THE People will have a say in their officials hereafter even admitting that they have not in the past.

THE farmers and business men of Chestertown have a fine chance to get an important industry. Meet at Court House next Tuesday and encourage the proposition.

MANY residents of Kent are urging Wm. W. Beck, Esq., to serve his county and party as a candidate for State Senate feeling that in him the party and county will have a worthy representative tied to no man and able to handle all questions of State. He is enjoying a fine practice at present and hesitates to sacrifice same, but it is believed that with the almost universal sentiment now prevailing he may consent to serve.

CARDINAL GIBBONS said in a recent sermon: "There is nothing more repulsive than the 'human icebergs' who wander through the world chilling those about them with their cold haughty demeanor. There are many 'icebergs' in the family circle, but it should not be so. Let your hearts be happy and let it be your aim to radiate joy among others. Be not, my dear friends, I beseech you again, 'human icebergs,' but be charitable and happy and do not chill those among whom you move and live."

DON'T "knock" your home town. If some things happen which do not suit you, be lenient and give and take a little. The worst enemy to a community is the fellow who goes around "knocking" his town and saying things ill of his home people. It shows a nasty disposition and the "knocker" is generally the fellow who has accomplished less for his community and who contributes less to its prosperity than any other man in the town. Don't brand yourself as a drone by "knocking" your home town.

GOV. CROTHERS in his address before the County Commissioners of the State endorsed the sentiment expressed in the NEWS last week, viz., "Economy" as the motto for the year 1911. He spoke for an hour on affairs of State and showed how by good legislation taxes might be reduced, etc. He congratulated the Commissioners upon the passage of a new assessment and said it was entirely due to them that it was enacted. A splendid dinner was served at the Rennert. Messrs. Harry Davis, Bradford Dudley, Benjamin Crew, Samuel Hicks and others attended from Kent.

IN another column will be found one of the most important acts in the history of the town Commissioners. They have passed an ordinance requiring a tuberculin test of cows from which milk is served to citizens of the town. Healthy cows will mean healthier people and when this test is enforced throughout the State and county tuberculosis will be very much lessened. To Dr. G. Allen Jarman is due much of the credit for the agitation of this question. The public generally should encourage the enforcement of this act.

A Mexican registered at the Arlington Hotel last week from whom the Observer elicited an interesting column.

"Win? Oh! yes a little," he said as he yawned over a Mexican cigarette and exposed a diamond scarf pin that would have made the big Johnson's eyes envious, "a cool twelve thousand." There was plenty of Jelleries money on the grounds. There are so so many fool gamblers who don't know when they're putting their money in the broncho that bucks. And there are some who are cow-punching out there yet. They haven't been able to save up enough of the cash they lost to hit the train back into the states.

"My trip East? Well I said to myself when I put my cash on Johnson, if this smoke licks the white man I'll take a good long trip East. Been here before? Never was further than Chi. West's good enough. How did I happen to get to Centreville? Well it was like this. I was in Baltimore and I had always heard a whole lot about the Eastern Shore. I hit Light street and the first place I heard mentioned was Centreville, so I hit the trail for Centreville, and here I am. Do I like it? Can't say that I do. Pretty place. But say, you couldn't chase up a game of more than a dollar limit if you hunted a week of Sundies. And tanglefoot. Why it's as scarce as cactus on a pool ball. No. Not for mine. I'll take the high places west of the big stream."

CHESTERVILLE M. E. CHURCH SOUTH.

A Great Lecture Entertainment will be given by Rev. F. H. Mullinaux of Kennedyville, on TUESDAY NIGHT, JANUARY 17th. He will appear in Oriental costume. There will also be a number of young men and women in costume worn in the Holy Land. Do not miss this instructive and entertaining lecture. Admission, Adults 20c. Children 10c. FAIRLEE NOTES.

"Prince," a valuable draught horse belonging to Mr. T. Barclay Kilbourn, is dead. Dr. Plummer diagnosed the case tetanus superinduced by some other trouble.

Mr. Lewin Skirven sent to Baltimore last Saturday some very pretty shoats bought of Mr. Albert Lewis.

The Saturday trips, being made by the Tolchester Steamboat Co. are a great convenience to the general public and are well patronized.

We are glad to have Mr. Pace and his family, of Queen Anne's, as one of our citizens. He has purchased the Wm H. Barnes property.

Some of our folks go gunning down on the shores of the Chesapeake in the "Old Fifth district," and they bring home the ducks, too.

Mr. Wilbert Staats who has been one of the corps of Mr. Kendall's workmen for some years has gone to Wilmington. He has taken up his trade with his uncle, Mr. Wm. Lingo, who is an extensive contractor in that city. Wilbert is a good mechanic and commands good wages. Mr. Herman Kernan, who occupies the Wm. T. J. Keyser property will take his place.

Mr. Kent Vickars, one of the same force of workmen has married and will locate in Chester, Pa. Mr. Elwood Gibson may take his place here.

Some sickness around, mumps, grip, measles, etc.

One room in our school has been closed on account of our efficient teacher, Miss Linda Morris, having inflamation of the parotid gland or mumps.

Salem Church supper was quite a success.

The Fairlee Grange, the largest in the county, holds largely attended weekly meetings. They are fraternal, social, educational and highly entertaining.

Mrs. J. Walter Skirven, of Baltimore, visited her son, Lewin U. Skirven the first of the week.

A Board of Trade for Fairlee is talked of. Everything wide awake here and going right along. Our preachers, doctors, merchants, mechanics and farmers are right up to date and are going along with eyes wide open.

Master Harry Lee, while hauling in a load of fodder on last Tuesday fell off. The wagon run over him bruising him severely.

One of our industries has ceased to run—the creamery. By spring we hope the farmers will feel the necessity of it so keenly that they will guarantee the owners a sufficient supply of milk to run the plant with some profit, and that it will start up again.

Very little complaint about the condition of the roads. At times a little rough of course, but the general condition is good. We never saw as little work put on the roads in the neighborhood in our lives as has been this year, but they are in good shape.

"OLD WEST END."

Ejectment Suit.—An interesting suit was heard in Elkton Court last week. It was the suit of Wm. B. Davis, vs. Edgar J. Davis, sons of the late John Ward Davis, of the First district, to determine the 22 acres of land of the estate of their father, claimed by both parties was put on trial before the jury. The case originated in equity proceedings brought in 1908 and much testimony was taken before H. M. McCullough, Esq. But the Court held that as the matter at issue was a question of title it belonged to the law side of the Court and, accordingly, granted an injunction in May, 1908, William B. Davis restraining Edgar J. Davis from interesting with him in the control of the property in dispute of which Sheriff J. W. McAllister was made receiver, in order to care for the growing crop, and directed William B. Davis to bring suit in ejection to determine the question of title.

John Ward Davis, father of the litigants, who died in May, 1907, owned four farms in the Cecilton section, containing 1028 acres. By his will he left all his real eftate for life to his widow and one-third of his personal estate absolutely. After her death his son, John W., was to receive the Price farm and $1,000; his son, Edgar J., the Cash Corner farm, except 15 acres south of the Cash Corner-Ginn's Corner road; his son, William B. the Pearce farm and ten acres of woodland; his grand-daughters, children of William B. Davis, the home farm, Edgar J. was also to take 15 acres of woodland. John Ward Davis purchased the Pearce farm in 1880, to which he added a portion of the Cash Corner farm in 1884. This portion figured in the controversy as Lots Nos. 1 and 2, and No. 2, over which the dispute of which the dispute as to the title arose, contains 22 acres. William B. Davis claimed that it belonged to the Pearce farm, all of which he wanted, and Edgar J. Davis that it belonged to the Cash Corner farm. After several days hearing the case came to a sudden end, the parties to the suit having agreed to settle their differences.

ONLY WOMEN CAN VOTE THERE

West Union, Ohio, Jan. 7.—They will have to change the name of Billtown school district, which is one of the educational divisions of Adams county, for Billtown, as an electoral quantity, has changed its gender.

Wilhelminatown wou'd be more appropriate.

Following the wholesale indictments for selling of votes every male elector in the township has been disfranchised, and only women are qualified to vote at the next election for school trustees and only women will be eligible to hold the office of trustee.

For the first time in the history of woman's suffrage not a man will step to the ballot box. Three women have already announced themselves candidates for trustee next November.

GETS $125 FOR SIX EGGS

Eggs high? Boiled eggs a luxury, egg flips in the unattainable class?

Maybe so, but the extreme in egg prices is pretty nearly touched when a man hands over $125 for a half dozen eggs. That was what happened yesterday at the poultry show at the Fifth Regiment Armory, when Rufus Delanfield, of the Sunswick Poultry Farm, Plainfield, N. J., parted with six of Lady of the Snows' eggs for that amount.

Lady of the Snows is a White Orpington hen, which Mr. Delafield says, is worth her weight in gold. He has refused $2,000 for her, for she has won 40 blue ribbons and a small cartload of silver cups and trophies. Mr. Delafield says it is nothing unusual for him to get $130 a setting of 15 of the prize hen's eggs.

She is on exhibition in a pen all to herself at the show.
