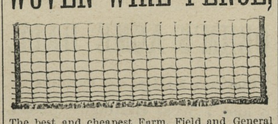
WOVEN WIRE FENCE,



The best and cheapest Farm, Field and General Purpose Fence on Earth. Over 30 miles sold in Queen Anne's county in two months. It is now being extensively used in Druid Hill Park, Baltimore, and is highly recommended. C. H. Latrobe, Esq.: Will last a lifetime, and only 33 posts to the one hundred feet.

ITS ADVANTAGES:

Being a SELF-REGULATING it is always ready for business, slacks up for 30° below as cheerfully as it takes a new grip for 90° in the shade, gently, but firmly, persuades a runaway team to reconsider its action. An unruly bull is as safe as a canary in its cage; it saith unto the festive hog, "thus far shalt thou go." The fierce wind and drifting snow pass by and it heeds them not. There is no terror in the locomotive spark. The trespasser is not led into temptation, and the rail stealer "occupation is gone." The hired man and the lagging tramp, alike scorn its proffered shade. Like the model housewife, when well-supported, it is always neat and tidy. ITS ONE FAILING is the continual tugging at the end posts. The requisite strain of several tons needs thorough bracing and anchoring of these posts. But forewarned is forearmed.

COMPARATIVE COSTS.

Remember the first cost does not always determine the cheapness of an article. One dollar's worth of barbed wire has been known to save a man from paying taxes on a thousand dollars worth of horseflesh. An ineffficient fence often seem to fail when just needed most. A short lived fence, or one that needs constant care, will be dear at half the price of ours. While there are some good wire fences on the market besides the Coiled Spring, they are entirely lacking in elasticity which we consider the most important feature of our fence. We therefore compare ours with post and board fence. This is the favorite of all breeders of fine stock who have not yet become acquainted with the merits of our fence. We asked one hundred users of our fence to give an estimate of its value compared with this style. Three out of a hundred place ours on a par with the board, while ninety-seven rated it from twenty-five to several hundred per cent. better. In most cases our fence can be furnished complete at 25 per cent. less than one made of boards and posts.

The Machine Made Egg.

Mr. Louis Gross, of Philadelphia, should be investigated. He is too smart by half, or he is a fearful liar, which is worse. Mr. Gross claims that he has invented a handme-down egg, and right here this machine made business should stop. Man is a creature of environment, and if something is not done a fearful catastrophe may befall humanity. Today man stands surrounded by wooden nutmegs, sawdust flour and steer butter. He wears false teeth, glass eyes, wigs, wooden legs, cork hands and padded coats, while his wife wears crinoline that is full of guile at sixty cents a yard. The fabric of society is frail and full of deceit; and man is rapidly adjusting himself to his surroundings. The advent of the tailor made egg fills the last niche in the circle of deception that surrounds bewildered humanity. If this is not checked very soon there will be "no joy nor beauty nor loveliness" that "continueth in man;" all will be "vanity and vexation of spirit."

This is, of course, the selfish human side. But what about the hens and their kin? Have they no rights that human beings are bound to respect? If this egg-maker is allowed to flood the market with his "false fleeting, perjured" eggs, what can a self-respecting hen do but withdraw her product indignantly from sale? Can hens be expected to go into the marts of trade to compete with pauper egg plants and support indigent and improvident roosters on the mere pittance that the machine article can be made for? Most certainly they can not. And if the hens are to be insulted and driven from America, where will spring chickens come from? What, moreover, will the world do for those rooster-feather boas that were so popular in crowded street cars last winter? And if the hens should take this matter seriously to heart and refuse to toil and to spin, what protection has the theatre-going public against another four of George C. Milne? These are not mere idle queries. They are serious problems. What is the reduction of a few cents a dozen on the price of eggs against hazarding of future generations to the ravages of amateur Hamlets?

From all standpoints the coming of the paper machine eggs is to be deprecated. It is a snare and a delusion, and a breeder of dissension among the faithful fowls; it takes from man his "very present help in troubles" and leaves him naked and alone. There is no sense in killing the goose that lays the golden egg merely to get a plaster-of Paris imitation. Progress is a good thing but there is a possibility of jumping out in the dark into a post hole—and that's different.—Kansas City Star.

La Grippe.

During the prevalence of the Grippe the past season it was a noticeable fact that those who depended upon Dr. King's New Discovery, not only had a speedy recovery, but escaped all of the troublesome after effects of the malady. This remedy seems to have a peculiar power in effecting rapid cures not only in cases of La Grippe, but in all Diseases of Throat, Chest and Lungs, and has cured cases of Asthma and Hay Fever of long standing. Try it and be convinced. It won't disappoint. Free Trial Bottles at M. A. Toulson's Drug Store.

"THAT will do for the present," as the young man remarked as he paid for a box of cheap candy for his sweetheart's birthday gift.

THE country minister has no respect for prize-fighters, but he sighs when he reads of the sums they realize on their pound parties.

"FRANK, who was that delighted person who just left? I know he wanted to do something for you."—"Yes, he wanted to owe me."

"I like the kind of purse well enough, but why do you call it a natural purse?" "Because, like nature, it abhors a vacuum."

"TEN DOLLARS fo' stealin' dat chicken?" cried Rastus. "Why, Jedge, honis' naw I could 'a' bought dat hen fo' 50 cents."

"I feel better about lickin' this postage stamp," said the boy who had been sent to mail a letter, "It's nearer my size."

MRS. SUGAR—"Do you use whiskey in cooking?" Mrs. Lemon—"O, yes; I like it in everything except men."

"POLICEMEN are rather clannish, ain't they?" "Yes, I've noticed them clubbing together, frequently."

"That's a fine collection," said the Judge as he surveyed the array of minor offenders ready for sentence.
