TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS.
The date on the label opposite your name shows the time to which your paper is paid. If the date reads "1Jan15" you owe the NEWS $2.00. Please look at your date at once and let us hear from you.

THE county has lost a valued citizen in the death of Louis C. Ayres.

Two candidates are in the field, one for Sheriff from Morgnec and one for Commissioner from near Fairlee, Messrs. Theo. Wood and George Carter. Boys, you certainly ARE early.

THE deadlock in the Delaware Senate was broken Monday when enough Democrats voted with the Independent Republicans to elect Senator John A. Barnard President pro tempore. It is thought permanent organization will now soon be effected.

THE death of Hon. Wm. T. Hepbron removes from our midst a citizen of unusual interest and one of wide reputation. He was a Democrat who had seen long service and had enjoyed many victories within the party's ranks. He loved to talk, had a good memory and won many friends who remained his stalwart admirers throughout life.

ISN'T it about time that Chestertown had a garbage system? We think so and urge our Board to take the matter under consideration. A neighboring town, not as large at Chestertown, has inaugurated this system. Twice each week the town collects the garbage and the ashes from every house, the only requisite being that the receptacles be placed on the curb to enable the collectors to dump it readily into their wagon. This, as can be readily seen, does away with much of the dirt that will collect around all premises where there is not some systematic way of getting rid of such. In the end, any town is more than paid for the expense of carrying on this kind of a thing.

A GREAT UTTERANCE

Whether the United States shall enter a world peace league, and, as many contend, thereby abandoning its traditional policy of isolation and no entangling alliances, was laid squarely before Congress and the country by President Wilson in a personal address to the Senate Monday.

For the first time in more than a hundred years a President of the United States appeared in the Senate chamber to discuss the nation's foreign relations after the manner of Washington, Adams and Madison.

"Startling," "staggering," "astounding" and "noblest utterance that has fallen from human lips since the Declaration of Independence," were among the expressions of Senators. The President himself, after his address, said: "I have said what everybody has been longing for, but has thought impossible. Now it appears to be possible."

In our humble opinion, it is the President's greatest effort and will take its place among the chief declarations of policy and aspiration by our Presidents. It not only gives voice to the sentiment of the American people, it is notice to all the world that in the great adjustments at the end of the war our views must be consulted, our interests must have representation. "No covenant of co-operative peace that does not include the peoples of the New World can suffice to keep the future safe against war." Yet by defining in plain terms the nature of that covenant, as one that must rest upon the peace of right and justice and freedom, Mr. Wilson gives warning to the nations now at war that if our co-operation in the maintenance of peace is desired, the principles he has enumerated must have recognition in the immediate terms of peace.

Whether it will have any far-reaching effect remains to be seen, but the President's plea, to the people rather than to their rulers, "That the nations should with one accord adopt the doctrine of President Monroe, as the doctrine of the world; that no nation should seek to extend its policy over any other nation or people, but that every people should be left free to determine its own policy, its own way of development, unhindered, unthreatened, unafraid, the little along with the great and powerful," is setting an ideal worth striving for.

THE many poultry raisers, who lost from $10,000 to $15,000 through the failure of Bishop & Co., commission merchants of New York, during the holiday season of 1913, will be interested to learn that the members of that firm, Edward Greenfield, C. C. Hadley and H. A. Pierce, are in the hands of the law.

Greenfield was arrested and at his trial pleaded guilty to the indictment charging him with conspiracy in concealing the assets of his firm from the receivers appointed at the time. He was sentenced to eighteen months imprisonment last week. Greenfield was supposed to be the leading spirit of the firm. The other two partners, who are under arrest, will be tried on Feb. 6.

Local Notes

THE Daughters of America will celebrate their 16th Anniversary with a supper and other ways in Fraternal Hall next Monday evening, Jan. 29. All members are invited to be present at 7.30.

THE parsonage of Christ M. P. Church was the scene of a pleasant occasion Tuesday evening when about 100 persons participated in a splendid supper given by the Mite Society.

SURVEYORS from the State Roads Commission have been at work on the Chestertown-mill road and College road this week. It is thought that both roads will be built this year.

SIX Boys' Clubs have been formed in Kent. Mr. McHenry, of State College, was in Kent this week and assisted County Agent Burrell in getting the clubs organized. It is hoped that every parent and citizens generally will give every possible encouragement to these boys. Miss Comstock has the girls clubs in charge and is doing a good work.

A YOUNG boy in Milford collects the old scrap paper from the neighbors and is making from ten to twelve dollars a week for his trouble.

AT their annual shareholders' meeting on Wednesday the directors of the People's Bank were re-elected.

THE Laurel girls have organized a brass band. Each one will be able to "blow her own horn" in the future.

A CAN of tomatoes exploding while she was heating them, Mrs. George Rine, Milford, may lose the sight of both eyes. The can had been placed in the water still sealed and was heated when Mrs. Rine went to take it out of the water. As she picked it up the top blew off, filling her face and eyes with the scalding contents.

THE NEWS announced last week that Mr. William Medders, the Still Pond merchant, had bought the Merritt farm of Mr. Eugene M. Bonwill. This is one of the fine farms of the county, situated on the new state road adjoining the town of Locust Grove and contains 225 acres of all level land in high cultivation. Mr. Meddars will, no doubt, make this one of the most attractive farms on the pike. Sale private.

THE third entertainment of the Citizens Lyceum Course will be the Fisher Shipp Concert Co., next Wednesday evening in the Lyceum Theatre. It will be a rare treat.

ANOTHER coal yard is being talked of for Chestertown to be started on the Usilton lot adjoining Cannon street.

THERE are ten houses for rent in Chestertown and a great demand for help at the pants factory.

FRANK BAKER has stopped buying farms and has purchased the Dr. Chaplain home in Trappe from Miss Maud Chaplain for $2,500. The house is to be remodeled and Mr. Baker will occupy it himself.

DR. GILBERT T. SMITH, of Connecticut, is proud of his recent purchases on Chester river, near Chestertown and Deep Landing. Regarding it, Dr. Smith says: "I have traveled extensively in the United States and foreign countries inspecting various orchards before I selected this site, which has the advantages of ideal climatic conditions, soil adaption and, what is of paramount importance, its proximity to the available markets of Baltimore, Washington, Wilmington, Philadelphia, New York and Boston, both by water and rail. In all my travels in the United States and foreign lands, I feel that I never have found a more congenial little spot or more delightful people than Queen Annes and Kent counties can show." Dr. Smith's orchards now consist of 10,000 peach, 6,000 apple, 1,000 plum, 1,000 quince, 1,000 cherry and 1,000 pear, apricot, crab apple and Italian prune trees.

THE world war which has been particularly hard on newspapers by increasing the expense of publishing news and by doubling, and in some cases trebling, the cost of materials that enter into the making of a paper is given as the reason for an increase in the price of newspapers in Baltimore, Philadelphia and elsewhere.

Beginning January 29th all Philadelphia newspapers, including five morning and three evening papers printed in English, will increase the price of their daily issues to 2 cents. In Baltimore the new rate begins Feb. 1st.

The principal cause for the advance of price lies in the paper market. Prices of paper have continually increased since the supply of materials from Europe were stopped. Where the price a pound of paper was formerly about 2¼ cents publishers cannot get papers now under 6 and 8 cents a pound, while other kinds are double this price.

A RECORD IN WALL SCALING

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Brown, of Quaker Neck, are very proud of their son, J. Randolph Brown, as he was one of the eight men picked out to lower the wall scaling. He was picked out of 500,000 men that the record for all branches of the government service in this country for wall scaling. The wall they went over in eighteen seconds, is ten feet high, perfectly smooth, you can't run and reach the top with your hands but have to boost one another over and carry rifles and packs. It was considered a big thing by all military men. The idea is, if an enemy gets after you and you have to retreat and came to a wall you will know how to get over quickly without a ladder. Their son has also made a record of marksmanship on the ship. He is now stationed at Santo Domingo, West Indies.

HEAVY GRAIN SHIPMENTS

What is supposed to be the heaviest grain shipments in the history of the two branches of the P., B. and W. Railroad Company which consists of Chestertown and Centreville branches, are taking place daily now. Since Monday, January 15, there have been more than 300 cars of wheat and corn handled at Townsend from the two branches.

The Shipments would no doubt be much heavier if the embargoes were thoroughly lifted. Grain going out now is being shipped under special permits to the different near city points. Special trains are being used to get it to the city markets.

Much praise is being given the railroad officials for handling the car situation so well.

Some of the farmers have a three-years' crop of wheat in their barns, and they are now disposing of it, while the prices are so good.

Bethlehem's Bid on Shells for the United States Navy

To the American People:

The Secretary of the Navy has awarded contracts amounting to over $3,000,000 to a British bidder for 14 and 16-inch projectiles for the Navy because of very much lower prices offered by the English bidders.

We know nothing of the basis upon which the British bids were made, but the public is entitled to know the facts upon which we ourselves bid for this work.

Two years ago we took contracts to make 4,200 14-inch shells at a price of $1,515,000. Up to now not a single shell has been accepted by the Government, although we have expended, in wages, materials, etc., on these orders $522,881, and we have not received a SINGLE DOLLAR on these contracts.

In addition, a literal interpretation of the contract might make us liable for penalties amounting to $678,016.

In the light of our experience, and having no other basis, we bid for 16-inch shells approximately the same rate per pound as that which the Navy Department actually awarded a 14-inch shell contract one year ago.

The "Ralston" Is a Man's Shoe

Many years ago a distinguished clubman in the East called the shoes he was making for his gentlemen friends, the Ralston, because that was the name of their club—a very prominent old club in Washington.

These gentlemen wanted the very best shoe that could be made. Not a flashy shoe, but a distinguished shoe. A shoe that would give supreme ease, a shoe that would be scarcely noticed except for the fine lustrous leather, the fine dignified lines and the conservativeness of it.

That was the beginning of the Ralston Shoe. It has been known and worn by gentlemen for many years. It has always been up to the gentlemen's demands. Not made to meet the popular fancy but the clubman's needs.

So we've brought the Ralston shoe to Chestertown for you. A shoe made for gentlemen—a shoe made for you.

Whether it's the "Twin Six" English model in black, the "Twin Six" English model in tan, the Clubman's straight model, whether it buttons or laces, whether it's plain or with cloth tops, its price is either $5 or $6, which price doesn't cover its worth.

Come, take advantage of our special fitting service, and let us serve you with shoes that mean more than "just shoes."
