Below are found several of the favorite recipes of good housewives who read the NEWS. Other ladies in town and country are invited to join the circle and send in their "best." Paste these in your cook book

Old Fashioned Gingerbread.

Two cups of the best New Orleans molasses, one cup of hot water, scant half cup of melted butter, heaping teaspoon of soda, little ginger and salt. Mix soft as possible; roll out an inch thick; bake quickly.—Mrs. D.

Washington Breakfast Bread.

Three pints of flour, two eggs, one pint of milk (war), small teacup of yeast, quarter of a pound of butter. Let it rise very light. Bake in Turk's cap or other pan.—Mrs. D.

Molasses Candy.

Two cups of molasses, one cup of sugar; put enough water in the sugar to melt it. Let it boil until quite thick, then add the molasses; when nearly done butter the size of a large walnut; just before pouring it out, put in a teaspoonful of soda. Pour out in buttered tins until cool enough to work over a hot stove.—Mrs. H.

Brown Stewed Chicken.

A young chicken, cut up and put in a frying pan, and covered with water. Let it get tender; pour off the water and keep it for the gravy. Put a large piece of lard in the pan, and let the chicken brown nicely; then pour the chicken-water in the pan, and thicken to taste; then take two hard boiled eggs, chopped up fine and put in the gravy. Pour in a warm dish and serve while hot.—Mrs. H.

Milk Fritters.

Take one cup of milk; let boil and thicken with flour about like starch; let it cool, then add two eggs, one cup of milk, and enough flour to make it like cake batter; one teaspoonful of baking powder. Cook in hot lard.—Mrs. H.

Clabber Muffins.

One quart of clabber, half teaspoonful of soda, a piece of lard the size of an egg, four eggs beaten separately.—Mrs. S.

JERSEY 'SQUIRE MAKES HENS SIFT THE ASHES

Gives Corn With Cinders and Dust and the Chickens Make Dust Fly—Then They Lay Eggs in a Snowbank.

Cedar Grove, N. J., Jan.—It is neighborhood record that Squire Hezekiah Baldwin is a saving man, even according to standards set by the most frugal Jersevite. It has always been an economic problem with him whether the energy spent in sifting ashes paid for the usable coal left after the cinders had been dispersed. This problem with him has been to get the good coals without expending the energy. (Note—Squire Baldwin sifts his own ashes.)

Now Squire Baldwin has a flock of hooded Brahmins which lay like automatic egg mills when the going is good in summer, but in winter they eat their heads off and don't produce. He cuddled up to an idea recently and tried it on the hens yesterday. The visible evidence of the experiment was noted by Squire Baldwin's neighbors. They attest to seeing a cloud of dust rising above his domain on Ridge road. They investigated and found his brood of Brahmins raising ructions on the ash heap in search of corn which Squire Baldwin had mixed adroitly with the ashes. The energy of the hens scattered the ashes and cinders, leaving the partly turned coals, which Mrs. Baldwin can use to excellent advantage in her kitchen range.

The best of the experiment is yet to come. The hens worked up so much energy that they were moved to lay eggs. They made for themselves nests in the softest places at hand, the snowbanks, and filled the nests with the biggest harvest of eggs that Squire Baldwin has gathered since last June. Neighbors who counted the harvest will give their dames and addresses to skeptics.

Now Squire Baldwin, famed for veracity, is in a quandary how to classify the eggs in offering them to the market. He is ready to guarantee that they are not more than a day old. On the other hand, the first abode of the eggs was in snowbanks and technically speaking, they are cold-storage eggs.

Resigned.—Mr. Bruce Massey has severed his connection with the Millington Bank, having resigned as a director last Saturday.

Mr. M. Tingle, who formerly represented the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company at Millington, has resigned his position to accept the principalship of a school at Frankford, Del. The vacancy occasioned by his leaving has been filled by the appointment of Mr. Earle West.

COLD WINTERS.

In 1269 the entire width of the Baltic sea was crossed by sledge. In 1339 a great many persons were frozen to death in England. In 1409 the Danube was frozen up from her source to the estuary in the Black sea. In 1469 all vines in France were killed by frost. In 1609 and 1639 the ports of Marseilles was frozen over, and there was great suffering and distress. In 1709 France was icebound from north to south, the ice extending for miles seaward. Birds and animals died of cold.

HORSE TRADING TROUBLES.

A prominent citizen remarked in the NEWS office this week that there should certainly be a law against trading horses because of the many law suits resulting therefrom. And what would become of the lawyer?

The latest "trade" is told in the following lines: William Faulkner, a young white man of Chestertown, was sent by liveryman W. T. H. Whiteley down to Tolchester farm to trade "Browney" for Mr. Percy T. Hendrickson's "Dewey." Mr. H. refused to trade for Dewey but did swap for "a one-eye bay mare." Upon returning to Mr. Whiteley he refused to take the mare as he said he had instructed Mr. Faulkner to trade for no other than Dewey. This was Dec. 24th. Mr. Whiteley meets Mr. H. Xmas week and tells him he has a horse belonging to him and that Mr. Faulkner had no busines to trade for any other horse than Dewey. Mr. H. says he did not know Mr. Whiteley in the deal and that he would have to prove property before he could surrender it. A writ of replevy was finally issued by Justice Crawford and Constable Lockerman went to Tolchester Jan. 8th for Browney but horse was not home. Monday another trip was made and the horse was reported sold to a negro named Grinnell for $35. The horse "Brownie" was finally recovered, brought to town and placed in McWhorter's livery. A hearing was had before Justice Crawford and judgment entered in favor of Mr. Whiteley. Mr. Hendrickson noted an appeal. S. Scott Beck, Esq., for plaintiff; H. W. Vickers, Jr., Esq., for defendant. Mr. Whiteley took "Brownie" to his stables and turned the "one eye bay mare" in Tolchester farm lawn.

January 15 the colored man Grinnell replevied "Brownie" claiming to have bought him from Mr. H. A hearing was held before Justice Burgess, of Edesville, and judgment entered for plaintiff. Mr. Whiteley noted an appeal. Grinnell takes the horse leaving Mr. W. minus a horse! Messrs. Beck and Vickers were the lawyers in this latter case. It is said that both horses mentioned in the above cases were worth about $50.

FAVOR JIM CROW DOLLS.

The congregation of St. James' A. M. P. Church, Wilmington, last week, decided that colored mothers must purchase black dolls for their children There was a lively debate on the question whether colored children should play with and fonale white dolls the same as white children, or use black dolls, as a matter of race pride. George W. Benson, of Wilmington, and Rev. R. T. Pennington, of Mills Colored Mission presented the opposing views, after which the congregation voted for black dolls.

The congregation also came to the conclusion that in Heaven negros would still be black and that they had better stick to their own color while on earth.

HOW TO CURE RHEUMATISM.

It Is an Internal Disease And Requires an Internal Remedy.

The cause of Rheumatism and kindred diseases is an excess of uric acid in the blood. To cure this terrible disease this acid must be expelled and the system so regulated that no more acid will be formed in excessive quantities. Rheumatism is an internal disease and requires an internal remedy. Rubbing in Oils and Liniment will not cure, affords only temporary relief at best, causes you to delay the proper treatment, allows the malady to get a firmer hold on you. Liniments may ease the pain, but they will no more cure Rheumatsim than paint will change the fibre of rotten wood.

Science has at least discovered a perfect and complete cure, which is called "Rhumacide." Tested in hundreds of cases, it has affected the most marvelous cures; we believe it will cure you. Rheumacide "gets at the joints from the inside," sweeps the poison out of the system, tones up the stomach, regulates the liver and kidneys and makes you well all over. Rheumacide "strikes the root of the disease and removes its cause." This splendid remedy is sold by druggists and dealers generally at 50c and $1 a bottle. In tablet form at 25 and 50c a package. Get a bottle to-day. Booklet free if you write to Bobbitt Chemical Co., Baltimore, Md. Trial bottle tablets 25c by mail. 15Jan4m.
