SATURDAY, - - OCTOBER 27, 1906

SECRETARY TAFT declined to meet Senator Rayner in a joint discussion. The Secretary won't catch hold of a buzz saw when he knows it.

THE Kent Grand Jury made some important recommendations. Farmers will certainly give strict regard to that in reference to the burial of dead animals—especially hogs dying of cholera—law or no law. No one will question the urgency of the court house improvements, but as to the expediency of such an expenditure at the present time the tax-payers and County Commissioners will, no doubt, seriously consider.

GRAND JURY'S REPORT.

GRAND JURY ROOM, Oct. Term, 1906.
To the Honorable the Circuit Court for Kent County, Maryland.

The Grand Jury of the State of Maryland, for the body of Kent county, begs leave, through their foreman, to respectfully report to the Honorable Judges of said Court that they have been in session six days, and during that time have examined one hundred and five (105) witnesses, six (6) constables and one (1) bailiff: made twenty-two (22) presentments and found twenty (20) true bills.

We have visited the jail and premises in a body and found them neat and clean and the prisoners comfortably provided for. We would recommend, however, that the cells with brick floors be covered with cement, and that two of the cell rooms upstairs be provided with closets; also call attention to Preston Brown's mental condition and recommend that he be provided for elsewhere.

We would specially recommend an enlargement of the Court House, in order to give accommodation to lady witnesses; better security for the records; for accommodation of witnesses called before the Grand Jury; for use of Auditing Committee and the Election Supervisors.

We also respectfully recommend that a light be kept at each end of the draw of Chester Bridge; also the draw of Sassafras Bridge, connecting Georgetown and Fredericktown, for the protection of the traveling public.

It has been recommended to the Grand Jury that they request the Court to call the attention of farmers to an existing law requiring the burial of dead animals, particularly of hogs dying of the cholera.

It is with deep regret that we recall the death of our late Judge, William R. Martin, who by his gentle and always kind treatment to his jurors, endeared him to our citizens.

We also extend thanks to the Court and officers of the court for their kind attention.

GEORGE BECK, Foreman.

IN PULPIT AND PEW.

[Ministers and other church workers are invited to send us brief, snappy accounts of interest to readers of this column, keeping within the limits of a single paragraph. When notices are too long they will be scaled down to meet the requirements of space.]

At the second quarterly conference of Asbury M. E. Church, Lawsonia, Md., the Rev. Henry S. Dulany gave notice that he expected to make a change the coming spring. At the third quarterly conference, the Rev. W. F. Corkran, of Newark, Del., was called to the pastorate of Asbury Church at Lawsonia. The recent revival resulted in more than sixty converts and the Rev. Mr. Dulany was his own evangelist.

Special Missionary services will be held at Kennedyville M. P. Sunday School next Sunday, Oct. 28th, at 9.30 a. m. The committee in charge of these exercises is Mr. D. T. Nickerson, Mrs. Clara Reese and Miss Nellie Barwick. The public are cordially invited.

The Bishop of Delaware will preach in St. Clements' Church, Massey, on Thursday next, Nov. 1st, (All Saints Day) at 7.30 p. m. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Rev. Dr. D. L. Greenfield will assist Rev. J. M. Gill in Washington tomorrow.

The usual services will be held at Christ M. P. church. Rev. Dr. F. T. Tagg will fill the pulpit at morning and evening service.

THE GUNNING SEASON is now here, and the attention of sportsmen is called to the law against trespass. There is no excuse whatever for gunners going upon lands without the invitation of the owners or tenants, and especially where the said owners or tenants have advertised against such trespass. Heavy penalties are imposed for the violation of this law. Attention is called to a number of caution notices in another column.
