MARYLAND SPLITS EVEN

Three Republicans and Three Democrats.

The winners of the Congressional election in Maryland were as follows:

First District—William H. Jackson, Rep., by 2,400 plurality.

Second—J. F. C. Talbott, Dem., by 1,554 plurality.

Third—Harry B. Wolf, Dem., by 676 plurality.

Fourth—John Gill, Jr., Dem., by 1 736 plurality.

Fifth—Sydney E. Mudd, Rep., by 1,658 plurality.

Sixth—George A. Pearre, Rep., by 4,500 plurality.

The delegation will therefore be evenly divided, as it is in the present Congress, the Democratic gain in the Third district being offset by the Republican gain in the First.

Elliott, for judge carried Baltimore city by 713 plurality.

Charles E. Hughes, Republican, was elected Governor of New York over William Randolph Hearst, Democrat and Independence League candidate, by a plurality of from 40,000 to 60,000, as against 80,508 for Higgins, Republican, two years ago.

Hearst carried Greater New York city, by a plurality estimated at 80,000, but his claim that he would divide the rest of the State evenly with Hughes was not justified, although he made gains over the Democratic candidate two years ago.

P. J. McCarren's fight against Hearst in Brooklyn, while not successful in carrying the borough for Hughes, cut the Democratic plurality down to about 4,000, as against 13,460 for Herrick, Dem., two years ago.

Industrial centers up the State stood by Hearst. Buffalo gave him a bare plurality —30—which was a gain over 1904 of 2,118.

Elmira gave a Hearst plurality of 693, a net Republican loss of 1,008 over 1904. Congress is still Republican, an estimate based on late returns making the majority in the House 60 to 70, as against 112 in the Fifty-ninth Congress.

There were no great surprises, most of the well-known figures in the House who stood for re-election being returned.

These include Representatives Cannon of Illinois; Dalzell, of Pennsylvania; Longworth, of Ohio; Slemp, of Virginia; John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, and Sherman, of New York.

FIRST DISTRICT

Hon. Thos. A. Smith Defeated by Jackson's Barrel—Money Wins Over Brains.

The result in this District is to be regretted as it places a premium upon money and gives to the intelligent and ambitious poor man a blow which helps to make his position in life uneasy and goes far towards engendering an unkind feeling toward the men of means. The vote is as follows:

NICHOLAS LONGWORTH WINS.

Cincinnati, Nov. 6.—A heavy vote was polled in Cincinnati and Hamilton county today. Returns received at 9 o'clock from 28 precincts in the First Congressional district, now represented by Nicholas Longworth, show Longworth, Rep., 3,396; Bentham, Dem., 2,489, thus indicating Longworth's re-election by a majority much reduced from what he had two years ago.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

Mr. Willard Melvin died at his home on College Hill Saturday evening after a long illness, aged 68 years. About two years ago he was stricken with paralysis and since then he has spent his days within the confines of his home circle never complaining but always evidencing that cheerful spirit which characterized his life. The deceased for many years traveled for the Singer Sewing Machine Co., but retired from arduous task to become deputy register of Wills, then deputy clerk of the circuit court and a justice of the peace. He was an ardent Democrat and took an active interest in the success of the party.

He was a faithful member of Christ Methodist Protestant church and here he found his greatest pleasure. For many years he had charge of the singing and was efficient and especially successful in securing singers from among the young. Mr. Melvin was a good man; of the beauty and nobilty of his private character it is difficult for those who knew him well to speak in terms of moderation. There were none, indeed, so blind in spirit or so dull of heart who could come into his kindly presence without feeling the elevating influence of a nature whose first principle was love and benevolence toward all living things—a nature which was based upon an inborn Golden Rule of life, not reluctantly or as a duty, but freely and gladly, as if generosity and kindness were the highest privileye and pleasure—an essential part of his very existence itself, without which nothing would have been worth while to him. To most of us who live on the levels or in the valleys the sermon on the Mount speaks from afar only as an echo; Willard Melvin lived on the beautiful heights from which that divine message came, and his natural atmosphere was that in which those words of peace and love were breathed. A soul made veritably in God's image looked out through loving eyes upon the world, seeking always and everywhere to add to the comfort and happiness of all with whom he came in contact. He was beloved by all who knew him; it can be truly said "Well done, good and faithful servant, enter into the joys of our Lord."

He is survived by a widow, also two brothers and two sisters: Prof. Milton Melvin, superintendent of public schools in Kent, Mr. Fletcher Melvin, Mrs. Wm. S. Culp and Mrs. D. B. Stewart, of Baltimore. Funeral services were held on Monday afternoon at Christ Church conducted by Rev. D. L. Greenfield; interment in Chester cemetery. The pall bearers were: Profs. J. R. Micou, E. J. Clarke and J. S. W. Jones, of Washington College, Fred G. Usilton, J. D. Bacchus and M. deK. Smith. Undertaker John N. Dodd had charge of funeral arrangements.

Mrs. Mary A. T. Webb, widow of George R. Webb, died early Friday morning at her home, 1429 Bolton Street, Baltimore, after an illness of a year. Mrs. Webb was a daughter of Mrs. Sallie H. Wilmer, of Baltimore, and of the late John W. Wilmer. Her mother and a sister, Miss Sallie Wilmer, survive her and she leaves two children—Mary and Wilmer Webb. Her remains were interred at Centreville on Monday afternoon, Revs. Fred. Klein and F. T. Benson, of the M. P. Church, officiating.

Ethel A., the eleven months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Meekins died at their home in Worton on Saturday evening of bronchitis. Funeral and interment took place at Union on Monday afternoon. Undertaker W. H. Krusen had charge of arrangements.

The eight-months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Cohen, of Sandy Bottom, died on Saturday. The remains were taken to Baltimore for burial.

MYERS CAUGHT IN CAMDEN.

William Myers, aged 24 years, of Kent county, accused of causing the death of his father, Frank Myers, on October 4, was arrested Monday at the farm of Walter Ward, at Audubon, four miles from Camden, by Deputy Sheriff Startt. He was carried to the Camden County Jail to await requisition from Governor Warfield, of Maryland.

Myers, when taken into custody, admitted his identity, and confessed that he had beaten his aged parent with a club, but did not know that he was dead. Myers said that he and his father quarreled at their home. He struck the aged man so vigorously with a club that the latter fell across a tub. By the fall one of the elder Myers' ribs was fractured and this punctured a lung, resulting in his death.

The quarrel and the assault, it is alleged, were caused by the elder Myers, who found fault with his son for marrying a girl of whom he disapproved. The girl was Margaret Johnson. She, it is alleged, also struck the father, and is now in the Kent county jail.

Deputy Sheriff Startt said that the clue that led to the arrest of Myers was obtained through letters written by Myers to his wife under the name of William H. Thomas. These were addressed to Mrs. Myers as Maggie Johnson, her maiden name.

Myers did not know that his wife was under arrest, and the communication fell into the hands of the authorities. He told her he had a good position, and had one for her, and that he would meet her on the wharf on the arrival of the Baltimore boat. Deputy Sheriff Startt came instead of the wife.

A "Seven Cent Supper."—A novel church supper takes the form of a "Seven Cent Sale." Seven cents a single course is the price, or the four courses for twenty-seven cents. The invitation will explain the sale:

On the seventh instant, without fail
Will be held the annual seven cent sale
By the —— Church, of ————
With high and heavenly ardor filled.

The door of the "Town Hall" is wide,
And for seven cents you may go inside,
And every luckiest seventh one
May go in free and see the fun.

There'll be a "Black Bird Pie" piled up high,
And seven round cents your choice can buy;
For seven cents you can buy such cake
As your mother herself never dared to make

You can eat ice cream for seven cents,
So good you'll forget all about expense,
And of handkerchiefs you'll find a feast
At prices that end in seven at least.

So remember, every one, I pray,
At the usual hour on the seventh day
Of this present month, come wet or dry,
Please gather to laugh, and talk, and buy.
