SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1911.

THE farmers who lose hogs by cholera owe it to themselves and their neighbors to bury them.

THE movement being agitated to change the schedule of the afternoon train leaving Chestertown meets with but little favor here. It would be a backward step and greatly interfere with the convenience of up-county people and the public in general. Let it alone.

THE Baltimore American is indignant that the Democrats should be looking after holding on to the offices. It says they should be studying plans and methods to better the State! My, my, since when did the Republicans get to be so patriotic?

S. P. TOWNSHEND, ESQ., treasurer of the Republican campaign fund, has filed his report which shows that $400 was sent here from the State fund and about $96 contributed here. The Democrats received $500 from State headquarters, which was used in hiring teams, employing runners, etc.

THE First Congressional district is to be enlarged by the addition of a part of Harford county. This is to be done because of the fact that under the reapportionment the First district, as it stands, has not sufficient population to entitle it to a Congressman. Maryland will still be able, however, to retain her quota of six Representatives.

THE young men of Washington College have been hearing lectures this week by a seasoned coach from Princeton University. He counseled the "boys" above all things to keep from touching intoxicating liquors, cigarettes, &c., and to keep good hours. If this advice is necessary during a football campaign, why is it not as applicable all during life?

THE election of a Republican Governor changes the aspect of conditions in this judicial circuit as regards the judgeship contest. For instance, if Judge Adkins should announce his candidacy for Chief Judge, be nominated and elected, there would be a vacancy on the bench which would be filled by the Governor naming a Republican! Under the circumstances it is doubtful about Judge Adkins entering the contest. However, there is plenty of time to weigh these matters.

AUDITORS REPORT

Elsewhere in the NEWS will be found the report of the Auditing Committee for Kent county. Messrs. Henry Brown, E. W. Hepbron and T. G. Wroth, the auditing committee, have gone over very carefully the books, accounts, vouchers and papers of the County Commissioners, Treasurer, Board of School Commissioners and Trustees of the Almshouse, and they find them all in excellent shape. The committee deserves the thanks of the public for the painstaking manner in which they have examined into all the details of the county's affairs. Every citizen of the county should read the report carefully.

THE Cecil Democrat in a column editorial says: "The direct primary law has had a fair trial, and in our judgment is a failure, and ought to be repealed. All that can be said in its failure is that it gives the people the privilege of voting directly for their nominees, and even that is a privilege that the people themselves do not appreciate, as the recent election shows that they preferred to vote for a man named in some remote place, by party bosses, rather than a man who had made an open contest for the nomination. Therefore, the people themselves, by the recent election, have placed the stamp of their disapproval upon it."

JUDGE W. H. ADKINS in his charge to the Grand Jury of Talbot county on Monday said:

"It is the established practice of the Court in this circuit to call the attention of the Grand Jury to the Corrupt Practices Act although not required to do so by Act of Assembly. We do this because in our opinion there is no law more important to be kept fresh in the minds of grand juries and the public, etc.

"The last grand jury recommended that the Senator and Delegates from this County to the next Legislature have enacted a law making it a misdemeanor for any one to solicit or take orders in this County, and I hope this recomendation will be endorsed by you. Such a law is now in force in Queen Annes, Caroline and Cecil Counties, and, I believe will be enacted for Kent County."

THE Dorchester Circuit Court was convened on Monday. The court advised the grand jury that the State's Attorney would bring to their attention complaints of the violation of the corrupt practices act, both in the primaries and at the general election, and instructed them to carefully investigate the same, knowing in the performance of their duty neither faction nor party, nor friend nor foe.

CAN HOLD OVER.

Senate Not Confirming, State Officials Remain, Says Mr. Straus.

Extra Session Plan Abandoned—Attorney-General Quotes Constitution to Back Up His Opinion.

MR. STRAUS SAYS:

That officials appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate continue in office until their successors are appointed in like manner.

If the Senate, being Democratic, refuses to confirm nominations by the incoming Governor, the incumbents can hold over.

The officers affected by the opinion are:

Supervisors of Elections.
Liquor License Commissioners.
Police Commissioners.
Justices of the Peace.
Probably county school boards.

At the request of The Sun, Attorney-General Isaac Lobe Straus, who, besides being the chief law officer of the State, is one of the strongest constitutional lawyers in Maryland, Tuesday dictated an opinion upon the power of the Governor to appoint to office in cases where the concurrence of the Senate is necessary to confirm and complete the appointment.

The opinion of the Attorney-General is of the greatest interest and importance at this time, and, being fortified by the decisions of the Maryland Court of Appeals upon those sections of the State Constitution which are applicable, would seem, in view of the fact that the membership of the Senate at the next session of the Legislature will be overwhelmingly Democratic, to furnish a complete bulwark against removal from office to all the present Supervisors of Elections throughout the State, to the Liquor License and Police Commissioners of Baltimore city, to justices of the peace and probably to the various boards of school commissioners throughout the counties.

All of these officers hold until their successors are duly appointed and qualify, and these successors cannot be duly appointed, according to the opinion of Attorney-General Straus, without the consent of the Senate. As the Senate in all probability will not confirm Republican appointments of Election Supervisors, Police Commissioners, etc., all such officials, who were originally appointed by Governor Crothers, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, will continue to hold their offices.

If the Senate does not confirm nominations sent to it by a Republican Governor, then after the final adjournment of the Senate of 1912 the Governor cannot make recess appointments, Mr. Straus holds, as there will be no vacancies, unless they occur by death, resignation or removal from the office for cause, in particular cases, such as incompetency or misconduct, sufficient in law to warrant removal.

It will thus be seen that under the opinion of the Attorney-General solid bulwarks growing out of the Constitution itself are raised around many of the more important State officials, precluding, through the Democratic Senate, the appointment of Republican successors to them. This would seem to render unnecessary, even from a partisan stand-point, the movement projected by Mr. W. Mitchell Digges and other Democrats in the Wilson ballott counties for an extra session or for special legislation to change the laws with respect to the appointing power over election supervisors in the counties

It is understood that many of the best informed lawyers of the State agree that these views of Attorney-General Straus are unquestionably sound and cannot be controverted. Attorney-General Straus said:

"Of course, I deal with the subject of The Sun's inquiry as a purely constitutional and legal one. Its solution depends upon the relevant provisions of the State Constitution and the term of the several acts with respect to the appointment and terms of office of particular officials.

"Supervisors of Elections throughout the State, justices of the peace, Police Commissioners and Liquor License Commissioners of Baltimore city are required to be appointed by the Governor by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, and those officials generally, except in the very few cases or recess appointments to fill vacancies, have been so appointed. These officials by the provisions of the statues under which they were appointed by the Governor with the concurrence of the Senate, hold their offices for the term of two years and until successors are duly appointed and qualified.

CONSTITUTIONAL PROVISIONS

"Section 13 of Articles II of the Constitution provides:

"All civil officers appointed by the Governor and Senate shall be nominated to the Senate within 50 days from the commencement of each regular session of the Legislature: and their term of office, except in cases otherwise provided for in this Constitution, shall commence on the first Monday of May next ensuing their appointment and continue for two years (unless removed from office) and until their successors, respectively, qualify according to law.'

"Section 10 of Article II of the Constitution provides that the Governor 'Shall nominate and by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, appoint all civil and military officers of the State whose appointment or election is not otherwise herein provided for, unless a different mode of appointment be prescribed by the law creating the office.'

DECISIONS TO BACK IT

"Under these provisions of the Constitution and the statutes prescribing with respect to various offices that they shall be filled by the Governor, with the consent of the Senate, and that the tenure shall be until successors shall be appointed and qualify, it is absolutely settled by an unbroken line of decisions of the Court of Appeals of Maryland, beginning with the Watkins case in 2 Maryland page 341, and continuing to and including the case of Sappington vs. Slade in 91 Maryland, page 640, that the incumbent of such an office originally appointed by the Governor, with the consent of the Senate, holds his office until his successor shall likewise have been appointed by the Governor, with the consent of the Senate, and if the Senate rejects or fails to confirm a nomination sent to it by the Governor of a proposed successor to the incumbent, then upon and after the final adjournment of the Senate the incumbent remains in office, which therefore continues to be filled, and, there being no vacancy, the Governor cannot appoint during the recess of the senate.

"The case of Watkins, in 2 Maryland; of Somerville vs. Smoot, in 59 Maryland; of Ash vs. McVey, in 85 Maryland; Robb vs. Caster, in 65 Maryland; Kroh vs. Smoot, in 62 Maryland, and Sappington vs. Slade, in 91 Maryland, all establish and maintain this proposition.

AN ACCEPTED CLASS

"Of course, where there has been a recess appointment the Governor fills a vacancy occurring while the Senate was not in session, in such case, under the Constitution, the appointment can only last, at most, until the expiration of the session of the Legislature next ensuing such recess appointment. This provision of the constitution would give to a new Governor an appointment of a Liquor License Commissioner for Baltimore city to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. B. B. Shreeves.

"I am inclined to think that, under the decision in the case of Ash vs. Mcvey, 85 Maryland 119, and the terms of the code upon the subject, most of the members of the County School Boards will be entitled to hold their offices unless the Senate shall confirm such new nominations as may be sent to it.

"I am also strongly inclined to think that the present justices of the peace of the counties and the city of Baltimore are secured in their offices until their successors are duly appointed by the Governor 'by and with the advice and consent of the Senate,' as required by section 42 of Article 4 of the Constitution, and this, of course, would include the present police magistrates of Baltimore. Cantwell vs. Owens, 14 Maryland 215; Baltimore City Charter, sections 323, etc.

"I repeat, in conclusion, that I have discussed the question presented to me for an expression of my views exclusively in its constitutional aspects and solely as a matter of law."
