Poultry Farming Profitable

Hundreds Of Thousands Of Chicks Shipped From The Chestertown Office By Mail.

Polk T. Bramble, proprietor of the Bramble Poultry Farm, located in Queen Anne's county, near Chestertown, is the last poultryman in this section to discontinue the shipment of day-old chicks by parcel post. Mr. Bramble stated that the demand for late hatched chicks is much greater than was the early demand, and he will continue to fill orders for the remainder of July.

That the poultry hatching business is one of the most profitable industries in this section is evidenced by the fact that during the present season, Mr. Bramble, who only this year enlarged his hatching capacity by incubators to 45,000 every three weeks. has shipped by parcel post during the season 150,000 day-old chicks and has sold thousands to Queen Anne's and Kent customers.

He has in his yards 2,000 young birds which will reach the broiler stage and will be shipped to market shortly.

The Queen Anne's Poultry Farm, which ownes the largest incubators on the Eastern Shore, has shipped about 400,000 chicks by mail and has hatched almost as many for local customers.

"PERSONAL"
To Robert, Jr.

It came addressed "personal" to Robert, Jr.—a letter from the bank where he had deposited from time to time money earned at mowing lawns—shoveling snow—and running errands. A letter—in the life of little folks is quite an event—and Robert was duly impressive.

Opening it he studied its contents quite closely—slowly reasoning his way through the message it bore. Finally, a smile of delight spread over his face. Right then was character made—the first molding of a trait which perhaps would influence his whole life. A lesson had been taught. He had learned that income could be had through the practice of thrift.

The letter was nothing more than a credit slip for interest on his money deposited on a saving account. To Robert, it was an unexpected deposit—money which he had not had to earn. His money was working for him. His incentive to increase his account was accelerated ten-fold.

Ben Franklin said: Instill Thrift—instill it young." Is your boy or girl being encouraged in such worthy effort?

DELAWARE'S APPLE CROP VERY GOOD

Delaware's apple crop is estimated by the Department of Agriculture to be one-tenth greater than it was last year and the State's peach crop one-third larger. Throughout the North and East as well as the South, these crops are unusually fine this year, the department announces, adding that with cheap sugar and cheap fruit the canning activities in eastern households should be pronounced this summer.

New York expects about one-third more apples than were harvested last year; New Jersey one-fourth more; and Virginia possibly up to 70 per cent more. There is a decrease in Pennsylvania and Maryland.

Peaches are reported fine in most of the North Atlantic States.

In general pears and grapes are in plenty this year.

Show And Farmers' Picnic

Forty Piece Band Of St. Mary's Industrial School To Be Feature On August 23 In Centreville. . . . . .

Queen Anne's county is this year establishing a county event in combining its Annual Farmers' Picnic and its Horse and Cattle Show. This joint fete will be held at Centreville on August 23rd.

Officials of the enterprise state that the Boys' Band of St. Mary's Industrial School, which has forty pieces, will be featured throughout the day.

Entries in the Horse and Cattle classes are rapidly filling, with excellent prospects of fifty head of horses and the same number of cattle for the show. Silver cups, says one of the committeemen, will be awarded as first honors in all classes.

County Agent Ernest W. Grubb, of Centreville, states that the show of this year will be staged in big tents rented from the Maryland Tent and Awning Company, which organization will equip the entries with adequate shelter and shade. According to Mr. Grubb, the Show and Picnic are expected to draw from three to five thousand people.

—The Bramble Poultry Farm has hatched out this year turkey eggs, hen eggs, duck eggs and wild duck eggs. Beginning on Jan. 1, they will operate their hatchery until Aug. 1. On Aug. 18 they will put in a hatch for fall chicks, which will come off on Sept. 8. Quite a few in this section have been raising fall chicks, with success,, during the past few years.

Messrs. Frank Taylor, Walter Crow, W. H. Thawley and G. K. Thompson, of Chestertown, enjoyed a fine day's fishing on the ocean opposite Rehoboth on Monday last. They caught some big nine pound trout.
