HERE'S A "SWEET" STRIKE

Philadelphia is in the grip of a famine in refined sugar because of the closing down of all of the refineries there by one of the most stubborn labor strikes in the history of the sugar industry. Two thousand workers are out.

Sugar scarcity became so acute last Thursday that a number of the largest confectionery and extract plants which use enormous quantities of refined sugar are likely to shut down, thereby throwing thousands of men and women out of employment.

Some of the largest wholesale grocery houses in the city confessed that they did not have a pound of sugar in their places. They said the shelves of the thousands of retail grocers in the city were almost entirely denuded of the product of the sugar cane and the sugar beet.

A Fine Program.—One of the most delightful programs given here for many moons was presented by the Fisher Shipp Concert Company Monday evening at the Lyceum. The entertainment as a whole, was far superior to anything the Lyceum Bureau has favored us with this season, and the entire audience was captivated with the work of these artists. "Hail, Bright Abode" from Thannhauser was most enthusiastically received as the opening number. Miss Shipp, the soprano, who claims for her voice the range of three full octaves, presented several solos most attractively. Mr. Loar, with his viola, was heard in two or three songs and the beautiful tone of this old instrument was commented upon most favorably. So few artists ever use the viola for solo work that it was a genuine pleasure to hear this instrument in solo capacity and so ably handled. Miss Swarthout, the contralto and pianist of the evening, sang two charming songs. Her voice was one of peculiar beauty and her songs were well selected and much appreciated. Miss Major, among other violin numbers, gave the Spanish Dance at Sarasate, as well as several duets with viola. Her playing was refreshing and artistic She not only knows how to play the violin, but has the happy faculty of ingratiating herself with her audience, and the charming delicacy of her work was a decided factor in the evening's success. Both for scenic beauty and ensemble work, the old-time Beethoven Minuet, arranged for strings and voices, particularly appealed to all who were fortunate enough to attend, the artists being daintily costumed in colonial dress. The management feels that they have been most fortunate to secure this company and it also expresses the hope that this will not be their last visit to Chestertown. Other attractions drew somewhat from the attendance but from those who attended we can hear nothing but the most flattering criticisms. The next attraction of the series will be the famous Morrow Bros. quartet, Feb. 26th. Watch announcements.

Navy Recruiting Agent Pleased With Visit.—The United States Navy Recruiting party which has been located at the Chestertown postoffice Feb. 12 and 13, left for Centreville for a two-day stay. While here they did not receive any applicants but were pleased by the large number of inquiries made by the young men of Chestertown regarding the life and opportunities offered to men enlisting in the United States navy. So the Recruiting Agent considered that the visit to Chestertown was successful in the way of advertising and arousing the interest of young men by the opportunities offered them for making good in life by going into the navy for a career. He said he found a very large navy sentiment in Chestertown. It is expected that several applications will be made in the near future by several young men who have the navy under consideration. After this, future applications may be made to Postmaster Thomas D. Bowers, so that from now on young men will not have to wait for a traveling recruiting party or cause expense to themselves by traveling long distances to a Navy Recruiting Office.

CIRCUS ON TRUCKS

Assembling the transports for the world's first motortruck circus, promoted by the United States Circus Corporation, has already commenced, the last remaining contract for equipment.

While the motor and amusement world will watch with keen interest this most revolutionary change in the transportation of the circus, there will be no little interest manifested among heavy truck operators over the performance of the caravan's equipment.

For it is a new distinct type of tire, the largest single tread solid tire produced. The selection of the Giant by the circus corporation forms an interesting chapter in the history of the organization.

For almost a year the circus had experts investigating the merits of various makes of tires, automobiles and trailers. Roy Knabenshue, former aviator and manager of the Wright Aeroplane Company, now engineer and transportation adviser for the circus, spent several months on the Mexican border watching the performance of various trucks and tires.

These will have the capacity of the ordinary 65-car railroad train. Every one of the 1,200 members of the circus organization will find a berth in them as well as all the animals, including the horses, elephants, camels and wild beasts. They will also carry the circus paraphernalia. It is estimated that the combined weight upon the Giants will 3,500 tons.

THE HIGH COST OF DRINKING

It is said that twelve grocers in Delaware, Ohio, prepared the following grocery list to illustrate the high cost of drinking. The man who averages three glasses of liquor a day for a year at ten cents a glass could buy for the same money the following:

3 barrels of flour.
20 bushels of potatoes.
200 pounds granulated sugar.
1 barrel of crackers.
1 pound of pepper.
2 lbs. tea.
50 lbs. salt.
20 lbs. rice.
50 lbs. butter.
10 lbs cheese.
25 lbs. coffee.
10 lbs. candy.
3 dozen cans tomatoes.
10 dozen pickles.
10 dozen oranges.
10 dozen bananas.
2 dozen cans corn.
18 boxes matches.
2 pecks beans.
10 cakes soap.
12 packages rolled oats.

And besides he would have $15.20 left.
