeared the store to its patrons will be preserved.

The sale will continue until the entire stock is sold—possibly a month.
