LOCAL NOTES

If you see a man on the streets of Chestertown without a hat, it is Dr. H. C. Hughes. He is trying the no-hat cure for hay fever.

A colored resident of Chestertown sold his three hogs Monday for $61! He spent only about $5 for corn. "Bob" had lots of rivals.

Local buyers are paying 63 cents for corn this week. There is a fair crop in Kent.

You can sell everything about a hog except the squeal, and yet some horns on the Chestertown automobiles sound like it.

T. R. Starr has presented the News with a 6 lb. turnip raised on his farm near Pomona.

State Auditor Ash was in Chestertown Wednesday and found the books in Mr. Dixon's office in excellent shape.

All members of fraternal orders are requested to meet at the lodge rooms Sunday morning at 10 o'clock to go to the church and hear a Thanksgiving sermon by Dr. Louis E. Barrett.

There is a preacher in Worton who has three pigs which he is raising like children. When they are bad he whips them, and finds it does good. Two of the pigs squeal when whipped, but the third one simply grunts!

There were 25 men at work on the Chestertown street, opposite Bordley's corner, Thursday morning. The road from Bacchus' corner to the river is being stoned temporarily. Next year the ground will have settled and the asphalt can be put on satisfactorily. The road from Bacchus' corner to Cross street will be in use to-day.

The Kent Land Co. has sold to Richard C. Williams, of New Jersey, 10 acres of land on the northeast corner of the Everett farm, in Queen Anne's. Mr. Williams will build a home there at once.

Pork is selling at from 7 to 8 cents, dressed, in Chestertown.

The subject of debate at Saturday night's meeting of the Mt. Vernon Literary Society was, "Resolved, that the treatment of the Indians by our government is infamous." The subject was discussed on the affirmative by Messrs. Madden and Leister, and on the negative by Messrs. Keller and J. E. Harris. Mr. Burris the president, appointed as judges Messrs. Reier, Pardew and Ridgely who decided in favor of the negative.

The Chestertown Volunteer Fire Co. on Monday night last passed resolutions thanking the generous donor of the chemical fire engine. It is a little beauty and no doubt will be worth untold money to the citizens of the town. Guess who gave it.

The Chestertown Public Library is an institution of which every citizen of Kent county should be proud and should help. Criticisms and suggestions are cordially solicited. They hope to be able to keep the library open all the time, but at present this is impossible from lack of funds. Library hours—Tuesdays, 2 to 4 p. m.; Saturdays, 2 to 4 p. m.

The Circle City paper mill were sent 18 mules from the Chestertown mill this week. There are 20 mules left and these have been earning their board by working on the roads. There seems to be poor prospect of this mill resuming operation.

Notice is being sent out that on the 17th day of November, 1911, Mr. J. Thos. Blackiston, of Lankford, was duly adjudged bankrupt and the first meeting of creditors will be held at the law office of S. Scott Beck, Esq., Dec. 7th, 1911. Mr. Blackiston conducted a store but found competition too keen. His debts will amount to about $1500 with assets of about $1,000.

Diamond Cut Diamond.—Nine of William Smith's cows that had strayed upon S. M. Lockwood's farm at Mt. Pleasant, near Middletown, some weeks ago, were released on payment of $1 per head, the legal allowance for their detention. The very next day thirty-seven of Lockwood's sheep were found on Smith's place. He drove them to his barnyard and demanded $37 from Lockwood for their release. The latter refused to pay and Smith served notice that he would sell the sheep within ten days. Besides the $37 Lockwood may be taxed 25 cents per day per head for feeding the sheep. Mr. Lockwood was seeking to replevin the sheep, but whether he has filed the needed bond has not yet been stated.

A Splendid Concert.—An appreciative audience heard the splendid concert given Friday evening in Firemen's Hall by the Ladies Improvement Association. Mrs. W. B. Copper and Mrs. Charles S. Smith are to be congratulated for having such talented musicians among their friends and who so willingly gave their services to the town. The program was as follows:

Double Quartette, T. D. Bowers, T. W. Perkins, J. H. Thompson, Warren Hurlock, Fred. G. Usilton, Webster Hague, A. L. Sparks.

Mr. W. W. Chapman tutored the male singers.

Bridge Party.—A club composed of four ladies from Chestertown and four from Centreville, has been organized for the purpose of contesting their skill at bridge during the winter months. The first meeting was held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. E. C. Corwin, at Headlong Hall, near Centreville, at which time Mrs. J. M Corkran received the prize. Mrs. Corwin also entertained the club at luncheon. The next game was played at the home of Mrs. W. W. Beck, Chestertown, Wednesday. Two games will be played each month, one at Chestertown and the other at Centreville, and a hostess prize will be awarded at each game, and at the end of the season two prizes will be awarded those receiving the highest scores during the entire contest. The members of the club are: Mesdames Lewin W. Wickes, William W. Beck, George Brice and Scott Beck, of Chestertown, and J. M. Corkran, Spencer G. Newnam, E. C. Corwin and W. J. Price, Jr., of Centreville.

Don't forget the entertainment in Firemen's Hall December 6th. "Maggie Pepper" is now being played in New York and having a big run.

A marriage license was issued Friday to John Daniel Nelson and F. May Pinder, of Queenstown.

Football Notes.—Washington College played Gallaudet a scoreless tie game last Saturday at Washington.

An excursion will be run from Chestertown to Baltimore to-day to the big football game with St. John's, and judging from the record of W. C. a fine game should be played. Coach MacGregor, of Princeton University, has been coaching the Washington College team for the game to-day. Mr. MacGregor arrived Monday and was tendered a reception and dinner in the evening by President Cain. He looked the College team over and expressed himself well pleased with the line and has gotten the boys in good shape.

Mr. M. J. Thompson, of Mount St. Mary's College, formerly coach at Washington College, has been selected to referee the Army-Navy game, to be played on Franklin Field, Philadelphia, on this Saturday, November 25.

Hunting Notes.—Messrs. H. C. Willis and Jacob Shallcross returned from St. Mary's on Saturday. Mr. Willis killed 25 birds and Mr. S. one! It is said that one of these gentlemen came near being arrested for trespassing, but was so polite and courteous to the lady owner of the property that they parted good friends.

Capt. Teagle Evans, near Onancock, Va., killed four wild geese outright on Monday night at one shot, on his premises, and crippled two others so that they were secured the next morning. Two others were unhurt and they about sunrise circled around several times, evidently expecting to hear from their companions No sound coming, they resumed their southern flight.

State Senator Wm. W. Beck, S. Scott Beck, Esq., Capt. Curtis E. Crane, Thos. Massey and Wilbur Eliason, Jr., have been gunning in St. Mary's the past week. Mr. Garey Leaverton returned from the Morris farm, in St. Mary's, last Saturday, and says there have been 400 partridges killed on the farm since November 1.

The game season in Kent county closes December 23rd. The opening was on November 2nd. These dates are "official."

Trades Auto For Team on Road.—J. Frank and Purnell McWhorter, of Middletown, were on their way to Wilmington, one day last week, in an automobile which they purposed exchanging for another. Near Bear Station their car broke down. John Truitt, of New Castle, came along driving a four-year old mare to a buggy. Truitt offered to trade team for machine. The offer was taken and the exchange made. The elder McWhorter bought a new car in Philadelphia, and stopping at New Castle on his return found that Truitt had the other car repaired and had refused an offer of $320 for it from a would-be purchaser. Truitt has a Reo and McWhorter a trotter.
