The Better BUICK

Starts easily — Buick motor cars are designed to run efficiently in every temperature, and under every climatic condition. Buicks start quickly, even at zero. The new, high-speed starting motor accomplishes this most desirable result.

Runs smoothly — Buick Automatic Heat Control reduces another cold-weather starting annoyance—that of bucking, spitting, misfiring engines. The exclusive Buick feature heats the fuel supply, and saves gasoline, automatically and immediately.

Stops safely — In rain, snow or sleet Buick mechanical 4-wheel brakes stop the car firmly in a straight line. Neither heat nor cold affects the direct mechanical action of these brakes. There is no liquid in them to expand, contract or leak away.

and the Buick engine is full-pressure lubricated — The Buick engine is full-pressure lubricated. Every part gets a flood of oil as soon as the engine starts, every day in the year. An emergency feed tube siphons oil to the pump, even though the cold has congealed the oil around the pump screen.

MUSKRAT SEASON OPENED ON FRIDAY

Friday was the opening day of the muskrat trapping season. Owing to the high prices at which the fur of these little animals has been sold in recent years there has been a great temptation to violate the law, with the result that heavy penalties have been imposed upon some of those who failed to observe its provisions. While the law may seem severe it is necessary for the preservation of this game.

That part of the State statues relating to the killing or catching of muskrats provides that no person or persons shall shoot or in any manner kill or catch, except by gigging or trapping any muskrat or otter, and it shall be unlawful for any person in Maryland to dig into or in any manner molest or destroy the roof or any part of a muskrat house or den. And it shall further be unlawful for any person or corporation to have within his or its possession any muskrat hide or skin that has been shot or killed in any other manner except by trapping or giging, and any muskrat perforated with small holes shall be prima facia evidence that itw as shot.

The muskrat is an ayuatic rodent that lives in the banks of rivers creeks, or other bodies of water, or in houses made of mud or grass that it builds on the marsh. It yields a valuable fur, which, as an article of commerce, is generally in good demand.

These little animals subsist on the roots of grass they find in the marshes, and are noted for their cleanliness, as they wash the roots before eating them. After the hide has been removed the 'meat' is not unpalatable for food and usually sells at a profitable price. For many years under the enticing name of "marsh rabbit" it has been served as a luxurp in hotels restaurants, and on the tables of private homes.

One of the most usual methods of catching muskrats is to have traps placed at the bottom of the "lead" that he traverses in going from the creek to his home in the bank or on the marsh. This industry requires but little capital and the open season occurs at a time when farmers and others living in the country have leisure time and as a result many engage in this business and derive therefrom quite a handsome income.

The buyers started buying Saturday at from $1 to $1.15.

Morgan K. Bennett and Harry Lusby advertise in the News today for hides.

EXPENSIVE SPORT

About the middle of December a party of young men from Baltimore came to Scarboro on a hunting trip. Evidently they liked the work of Harford county dogs for when they left the neighborhood two or more hunting dogs also disappeared. Their owners followed the matter up one gentleman recovering his dog but Mr. Emmett Scarborough was less fortunate and his faithful beagle could not be located. On Monday the matter was brought to a head before Justice Williams, a large number of witnesses being on hand. The matter was disposed of by the Baltimoreans paying Mr. Scarborough $50 for his dog and the warrants against them being withdrawn.—Bel Air Aegis.

GETTING UP NIGHTS

Is One of Nature's Danger Signals. A Health Bladder Does Not Act At Night.

Irritation, excessive acidity or abnormal deposits may be the cause. It needs cleansing. Lithiated Buchu (Kellar Formula) acts on the kidneys and bladder as Epsom Salts on the bowels. R. D. Neblett, 10 Oak S. Battle Creek, Mich., says: "For three years had to get up three nights at night. Lithiated Buchu (Kellar Formula) helped me in two days. I now do heavy work." It isn't a patent medicine. The formula is on the label. Sold by leading drug stores or Kellar Laboratory, Mechanicsburg Ohio. Advt

A New Years Resolution "Dress Well and Succeed"

Win or lose is in the clothes you choose—the observer's mind only receives what his eye perceives—You are taken up or thrown down by your appearance.

If you want the plums of life instead of the pits, "Dress Well and Succeed"—It's the Spirit of the age,

This is 1926 and America—America where fortunes are handed down with coats-of-arms, but are piled up by the arms-in-the-coat.

Win or lose is largely in the clothes you choose; in gaining the respect of others through the respect you show for yourself—
