A LONG STRING of diseases follows a "run-down" system when the liver is inactive and the blood disorder. Look out for "breakers ahead" by putting the liver and blood in a healthy condition: You've only to turn to the right remedy to make yourself secure from disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery prevents as well as cures. Take it, as you ought, when you feel the first symptoms (languor, loss of appetite, dullness, depression) and you'll save yourself from something serious.

In recovering from "La Grippe," or in convalescence from pneumonia, fevers, or to build up needed flesh and strength it is indicated.

It's a blood-purifier that has stood the test of time. For a quarter of a century the "Discovery" has numbered its cures by the thousands. The manufacturers prove their faith in it by guaranteeing it for all disorders arising from bad blood; in Scrofula, Eczema, Tetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Carbuncles, and every kindred ailment.

If you receive no benefit you'll get your money back. What offer could be fairer?

It cures Catarrh in the Head — perfectly and permanently — Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

Maryland Names.

It will probably be of interest to the people of Maryland, as well as to the people of other parts, to know the origin of the names that are now so familiar in the State. We give below the names of the counties, the dates of their organization and the origin of the several names:

St. Mary's (1634), called in honor of the Virgin Mary.

Anne Arundel (1650), named after lady Anne Arundel, wife of Cecilius, second Lord Baltimore.

Kent (1650), after the English county by that name, and from which its first settlers came.

Calvert (1654), after the family name of the proprietary.

Charles (1658), from Charles Lord Baltimore.

Baltimore (1659), from the proprietary's Irsh barony. (Celtic bailte-mor, i. e., the large town.)

Talbot (1660), after Lord Talbot, uncle of Lady Baltimore.

Dorchester (1666), after the Earl of Dorset, a family friend of the Calverts.

Somerset (1666), after Edward Somerset, husband of Maria Calvert daughter of Lord Baltimore.

Cecil (1672), after the forename of the second Lord Baltimore.

Prince George (1659), after Prince George of Denmark.

Queen Anne (1706), after the reigning soveign of Great Britain.

Worcester (1742), in commemoration of the Stuart proclivities of the Palatines family.

Frederick (1748), after Frederic Prince of Wales.

Montgomery (1766), after General Montgomery, who was killed at Quhec.

Caroline (1773), after Caroline Harford, a niece of the proprietary.

Harford (1773), a nephew of the Palatine and Governor of the province.

Washington (1789), after General Washington.

Allegany (1789), after the great Indian tribe of the Allegewi.

Carroll (1836), after John Carroll, a signer of the Declaration of Independence.

Incident of a Wedding Trip.

The wife of a well-known New Yorker told about an incident of her wedding trip the other evening as illustrating the forgetfulness of a man who has only recently abandoned selfish bachelorship. They had only just begun their bridal journey. On that afternoon the train left the track and began to hump along the ties. It happened at that moment that the newly-made husband was walking down the aisle of the car away from the seat where the bride sat. He knew that part of the railroad very well and he was terrified at having the train leave the track there, for they were upon a bend on a steep and lofty embankment. With a thought of nothing but the peril which threatened the train he dashed madly for the door. He was on the platform already, careening and wavering, and in another instant he would have leaped, when unconsciously looking back at the danger he was leaving, he saw his wife. Instantly he turned and dashed back into the car. He was just in the nick of time to reach his wife, for already the car was tottering.

"Hold on for your life!" he cried to her. "We are going headlong over the bend."

He had fallen in the aiese at her side and clinging to the seat he held his wife.

"Hold on for your life!" he cried again, "for we are going over!"

And they did go over several times, and though the bridal couple were cut and bruised terribly, they were more fortunate than many others, for the death list after the wreck was a long one.

"But my husband," she said in telling the story, "could not seem to forgive himself for having forgotten me for a second, while I could understand it perfectly. He wasn't used to looking after a wife, and if you want to know the truth," she added, with a smile, "I was glad that it all happened as it did, for I don't believe that any man who was caught in danger with his wife would desert her, but it takes a brave man who has got out of danger to go deliberately back into it.

He knew that danger better than any one else in the car, I suppose, and he must have felt that we were both lost. Yet he came back to me, and that was how I learned on our wedding day, that my husband, if he is forgetful, was also brave.—N. Y. Tribune.

OUR Spring and Summer Goods have been carefully selected. To say that we are up with the times in this business is only to state a fact well known to the public. The Styles in Shoes are beautiful and all the leading ones have been added to our stock. Our reputation for first class work and material will be maintained and where improvements could be made we have had them attended to. No such a display of Fine Shoes ever seen in this county, and as usual Low Prices prevail.

Shoes. Latest Styles. Best Makes. Ladies' Oxford Ties, Tanned Bluchers, Russet Shoes.

Shoes. Gentlemen's Calf and Russet Shoes. New Shapes and the New Picadilla Toe.

COLORED SHOES.—Speaking of Russians—they are no longer a novelty but are now a necessity The general public have come to the conclusion the Russians are stylish for general wear, and what the people want the dealers will have to handle. There are many good points about these shoes; one is, they give a pleasant sensation to the wearer because they don't heat up the foot. The absence of all oils in the leather makes them just the shoes for tender feet, as there is no burning or rasped feeling to the foot in a Russian Shoe.
