Courting in Baltimore.

Baltimore has astonished her friends by issuing an unexpected order that love making, of the overt sort, must stop in the public squares and parks. The proximate cause for the order appears to have been the behavior of a young couple who were observed kissing each other; they were arrested, poor young things, and the man was fined $20, and the girl $5. The proportion may have been some solace to her, and indeed it does exhibit a rather tardy justice to Mother Eve, but the fine and subsequent prohibition must have caused an intense glow of indignation in the breasts of fair Baltimoreans, who have been encouraged to view courtship rather as an estate honorable to the good looks for which they are known.

To think of Baltimore reviving the blue laws and declaring public endearments a breach of the peace! Mason and Dixon never drew that line. We have all heard of the agreeable southern gentleman who was "a mighty triflin' fellow—he beat his wife!" but the reproach involved in the epithet has never before in Dixie's land been visited upon the young man who kissed his sweetheart, even coram pouplo. In point of fact, there are a great many people, and they are not confined to the Southern States, either, who consider that courtship when limited to glances, sighs and stammers is an unsatisfactory affair altogether—as for them, give them harmless liberties or give them death. And in the matter of confining the dulcet relation to the front parlor or the sitting room, why that is a question of the weather, not of the city ordinances.

No, no, Baltimore will have to retract her hasty action. The precedent of the virtuous indignation of Mr. Bumble when he caught Noah Claypoole kissing Charlotte is an unsound one, even though Mr. Bumble's position was parochial. Mr. Bumble turned out to be a sad hypocrite. And there is one law about kissing which is pretty nigh as inevitable as the centripetal force, and the Baltimore authorities may be certain it will be observed without their troubling themselves. Kissing goes by favor. It is a corollary from this that the honest kind of kissing is that which doesn't run to hide.

Surely the Baltimore restrictions will never win approval on the Eastern Sho.'

THE following resolutions were passed by the Kent County W. C. T. U. Convention May 27th, 1893:

Resolved, That in view of the recen crimes committed in our county, through the use of liquor, that we appeal to the citizens of Kent to suppress the illegal sale of the same, and aid the Woman's Christian Temperance Union in its efforts to promote temperance sentiment and morality.

Resolved, That we deplore the growing tendency to disregard the Sabbath, and protest against the opening of places of amusement contrary to our State law.

Resolved, That this convention disapprove and severely denounce the action taken by the local directors of the World's Fair in determining to open the exhibition on Sunday.

Resolved, that we appreciate the moral principle of our President and Cabinet Officers in declaring their purpose not to appoint to office any person keeping a saloon or dealing in liquor, and that we furthermore commend the action of President Cleveland in not permitting the holding of so-called "sacred concerts" Sunday.

Resolved, That we petition the school board of Kent county to introduce into our schools "Dulaney's Primmer" as a text book for the use of pupils in the primary grades, for giving the temperance instruction that the laws of our State demand.

Resolved, That we affirm our confidence in Mrs. Carse and her faithful financial management of the Woman's Temple, and recommend the Unions of the county to assist in lifting the debt by raising the $100 necessary to have the name of Kent inscribed upon one of the tablets of the same.

Resolved, that we extend our thanks to the ladies of Chestertown who have borne the burden of providing for our comfort and pleasure.

Resolved, That we tender to the press of Chestertown our sense of appreciation and thanks for their promise of support in our work for humanity.

Respectfully submitted, COMMITTEE.

RECENTLY in a Western State a young man and a young woman were contesting possession of a piece of property, the one claiming under an old will. "It strikes me," said the Justice, "that there is a pleasant and easy way to terminate this law suit. The plaintiff seems to be a respectable young man, and this is a very nice young woman, they can both get married and live upon the farm. If they go on with the law proceedings the property will all be frittered away among the lawyers, who, I am sure, are not ungallant enough to wish the marriage not to come off." The lady blushed and the young man stammered that they "liked each other a little bit," so a verdict was rendered for the plaintiff on the condition of his promise to marry the defendant within two months—a stay of execution being put to the verdict until the marriage ceremony should be completed. This is about the first couple ever sentenced to matrimony in a court of law.

USES OF TURPENTINE.—After a house keeper fully realizes the worth of turpentine in the household, she is never willing to be without a supply of it. It gives a quick relief to burns; it is an excellent application for corns; it is good for rheumatism and sore throats. Then it is a sure preventative against moths; by just dropping a trifle in the drawers, chests, and cupboards, it will render the garments secure from injury during the summer. It will keep ants and bugs from closets and store-rooms by putting a few drops in the corners and upon the shelves; it is sure destruction to bed-bugs, and will effectually drive them away from their haunts if thoroughly applied to all the joints of the bedstead, and injures neither furniture nor clothing. A spoonful of it added to a pail of warm water is excellent for cleaning paint.

WOVEN WIRE FENCE,

The best and cheapest Farm, Field and General Purpose Fence on Earth. Over 30 miles sold in Queen Anne's county in two months. It is now being extensively used in Druid Hill Park, Baltimore, and is highly recommended. C. H. Latrobe, Esq.: Will last a lifetime, and only 3 posts to the one hundred feet.

ITS ADVANTAGES:

Being a SELF-REGULATING it is always ready for business, slacks up for 50° below as cheerfully as it takes a new grip for 90° in the shade, gently, but firmly, persuades a runaway team to reconsider its action. An unruly bull is as safe as a canary in its cage; it saith unto the festive hog, "thus far shalt thou go." The fierce wind and drifting snow pass by and it heeds them not. There is no terror in the locomotive spark. The trespasser is not led into temptation, and the rail stealer's "occupation is gone." The hired man and the lagging tramp, alike scorn its proffered shade. Like the model housewife, when well-supported, it is always neat and tidy. ITS ONE FAILING is the continual tugging at the end posts. The requisite strain of several tons needs thorough bracing and anchoring of these posts. But forewarned is forearmed.

COMPARATIVE COSTS.

Remember the first cost does not always determine the cheapness of an article. One dollar's worth of barbed wire has been known to save a man from paying taxes on a thousand dollars worth of horseflesh. An inefficient fence often seem to fail when just needed most. A short lived fence, or one that needs constant care, will be dear at half the price of ours. While there are some good wire fences on the market besides the Coiled Spring, they are entirely lacking in elasticity which we consider the most important feature of our fence. We therefore compare ours with post and board fence. This is the favorite of all breeders of fine stock who have not yet become acquainted with the merits of our fence. We asked one hundred users of our fence to give an estimate of its value compared with this style. Three out of a hundred place ours on a par with the board, while ninety-seven rated it from twenty-five to several hundred per cent. better. In most cases our fence can be furnished complete at 25 per cent. less than one made of boards and posts.
