Derrick boats and tugs were sent from Baltimore.

The barges are grounded broadside across the waterway about 2,000 feet east of the St. George's bridge. They were in tow of the tug Hilton, formerly the Hopewell when they grounded.

SHORE FARMERS VISIT NEW YORK

Last week a group of Del-Mar-Va farmers made a two-day tour to New York City markets, arranged by the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Kent county was represented by B. F. Rash, Stanley B. Sutton, and J. D. McVean. The trip was most interesting and educational. It was pointed out that over 1800 car loads of food stuffs per day are required to feed the population, which averages close to 20,000 people per square mile. The facilities for handling the enormous quantities of food stuffs seem very complicated to a layman.

Such trips reveal in unmistakable terms the fact that high quality products are required and they must be attractively packed if they are to bring top prices. The value of organization in insuring large volume of standard quality products and highly attractivepacking is very noticeable. Visits were made to the Pennsylvania Produce Terminal Piers where 725 carloads may be unloaded at one time and placed on display ready for inspection by prospective buyers. The cars are unloaded and arranged during the night. After examination by buyers, auction sales are held for the disposal of the accumulation of the perishables.

Mr. George Dallas, of the Railway Express Company guided the party on the tour. In addition to the vegetable and fruit auction, visits were made to the Fulton Street Fish markets, the Merchants Refrigerating Company, H. Brenner and Son, who handle "near-by" eggs. The Pacific Egg Producers headquarters were visited and the grades and treatment of the far West eggs were explained.

A sight-seeing trip around New York Harbor was most interesting and enjoyable and most welcome after the strenuous efforts incident to the above visits.

The second day began with a trip to Long Island and a visit to a Wall-about Market, a visit to the Sunnyside railway express terminal, with its wonderfully complete equipment for prompt and accurate handling of all types of express material. The Orchard Street Push Cart Market on the East Side, densely inhabited by poor people was interesting but distressing. Everything imaginable is sold from push carts. It was interesting to note that eggs, bananas, tomatoes, etc., were priced as single units rather than by dozen or pound. It is claimed that 2,000,000 people live in an area one mile square. The United States appraisers stores were visited, here all imports entering this Port are appraised and duty is set. Over a million dollars a day duty on the average, is collected here and highly skilled Scientists, with wonderfully equipped laboratories determine the correct status of import material. They expose expert trickery in attempts to evade payment of duty.

Although the weather was hot, the whole group was very enthusiastic over the trip and expressed their satisfaction to the Pennsylvania Railway Officials for arranging such an instructive and entertaining itinerary.

RAM SHOW AND SALE

Everything has been made ready for the Fifth Annual Ram Show and Sale to be held in Centreville on Tuesday, July 28th. This event will be staged under the trees on the Court House Lawn, as usual. The following pure bred sheep, flocks will be represented in the consignment: Pioneer Point Farms, Centreville, 7 Hampshires; H. B. Rutton, Brighton, 7 Shropshires; S. O. Jones, Ellicott City, 1 Hampshire; C. M. Davidson, Stevensville, 1 Hampshire; St. Amour Company, Coatesville, Pa., 1 Hampshire; J. C. Pemey, White Plains, New York, 1 Hampshire; Belair Farms, Bowie, 5 Hampshires, and the University of Maryland, College Park 3 Hampshires.

This is the last show and sale in a series of five similar events held in Maryland during this summer. These sold for an average price of $12.75 per head. The list of rams at Centreville this year will be somewhat shorter than in former years due to the numbers that have been sold at other sales.

Every farmer and sheepman in this section of the Shore is urged to come to the show and sale. It will be a pleasure to see them judged and the ribbons placed on the best ones.
