RABBITS HEALTHY

Rabbits will be plentiful and free of tularemia when the shooting season opens November 11, E. Lee LeCompte, State Game Warden, said yesterday.

The presence of the disease during the 1928 seasen and the repeated warnings of health officials against the handling and eating of rabbits protected them from hunters and allowed them to increase. The animals will be rid of tuaremia this season because the disease appears at intervals of six or seven years and lasts only one year, Mr. LeCompte explained.

The disease, which scientists declared to be new malady and gave it the name of tularemia, is an old one, according to Mr. LeCompte, who said it has been known in Maryland for more than sixty years.

He said he had known of the infection since his boyhood and has, thru old physicians in the State, been able to trace it back before that time, when it was treated by physicians who did not attempt to name it.

This winter, Mr. LeCompte added, the rabbits in Maryland will be free of all signs of the infection and by the time the hunting season opens the animals may be handled by hunters without danger of contracting the malady.

FOOTBALL

President Gil of Mexico after witnessing a game of American football between two Mexican teams coached by erperts from above the Rio Grande expressed his hearty approbation.

"Americans," he observed, "must encourage this sport so they will not then have revolutions. It contains marvelous lessons for Mexican youth, teaching valor, self-control and cooperation:"

And the Mexican president is right. There are two countries in which university students have always been keen for sports, Great Britain and America, and those two countries have been singularly free from revolutions. More noticeable still is the fact that in these two countries political riots among the students are practically unknown. In nearly all other countries the students seem to watch the government for a chance to make trouble.

Good scrappy games with mass enthusiasm over them are good for these large groups of young men full of animal spirits. Such sports make good fighters but poor revolutionists. Thorough football young men get a small taste of war just as vaccinated ptrsons get a small taste of smallpox, and are healthier and more normal afterwards.

Also, this is the year many men are discovering that their vest no longer matches their suit.

USED CARS

of many makes are traded in for the New Ford

Some people think we accept nothing but used Fords for trade-ins when selling the Model A. That is a wrong impression. Cars of many makes are traded in for the new Ford—some low priced and some not so low—and many of them are unusual bargains in unused transportation.

There is a definite reason why we can offer you extra value in these used cars. The value of the new Ford is so high and the cost so low, that excessive trade-in concessions on buyers' used cars are not possible. In other words, we set the trade-in figure at just what the used car is worth.

This means that when we offer a used car for sale, there is no "padding" the price to take care of an unreasonable trade-in allowance. Our used-car department is based on a spirit of fair-dealing . . . fair-dealing with the first owner who makes the trade-in, and the second owner who buys the unused mileage.

Model T Fords are reconditioned, and carry a guarantee. Other makes are priced strictly according to the unused transportation in them. Come in today and some of the bargains we are in a position to offer.
