The Dodging Period

of a woman's life is the name often given to "change of life." Your menses come at long intervals, and grow scantier until they stop. The change lasts three or four years, and causes much pain and suffering, which can, however, be cured, by taking

WINE OF CARDUI

Woman's Refuge in Distress

It quickly relieves the pain, nervousness, irritability, miserableness, fainting, dizziness, hot and cold flashes, weakness, tired feeling, etc. Cardui will bring you safely through this "dodging period," and build up your strength for the rest of your life. Try it.

You can get it at all druggists in $1.00 bottles.

"EVERYTHING BUT DEATH

I suffered," writes Virginia Robson, of Easton, Md., "until I took Cardui, which cured me so quickly it surprised my doctor, who didn't know I was taking it."

The Bride's Beautiful Gown.

The bridal gown was an ideal one and the bride was radiant. Her slender, graceful figure was shown to its best advantage by the Princess gown of rich heavy white satin. The seams of the front width were outlined with corded satin and the bodice was made with a round neck. About the neck was a festoon of the rare old point lace which adorned her mother's wedding gown, and the elbow sleeves were made of rows of this lace and finished with a satin bow at the front of the arm at the bend of the elbow. Orange blossoms outlined the neck and little bunches of them appeared upon the shoulders. A court train of heavy brocade satin in a lily pattern hung from the shoulders and lay full four yards upon the floor, ending in a square finish. Around the train was a quiling of the plain satin.

The bride's veil was of the filmiest tulle and completely enveloped her. She wore it off the face and it was arranged in a sort of cap fashion on top of her head, a wreath of orange blossoms outlining the top. Her hair was worn low on her neck and in it at the back was a gold comb, very plain and simple. About her neck was the gift of the bridegroom at Christmas, a diamond necklace, which formed a narrow dog collar, and below it she wore a string of perfectly graduated diamonds, beginning in the front with very large ones, the bridal gift of Mr. Longworth. Her only cosage ornament was a sunburst of diamonds, about three inches in diameter, with a very large saphire in the middle. Her bouquet of white orchids mixed with maidenhair fern was made in the English fashion of a cascade, which hung far down toward the bottom of her skirt, the stems tucked in her right arm. A few of the orchids were tinged with violet and long streamers of white gauze ribbon tied them together. Upon her white satin slippers were an ancient pair of Roosevelt shoe buckles set with diamonds, which have been for many generations in the family and which were loaned the bride for the occasion by her cousin, who now owns them.

$300,000 IN PRESENTS

Rare Gifts Sent From All Parts Of The World.—$25,000 Necklace From Cuba.

Washington, Feb. 17.—To recite the wonders of Miss Roosevelt's wedding gifts is like a tale from the "Arabian Nights." They have come from all over the world and comprise almost everything it is possible to own or long for.

It is estimated that they will amount to $300,000 in value.

The Gobelin tapestry, sent by the French Government, was one of the first to arrive and is one of the most valuable from a money standpoint. It was made to order, and the work upon it is put upon tapestries by the order of the Government only. The same may be said of the beautiful mosaic table sent by the Italian King, depicting scenes from cities and towns in Italy. The Cuban government raised a fund of $25,000, which they sent to Paris for the most beautiful necklace obtainable. A 30 inch silver bowl for fruit or nuts, with sides of exquisite lattice work, with garlands of roses upheld with tiny Cupids, was sent by Sec. Bonaparte. A $1,500 Boston terrier, named "Fashion," with a silver-mounted schedule giving her pedigree, and a complete outfit of tailor-made suits, petticoats, furs and sandals. The dog is only nine months old, and has the honor of having had the largest price paid for him ever known to have been paid for so young a dog. He is the gift of Mr. A. W. Stillman, of Pittsburg.

Five exquisite little watches have been received by the bride, the most beautiful being the one from Mr. and Mrs. John R. McLean. It is of Swiss make, with a Paris case. A star sapphire is set in the center; this is surrounded with sapphires and a row of large diamonds around the edge. This is held by a true-lover's knot of diamonds and sapphires. A diamond and pearl dog collar came from Mr. and Mrs. Ogden Mills, of New York; a diamond dog collar was sent by the American Ambassador to England and Mrs. Whitelaw Reid; set of oyster cocktail cups by Vice-President and Mrs. Fairbanks, the stands being of plain silver, with Miss Roosevelt's initials on them, the cup-holders being of lattice work in silver and the cups of Beleeke ware; long turquoise neck chain, the Secretary of State and Mrs. Root; gold vinaigrette, set with turquoise, Miss Root; the Austrian Ambassador and Baroness Hengelmuller, diamonds and sapphires to be worn as pendant or brooch; a silver jewel case of generous size, Senator and Mrs. Knox; a handsome traveling bag with toilet articles complete of cut glass, with 18-carat gold tops, Mrs. Schmitt; a set of desert dishes of Saxe ware from Mavence, each one tinted in different color with the initials "A. L. R." in each dish twisted in such a way as also to read "A. R. L." antique jewels, emeralds in silver, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Robinson, the latter a sister of the President; rare pieces of Rockwood pottery, Mr. and Mrs. Bellamy Storer; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stillman, silver pitcher; the officers of the President's "mess" in the Cuban war sent a tiny solid gold rifle about five inches long, with a diamond in the middle, which can be worn for a belt buckle, a hairpin or almost any ornament; album bound in silver, with pictures of Cuba, citizens of Nevada; two superb vases of Sevres china, the President of France.

A splendid team of horses, valued at $15,000, is the gift of the citizens of Cincinnati; large mirror to hang over dressing table, framed in antique Dutch silver, Mrs. Foraker; set of silver dinner plates, with exquisite repousse work and the bride's initials, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. F. Walsh and Miss Walsh; the Vicomte de Chamburn, French fan with Watteu pictures; Mrs. L. Z. Leiter, pair of antique silver candlestick; old Dutch silver serving spoon of large size and exquisite work in hammered silver, Representative and Mrs. Overstreet.

Twelve valuable oriental rugs from different friends; set of Tiffany favrile glass for the table from the New York delegation in Congress: immense loving cup of silver, Ohio delegation in Congress; the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, of which Mr. Longworth is a member, silver loving cup lined with gold; splendid silver tea service of eight pieces, lined with gold, the Cuban Minister and Madame Quesada.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles most always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sized bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co. Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

PERMANENT meadows should have an annual dressing of 500 pounds per acre of a fertilizer containing eleven per cent. Potash and ten per cent. available phosphoric acid.

This will gradually force out sour grasses and mosses from the meadows, and bring good grasses and clovers; thus increasing the quality as well as the quantity of the hay.

Our practical book, "Farmer's Guide," gives valuable facts for every sort of crop-raising. It is one of a number of books on successful fertilization which we send on request, free of any cost or obligation, to any farmer who will write us for them.
