SATURDAY, DECEMBER 23, 1911.

The NEWS wishes all its Readers a Healthy, Hearty, Happy Xmas.

"THE new arrival"—it's a boy.

PEACE on earth, good will to all men.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL STRAUS retired from office this week with the plaudits of "well done" by his party and State. Mr. Poe succeeds him.

THE new State's Attorney for Kent county—Harrison W. Vickers, Jr., will enter upon the duties of his office next Monday week, Jan. 1st, 1912.

THE Allied Boards of Trade of towns in Maryland have passed resolutions indorsing the building of State roads through towns so as to make a continued road.

TO THE readers of the KENT NEWS we extend our heartiest wishes for a Healthy Hearty Christmas, with the hope that the holiday season of 1911 may be the brightest and happiest ever experienced and that 1912 may bring to them the fullest measure of peace, plenty and prosperity.

Individually and collectively the world is better with the passage of each Christmas time. In the universal exchange of gifts and the good cheer which always prevails, families are reunited, enmities forgotten and strife and conflicts buried and hurled aside, while around the fire glow of the Christmas hearth and amid the ringing laughter of the gladsome days, many a life has been stirred and quickened to higher and noble purposes and resolves.

A SPLENDID GIFT

With becoming fitness Chief Judge James Alfred Pearce has presented to Chestertown a magnificent drinking fountain, but has endeavored to keep his name from the public. Such generous acts should not be kept in hiding and the NEWS takes pleasure in giving honor to our worthy citizen and generous friend. The fountain is of granite and 4½ feet in diameter. It will be put in place on Cross street in Kent Square and used every day by horses. This is but another evidence of Judge Pearce's love of humanity and his regard for his native town.

A BENEFICENT MAN

In the death of Hon. Charles T. Westcott, noted in another column, Kent county meets with a great loss and Chestertown a greater one. During the years he spent among us they were filled with activities which touched every vital part of the business, social and political life of the community. In these various walks he was always prominent and made so by his inherent qualities. With a grasp on public questions unsurpassed by his peers, with a love for humanity and a heart which went out to his fellows, his purse was always open to their calls and his talents ever at their command. He was an unselfish citizen, a faithful and ardent friend, an indulgent father and a man whose character was beyond reproach. Truly it may be said of his death that it is but the passing through a dark entry out of one dusky room of his father's house into another that is fair and large, lightsome and glorious, and divinely entertaining.
