PUBLISHERS AND EDITORS.

SATURDAY, MAY 7, 1910.

THE indications are that Mr. Isaac Gibbs, Jr., will be named by Gov. Crothers as road engineer for Kent county.

DON'T forget to clean up your yards on or before May 17th and 18th. On these days the town wagon will haul away all ashes, etc., free. Let's everyone clean house and yards.

THERE is an air of compromise all about us. Even the railroad cases removed here from Havre de Grace and which have been in the Courts for months have been settled. The Shaw and Brown cases also as noted elsewhere have been settled out of court.

DON'T be a growler and a grumbler. Leave this for the animals of the jungle. The world moved along as usual before you were born and will do the same after you are buried. Encourage good things and frown down the evil.

THE comet was seen at 3.30 A. M. yesterday by Mr. Jas. W. Crouch, the industrious teller of the Chestertown Bank of Md. Mr. Robert G. Nicholson also has seen it, but our friend, Mr. Harry L. Boyd, has failed to discover it after getting up early several mornings and catching a bad cold.

WE would call the attention of our readers to a lot of fakirs going through this section, humbugging the people by offering them what is supposed to be smuggled cloth and a lot of other merchadise. The best way for our readers to do is to patronize home merchants. They are the ones who help pay taxes, help the churches and schools and who are always ready to correct mistakes, so take our advice, shun the peddlers—they are never reliable.

THE Board of Public Works unanimously elected Mr. J. Duke Downes, of Caroline county, State Banking Commissioner to administer the banking law passed by the last Legislature. Mr. Downes has been State bank examiner for a number of years and because of his familiarity with State banks his friends believe that he is eminently qualified to fill the new position. The position pays $3,000 a year. The board will elect Mr. Downes' successor as State Bank Examiner at its next meeting, May 16.

TOMORROW will be recognized as "Mother's Day" throughout this State and Union.

Let us think of our mothers. Is her body resting under the sod in your cemetery? Visit her tomb before the close of the day, if possible, and make the mound fragrant and beautiful with flowers. With grateful hearts think of her many kindnesses and sacrifices, and then look up towards the skies, where she is waiting for you, and determine to so live the Christ life she taught you to live, that you, too, may enter into the beautiful gate into the eternal life.

Is she still living in the flesh? Is she today where you can reach her? Don't let the shadows of night creep about us before you stand in her presence. Her hair may be silvered, and her face may be wrinkled—a pure white soul is ripening for the garner of God. Kiss the lips that sung lullabys to you when you nestled a helpless infant on her bosom. With affectionate pressure take the hands in yours that ministered to your childhood with unselfish and untiring devotion. Whisper into her ears words of love and gratitude, and a great joy will come into her heart that nothing else could bestow.

A mother never forgets her child. The son may be a drunkard, or a criminal, and the daughter may be a castaway, but the guiltiest head may pillow itself upon a mother's bosom.

Oldest Horse in United States.

Chestertown, Md., lays claim to the oldest living horse in the United States. Yesterday (May 6, 1910) he rounded out his full 41 years and started on his 42d year, in full health, fine condition, unblemished limbs—and colt-actions for a short period after being harnessed—and well able to perform light service. His only defect is—not sure-footed.

Stonewall, his first name, was foaled May 6, 1869, his owner being Mr. Thos. Vandyke, of near Cecilton, Cecil county, Md. On the very day he was 6 years old Mr. Vandyke, being a great admirer of the late Hon. Samuel J. Tilden, who was nominated for President of the United States on that date, blotted out the name of Stonewall in his stud book and substituted Samuel J. Tilden. After the death of Mr. Vandyke the horse was sold at his vendue and bought by Thos. Broxon, Esq., and later by his present owner, Joseph Guest. Our present Governor, Hon. Austin L. Crothers, has known the horse since the early eighties and he was called an old horse then, and has rode behind him.

On April 19, 1910, Mr. Enoch King, of Millington, Kent county, Md., called to take a look at the old horse. He said: "I am 48 years old. My father lived on the Thos. Vandyke farm, and as a boy I often drove up this old horse with the others."

THE Merchants and Manufacturers' Association has urged the Public Utilities Commission to investigate the alleged discrimination against Baltimore by the steamboat companies connecting with the Eastern Shore.
