The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, brick-dust or sediment in the urine, head ache, back ache, lame back, dizziness, sleeplessness, nervousness, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and better health in that organ is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. Swamp-Root corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. A trial will convince anyone.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.

Does A Boy Or A Girl Get More Out Of A Vacation?

Vacations are just now ending, and folks are getting home, unpacking their trunks and taking the covers off the furniture. By a look at the state of the pocketbook and the bank account they can get an idea how much of a hole vacation expenses made in the family purse. They can also figure up the distance between the pleasure they paid for and the pleasure they got; and they find that the things which produced the most fun probably cost the least, while the expensive "pleasure exertions" didn't pan out as jovously as they expected.

Who gets the most fun out of a vacation? Who gets the most for his time and the most for his money? And in every family the question recurs, Which costs more, a boy or a girl? Out in Kansas this question is causing a joint debate that threatens to involve the whole State. The Hiawatha World says:

"Divide $500 between a boy and a girl, and start them on a vacation with it, and the girl will go twice as far, see 10 times as much, and come home with new clothes and money in her purse. But the boy will be dead broke and will have seen less."

On the other hand the Topeka Capital thinks woman is far the more extravagant and makes this declaration:

"The woman on a trip spends $2 to the man's $1 in nearly every case. Ask any Topeka man whose wife has been away from home to spend the summer, and he will tell the story in full."

This is going at it "pretty brash," as they say in Arkansas. But Adam must have complained of Eve's extravagance from the first time the fall styles in fig leaves changed and upbraided her for going out and bringing home expensive apples when they could keep house very well without them.

This holding up the girl as a model of economy is not fair to the boy. For the boy has to pay his way half the time and pay the way of some girl, too. When a girl is spending her own money she is the most economical thing on the face of the earth, but she expects her boy friend to lavish his wealth on her like a prince. Why shouldn't she save money when she doesn't have to pay for buggy rides, rowboats, automobile trips, candies, flowers, soda water and ice-cream—when the boy gets all the theatre tickets, pays all the tips to waiters and cabmen and looks after the baggage? What else is there to spend money for, except clothes? If a boy could visit around at one house after another and have some one to take him everywhere and pay his way, he could come back with a roll of bills as big as your arm. Everybody knows that, next to an automobile, a girl is one of the most expensive of luxuries. And while a boy is not cheap, he is not that costly.

Don't the boys spend most of their money in giving the girls a good time? Do the girls deserve any credit for saving their vacation cash when they are making the boys spend their money?—Sun.

TEACHER AND PARENT

Should Act Together For Best Results From The Pupil.

No one except yourself has so great an interest in your child as his teacher, that is, if she is the right kind. She will cheerfully give her best efforts toward making a good citizen or a noble woman out of your little one, with your help.

You have a single aim, why not cooperate? You can do so in many little ways, which may at the time seem trivial, but which go far toward making a successful maturity or just the reverse. Encourage him to commit the recitation that the teacher has given him to learn, even though it may not seem to you suited to him. There are many entitled to equal consideration with your child, and the teacher is only human, with human limitation. You may consider drawing maps a waste of time, but he is doing more than drawing meaningless lines. He is acquiring precision, application, observation, accuracy and geographical knowledge. Do not unkindly criticise the teacher in his presence, however much she may deserve criticism. It lessens her influence over him and gives him one less incentive to chivalrous habit of thought. Believe what your truthful child tells you of his school, but be willing also to listen to the other side of the story, and at least give the teacher credit for right motives until proven otherwise. In operation with the teacher the mother teaches the child consideration for others and helps to know that liberty must not be abused. Teach him to keep his hands clean, and to be careful in the treatment of books even though they may be school books, also to be rigidly honest as regards the possessions of others—that taking even such small things as pencils or blotters without leave is in a small way stealing, and for his own health's sake positively forbid putting pencil points in his mouth, or drinking from the same cup or glass of another child until he has rinsed the article. Keep the child at home until he has a little more than time to reach the schoolhouse in time for the last bell, and insist on his immediate return home when the school closes, even though you may allow him to go elsewhere afterwards. Almost any teacher will tell you that the corruption of morals in the private or public schools is among the children whose parents are lax on these points, and that destruction of property may be also invariably laid to the same children who are sent off early to get them out of the way.

A Novel Sale Bill.—The NEWS has been called upon for many sale bills, but the following is the most novel of our experience. The sale is announced to take place at Alexander B. Nichols' store, in Melitota, and the bill reads as follows:

I, REV. J. W. BROWN, now upon the confines of time and will soon be summoned to the place of blessedness prepared for the people of God. I have many useful things which I am too old to make use of and will be of much use to others after I am gone to rest which will be soon. Many useful indoors and outdoors, too. Many articles and things you never used and saw. Over $100 worth of real useful and good books; cost about $900. Many of them I will give away to help others on, in both soul and body. Also a lot of good winter clothing; cloth of overcoat at half the value. I mean to sell to the poor—that is loaning to the Lord. The date of sale is Saturday, October 2nd, 1909, at 2 o'clock p. m.

It Costs Little to Be Well Dressed
If You Deal
At Baltimore's Best Store

Baltimore's Best Store is everybody's store—it has merchandise to suit every taste, at prices to fit every purse.

But—and this is important—this store sells nothing that cannot be guaranteed—no inferior merchandise finds a place in its stocks.

To show how little it will cost the average woman to be well dressed from head to foot, we mention:

H. K. & CO. Trimmed Hats at $5 00

In every wanted color—reflections of the very latest Parisian models. In style, material and trimmings, they equal the usual $10 or $15 Hats.

H. K. & CO. Tailored Suits at $15.00

In the popular long coat models (the coats are 42 to 45 inches in length) with pleated skirts in newest effects.

Materials include hard-finish worsteds, homespuns, plain and herringbone serges and broadcloths, in every wanted shade.

These suits are perfectly tailored, the coats are satin lined, and every detail shows them to be worth fully $5.00 more than their price.

H. K. & CO. Montford Gloves at $1.00

Made especially for us, from selected skins, doubly inspected—by the maker and by our own experts. In colors, white and black. H. K. & Co. Mocha and Cape Gloves at the same price.

H. K. & CO. Special Shoes at $3.50

So good that they rival the usual $4.00 and $5.00 shoes. Made of best materials throughout—not a scrap of "composition" is used in their manufacture. In every wanted black or tan leather, all sizes and widths, and twenty styles from which to choose.

Our Mail Order Department is equipped to give prompt and accurate service.
Samples of Silks, Dress Goods, Wash Fabrics and so on will be cheerfully sent if you will write for them.
Ladies' Home Journal Patterns 10c and 15c. Write for a copy of the Monthly Style Book—it's free.
