ROCK HALL LOSE TO CECILTON

Rock Hall, of the Chesapeake Bay League, toppled from its perch as circuit leader Saturday when Cecilton beat out a 3-to-2 victory in a tilt which featured the return of Carey, who has been signed as utility pitcher by the Athletics.

He aided in losing the game for the visitors when, with Rock Hall leading, 2 to 1 in the eighth, Craig bunted and Carey, who had relieved Wright on the mound, threw wild over first.

B. Boulden, who had previously walked, came home on the play and Craig advanced to third, scoring when Jones successfully bunted down the third base line.

GALENA EARNS VICTORY

Superior hitting enabled Galena to beat out a 7-to-5 win over Kennedyville in a seven-inning game, the visitors spilling three homers during the tilt.

The first inning Jones heaved a circuit clout over the center-field fence with Betz on first. Betz came thru with a homer in the second after Earle Coleman had singled. Jones came thru with another in the fourth.

Kennedyville earned three of its runs in the initial frame when Hurlock hit a home run with Archibald and Olige on bases.

CHURCH HILL ON TOP

Church Hill defeated Millington, 10 to 4, after the visitors had used two pitchers in an effort to stem the tide.

With two out in the sixth, the home club garnered five hits off Moore and Vodvarka was sent in to relieve him.

In the third Hickman was out at second after a forced play after having singled. He was followed by W. Jarvis, who hit to second. Russell walked and Epstein was safe on an error by Newman.

Princeton's Famous Ivy

The first class ivy at Princeton was planted by the class of 1877 on its class day at its graduation in June, 1877, and the ceremony was accompanied by an oration, called then and since the ivy oration. The orator in 1877 stated that ivy had been chosen as a symbol of the perpetual remembrance the class would have of Princeton, striking deep, clinging close, and always green. The class of 1877 turned out to be one of the most remarkable classes in after years that Princeton has graduated. The first ivy was planted at the new library. Since then it has been planted at Nassau hall with a tablet naming the class. Some of the ivy has been historic, being brought specifically for the planting, one spray having been sent from the castle in Germany of William of Nassau, prince of Orange, after whom Nassau hall was named in 1756.

Origin of Tile

At the siege of Argos in the year 272 B. C., a tile fragment thrown from a housetop slew the battling king of Epirus. Thus tile played an important part in history.

Tile is one of the oldest building materials, having first been made in the remote ages of antiquity; yet, how many of us know just what tile actually is?

Tile is burned clay, or to be more specific, a carefully proportioned mixture of certain clays and other minerals, after being formed into the desired shape, is heated in a special furnace called a kiln until the particles become so hot that they partially melt and stick together. When cooled, tile, as firm and homogeneous as a piece of stone, results.

Charta's Highlights

The Magna Charta's most important articles are those which provide that no freeman shall be taken or imprisoned or proceeded against except by the lawful judgment of his peers or in accordance with the law of the land, and that no scutage or aid shall be imposed in the kingdom (except certain feudal dues from tenants of the crown) unless by the common council of the kingdom. The remaining and greater part of the charter is directed against abuses of the king's power as feudal superior.

Black Hills Traditions

The Black Hills of South Dakota are rich in tradition. It is the land where Sioux, Cheyenne, Crow, Arapahoe, Pawnee and Mandan Indians fought savagely for possession of a great hunting ground which they named Paha-Sapa, or the Mountains that are Black. Here are the medicinal springs, mini-pazhuta, which were believed to be the gift of the Great Spirit. These, too, were prized possessions which the Sioux eventually won and held until they relinquished them to the United States government by treaty in 1876.

Legal

A small boy sidled up to his famous lawyer father and asked:

"Dad, you don't charge for advice to members of the family, do you?"

"No," admitted his father. "Why do you ask?"

"Well," said the small son, "I wanted to find out, when you were a little boy like me and needed a dollar, what did you do?"

WORDS

Words never mean in truth, to me
As much as silent sympathy;
We see love in the kindly eye,
Words may desire to really try
To do an active wide spread part
The natural outcome of a heart
Filled full of tenderness, but good
Without one word is understood.
The grace of kindness exact
You find within the noble act.
The highest function love can lend
Is to be known as a true friend
When trials come, first to be there
Within the darkened room of care.
Words yes are good, but when distressed
We love the silent hand clasp best;
And when in bitter grief and woe
Heart-stirring-quietness doth show
Far more of love, than doth appear
In the assertions loud and clear
That fain would speak a word in season.
For silent smypathy holds reason,
Rational of motive; for a just cause
Speech truly should know when to pause.
Words happily hold authority—
But in the silence too we see
Something endued with wondrous sound
Ye know is sacred and profound.

CHILDREN GAIN IN WEIGHT

The first two weeks the Miracle House was open this season the fifty little children made a total gain of 45 pounds in weight. From now on it is expected the gain will be greater each week. The number of children now being cared for is over a hundred.

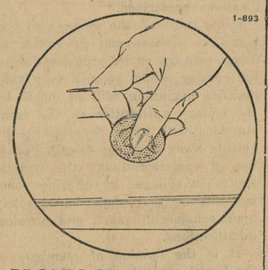
Curling Requires Skill

The game of curling is played on a rink marked out on the ice, with large, smooth stones to which handles are fixed. The stones weigh from 30 to 45 pounds. There are usually four players on a side or team. Each player uses two stones, which he slides along the ice toward a mark 42 yards distant. The object is for a player to lay his stones closer to the mark than those of his opponents. After all players have "curled" or played, the side having stones nearest the mark scores a point for each stone so placed. In Canada and the United States iron curlers are sometimes used in place of stones.

Strand of Hemp

A South American woman living in Paris sued a furniture mover for $4,000 alleging that while transferring her household goods he lost a bit of a hangman's noose which she esteems as a bringer of good luck. The superstition is ancient. When Haman was hanged on the gallows he built for Mordecai it is likely that there was rivalry among Ahasuerus' people for a strand of the rope Queen Esther diverted from its original purpose. Gilderoy was hanged on a gallows tree so high that his kite was immortalized in a saying which endures to this day, and the hemp must have been in demand.—New York Sun.

A ROUGH-EDGED COIN



PROVES THAT YEARS OF WEAR AND TEAR WON'T HARM THE BEAUTY OF FRIGIDAIRE PORCELAIN

The salesman who shows you the new, all white Porcelain-on-steel Frigidaire will rasp the rough edge of a half-dollar across its sparkling white front!

But don't be alarmed—the rough milled edge will not harm the lustre of Frigidaire Porcelain-on-steel in the slightest!

The demonstration is merely to show that the scrapes and scratches of years of wear and tear will leave the flawless beauty of Frigidaire untouched . . .

But the permanent beauty of Frigidaire Porcelain-on-steel, inside and out, is only one of 25 reasons why Frigidaire is the choice of so many thousands.
