The Annual Profit Sharing Sale

Beginning Friday, April 25th-----Ending Tuesday, May 6th-----

WITH the combined efforts, prestige and purchasing power of this whole organization, we have provided values that will make this ten-day sale one long to be remembered.

(1) Everything is fresh Spring merchandise of Stewart quality.

(2) Sale prices are for ten days only. (Some quantities may not hold out that long). After the sale prices go back to regular.

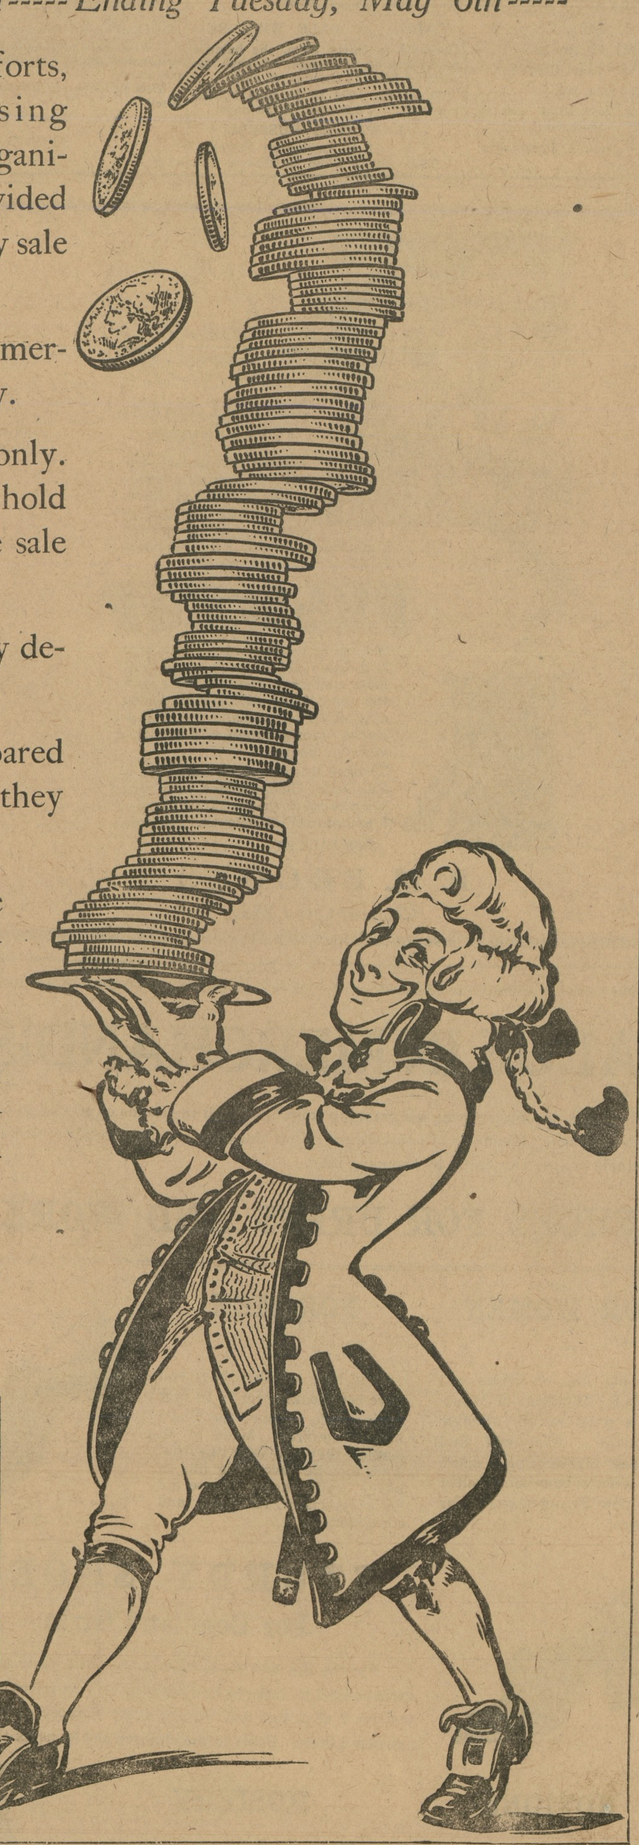
(3) The sale is store-wide, every department contributes.

(4) We have shopped and compared our values---We know that they are exceptional.

(5) Considering the importance of the sale, we advise early selections.

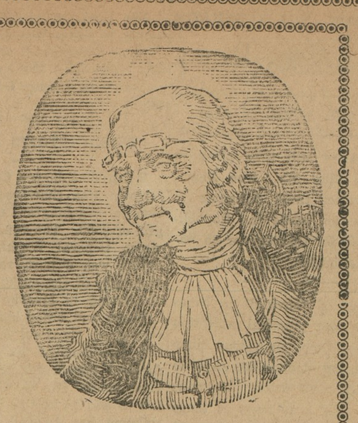
Every item on sale has been chosen for its timeliness, quality and value. Come and profit by taking advantage of them.

Your good will is appreciated, and we extend a cordial invitation.



Our Shopping Service Bureau

Will give orders the same courteous, careful attention as if the purchases were made in person.



POOR RICHARD

"If you don't think money is worth something, try to borrow some"
—Poor Richard.

In a subtle way Benjamin Franklin, through the lips of "Poor Richard" shows you the importance of thrift—and in establishing credit.

Your borrowing power is governed by you snd you alone. The thrifty man has little trouble in financing his ideas.

No matter what the past may have been, resolve today to start building upon a foundation af thrift. Then credit will take care of itself and borrowing money to carry on worthy enterprise will be easy.

A Savings Account is the First Step.
