THE PEOPLE'S BANK

CHESTERTOWN, MD.

IF you are a business man, if you are a professional man, if you are employed at a daily wage, make up your mind to deposit weekly a certain sum of money in the bank. You'll be surprised how the sum will grow. Cash in bank gingers up the man who has it there. He has more confidence in himself. The business man is ready for a dull season. He is ready for an opportunity.

So is the professional man. The man who is working for a daily wage and who hasn't any money in bank frequently is fearful of a loss of his situation. He does not work as well or with the confidence in himself as does the man with something laid aside for a rainy day.

Trouble On The Line

The Bell telephone employees are constantly trying to prevent trouble of any kind in the workings of the equipment and to repair such troubles as soon as possible after they occur.

Subscribers are asked to report trouble immediately to the chief operator, and to exercise a reasonable amount of patience while it is being cleared. If you do not see a man actually working on your telephone, it does not mean that you are not receiving proper attention. The difficulty may be in the switchboard, in the cables or at any one of several other places.

Mr. Watson, like thousands of othre merchants, is saving moremoney by using a VIM. He writes in part as follows:

"Gentlemen:—I formerly employed a number of horses and wagons, but I am now making my deliveries with one VIM Truck. I should say it will easily do the work of two horse and wagon outfits, and costs about the same as one horse and wagon."
THOMAS WATSON, 324 N. 13th Street.

Mr. Watson is covering more territory, making more sales, developing more new business because he has a VIM.

He has a graceful, "classy" car that is advertising his business.

He has a sturdy, durable, economical car that stands hard work.

And besides he is saving real money. You can do the same.

To make your pigs gain weight more quickly, keep healthy, and make the backward or ailing ones strong and well, it will pay you to give them a regular course of

Cal-Sino HOG RESTORATIVE

Mr. C. R. Wheatly, Hurlock, Md. wrote in 1915: "I had 4 hogs, 2 were taken sick. I separated the sick from the well, and began to give all the Cal-Sino Hog Restorative; consequently, the well ones did not get sick. The 2 sick hogs laid around for 2 days, then I drenched them well with it. While they ate nothing scarcely a day or two, I saw improvement after that time. They are now healthy hogs. You can use this letter as a testimonial."

Start using it now, also to prevent sickness including cholera which all too often ends in loss, and always causes a set back. It is best and safest to prevent sickness and not to take chances. Besides the increased weight Cal-Sino Hog Restorative gives, many times over pays for the small cost.

In the few years Cal-Sino Hog Restorative has been on the market it has saved thousands of hogs, and effected many remarkable cures. It is medicine (not a stock food) prepared along most advanced scientific lines, and based on 35 years of study and practical experience.

It costs so little and saves so much that you will do well to start using it right away. One trial will convince you.

ICE CARRIES TUG INTO WRECKAGE

The Enterprise Sinks In Sassafras River.— Members Of Crew Had Narrow Escape.

The tug Enterprise, of Philadelphia, is sunk in the Sassafras River. Ice carried the vessel on the wreck of the sunken barge Florence O'Brien, which the tug had in tow several weeks ago laden with sand bound from Severn River to Chester, Pa. A report of the sinking of the tug last Saturday was received Tuesday by Captains Wright and White, of the Federal Steamboat Inspection Service.

It was on February 4 that Captain Mott reported to the local inspectors the sinking of the Florence O'Brien which was caught in the ice near the wharf at Betterton and the crew taken off and safely landed. The tug lay up at the wharf until last Saturday, when it got underway and proceeded to the mouth of the Sassafras River only a few miles distance.

The Enterprise was caught in a large ice field, and unable to go ahead or back was carried up the river by the ice jam and struck what is believed to be the wreck of the sunken barge. All on board escaped from the sinking vessel and reached shore in safety. Both the tug and barge are owned by L. B Shaw, 117 Walnut street, Philadelphia.

CAPT. AKERS CAPTURES SEVERAL DREDGERS

State Oyster Boat Stops Oysterman With Shot Across Bow on Forbidden Grounds—Comes Into Port as Did The Seaman of 1812, With Two Prizes of War Following.

How he was compelled to fire a shot across the bow of the Margaret Travers, an oyster boat, in order to stop her, and how he chased two others for hours with his prize following him, was told by Capt. George S. Akers, of the State oyster patrol boat Annie B. Smith, in the Eastern Police Station Tuesday morning before Justice Gerecht, when he appeared against James Briscoe, colored, and Joseph Taylor, captains of the two boats which he captured on the charge of dredging on forbidden grounds.

Captain Akers left Annapolis Monday morning and sailed in the direction of Swan Point Bar, Kent county. In these waters he saw three oyster boats whose movements convinced him that they were dredging. He got within a mile before they saw who he was, and then they set out at full speed.

The wind favored him and he soon overtook the Margaret Travers, commanded by Captain Taylor. When the boat failed to stop, the one-pounder mounted on the Annie B. Smith was brought into action, and a shot was fired across her bow. The effect was an immediate lowering of her sails.

Not content with this capture Captain Akers ordered Taylor to follow him while he continued his chase after the other two, which were rapidly drawing away from him.

The pursuit continued until noon, when the swifter State schooner began to overhaul Briscoe's craft. Near the mouth of the Patapsco river Captain Akers cut him off and drove him in near Sparrows Point, where he captured him.

With his two prizes following him, he sailed after the third boat, which was making for Canton Hollow. By the time Captain Akers reached it the captain had rowed ashore and disappeared. An investigation showed that the boat had been engaged in dredging, so a warrant was sworn out for Earl Thomas, the captain.

Taylor and Briscoe were released on $1,000 bail each for court on the charge of dredging on forbidden grounds. Taylor was also charged with having unmerchantable oysters in his possession, and additional bail of $500 was required for his appearance on that charge. It was funished.

ICE BLOCKADE BROKEN

After being tied up in Baltimore since Friday, Feb 2nd, the B. S. Ford made a trip to Rock Hall and Chestertown Tuesday, Feb. 27th and will resume her regular trips. The ice boat accompanied the Ford to Rock Hall and considerable ice was encountered off the Swan Point bar and at the entrance to the harbor. The steamer arrived here at 8.15.

The Susquehana made a special trip to Tolchester Monday returning the same day.

The Ericsson steamer arrived at Betterton Monday.

Practically all Eastern Shore steamboat lines have resumed their regular schedules thereby relieving the freight situation. The wharves in Baltimore were piled up with freight awaiting transportation to the merchants on the Eastern Shore whose supplies had been greatly depleted.

The Love Point steamer had difficulty in landing at her wharf on Monday morning owing to the ice. After having nearly reached the landing she became hung in the ice and could not be extricated for some time.

Postmaster T. D. Bowers entertained the postoffice clerks, rural and city carriers at a sumptuous dinner at the Eastern Shore Inn on Thursday evening. Covers were laid for 18 guests. The menu was in charge of Mr. Clarence Newcomb, and was bountifully and splendidly served by the management.
