PERSONAL AND SOCIETY EVENTS IN KENT COUNTY

Mr. Augustine Hendrickson of Millington, was a welcome visitor at the NEWS office this week. He has been a subscriber, reader and valued friend of the NEWS for over 40 years and now leaves Kent to make his home in Smyrna, Del., with relatives, though he still calls Kent his home. We hope he may enjoy many more years of good health and happiness and spend as much time as possible in old Kent.

Mrs. Amy McMenamin and boys are preparing to remove to their Washington Avenue residence.

Mr. Frederick G. Usilton has compiled a history of Kent county, Maryland, which will be found interesting and useful by all who know this famous old county or who have occasion to seek information concerning it. It begins with those early days of the seventeenth century when William Claiborne's activities caused so much trouble for the Maryland colony and brings the record down to the present day. Part of the text is taken from Mr. Gambrill's history, and poems by The Bentztown Bard, George Alfred Townsend, Oliver Huckel and P. Wroth on subjects pertinent to the county's history are incorporated in the book.—Balto. Sun, Feb 24, 1917.

THIRTIETH ANNIVERSARY

Notwithstanding the deplorable condition of the roads, about one hundred guests were royally entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Rash on Monday evening, the occasion being the 30th anniversary of their wedding. The affair was creditably managed by their children, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Rash, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Carter and Mr. and Mrs. Barney Cooper, while Mr. and Mrs. Rash thoroughly enjoyed their friends and the reminiscences of the thirty congenial years they had spent together. Mr. Rash wore a white carnation buttoniere while Mrs. Rash wore a corsage of fern and white carnations. Evergreens and potted plants were artistically arranged throughout the house while white carnations and sweet-scented violets were the flowers of the evening. Recitations and music was much enjoyed by all. The dining room was a very notable feature, not the slightest trace or faintest suspicion of the high cost of food was in evidence there, but simply a profusion of the most palatable eatables were plentifully served to all. The presents were many and beautiful and costly, being chiefly of silver and cut glass. May this prince of good fellows and his amiable wife live to spend many more happy and useful years together is the wish of the writer.

A ROAD MEETING has been called to meet at Betterton for this morning to co-operate with the Road Engineer to put gravel on the road leading from Betterton to the following farmers: A. L. RASIN & SILLS have sold their warehouse at Buck Neck to Cooper, Hogans & Wathen, who will run grain and tomatoes this year. See Adv.

AN entertainment will be given in Christ M. P. Church next Wednesday evening by Miss Mayme Thompson's class, to which the public are invited.

AN ORDER OF OWLS is being organized in Chestertown by Mr. G. L. Cook. This order is 12 years old and has over 2,800 nests and a membership of over 400,000 in the United States.

THE annual banquet of the Loyal Order of Moose, No. 1496, of this town, was held last Tuesday evening. A most elegant repast was served, consisting of all the delicacies of the season.

A DISPATCH from Dover says: "Practically all the tomato canneries in and around Dover, as well as throughout Kent county, have contracted for this year's crop at 25 cents per basket."

THE Morrow Brothers gave a very good musical entertainment at the Lyceum Monday night. The brothers are good singers, some of them very clever impersonators, and they are good instrumentalists, giving quite a variety.

PROF. F. A. GREENHAWK, the Manual Training Instructor of Rock Hall High School for the past ten years, has resigned, to take effect March 6th. It is reported that Mr. Grsenhawk is going with the Boy Scouts of the Wilmington District.

AT a meeting of the Boy Scouts of Chestertown on Friday night of last week they elected captain and manager for first and second baseball teams, as follows: For first team captain, Andrew Perry; manager, Walter Pippin. For second team captain, Gilbert Byron; manager, James Kirby.

THE farmers in the neighborhood of Buck Neck will be able to plant a large acreage of tomatoes, as Messrs. Cooper, Hogans & Walthen are preparing to freight them and also to contract for Langrell. This firm will also freight grain out of the creek as per notice in another column.

THE will of the late Mrs. Alice R. McWhorter was admitted to probate in the Orphans' Court Tuesday, and Mr. Frank McWhorter was made executor. All the heirs signed a contract of settlement, in which Mrs. Sterling gets the elegant home and contents, together with a small sum of money.

THE new way of heating the home is by pipeless system. Messrs. Graham & Thomas, of Chestertown, are agents for the "Empire Pipeless System." They are now installing heaters in the homes of Mr. J. Thos. Smith, in Queen Annes, and Mr. Walter Wright, near Chestertown. See their adv. in today's NEWS.

THE Jones house, on Cannon street, was sold at sheriff's sale Tuesday to John Bartley, for $305. Mr. Bartley since then has purchased the Guest double house of L. B. Russell, at the corner of the alley and fronting on Cannon street. This gives him a fine lot all the way from High to Cannon streets.

THE trappers have been reaping a harvest this winter. Messrs. Pfeffer, Everett, Gardner and White lead the bunch. A black skunk was caught by Capt. Jim Everett in Morgan Creek last week. Mr. Thos. Davis, of Riverside, claims to have caught a white muskrat. These are a rarity. W. T. Capel, on the Wilmer farm, opposite Riverside, brought to the NEWS office on Wednesday two creamy muskrats, which are beauties. He wants to stuff them and add them to his collection of birds, &c.

THE basket ball game last Friday night between Washington and the University of Pennsylvania resulted in a victory for the home team by the score of 47 to 14. Caldwell and Brown starred, while Cain's floor work and Wallis and Young's defensive playing proved a bulwark of strength. St. John's will play here to-night for the State championship. Automobiles can reach the Washington College gymnasium by taking the back road to the college.

THERE are said to be an average of 20 autos stolen from Philadelphia every Sunday. Three-fourths are found stalled Monday morning, while the others give detectives a hard chase to find. One of these stolen cars was sold to Mr. J. H. Clendaniel, Jr., by parties that he considered reliable, and he in turn traded it to Mr. Charles Jessop. A detective from Philadelphia came to Chestertown last Friday and took the auto back to that city with him. Mr. Clendaniel never suspected anything being wrong when he bought the auto—a Ford—and a few weeks later sold same to Mr. Jessop. Mr. Clendaniel has assured Mr. Jessop that he will reimburse him and is joining in the search for the thief who sold him the car.

DEATHS

Mr. Samuel T. Caldwell, one of the well-known citizens of Kent and the oldest official member of Olivet M. E. Church, Galena, passed away last Friday afternoon about four o'clock.

Mr. Caldwell passed his eighty-third birthday just a few days before his death.

He leaves to mourn his loss, three daughters, Mrs. Belle Murphy, of Phila.; Mrs. Lewis King, of Warwick; and Mrs. Sarah Norris, of Still Pond; a step daughter and four sons, Messrs. Henry, of Chicago; and James, Thomas and Sam'l G., of Galena.

Funeral services were held at Olivet M. E. Church Monday afternoon at one o'clock, Rev. J. W. Sutton officiating, assisted by the Rev. A. P. Prettyman. Undertaker J. L. Smith, of Millington, had charge of funeral arrangements. The bearers were six grandsons of the deceased; Messrs. James and Herbert Caldwell, Carl Norris, Price Hanson and Samuel Hing.

Robt. H., infant son of Mr. and Mrs. George Harris, of near Hanesville, died Sunday night and funeral was held on Tuesday, services conducted by the Rev. B. F. Jester. Undertaker C. L. Dodd had charge of burial arrangements.

Mr. Joseph Harbison died at Easton Hospital last Wednesday after a short illness aged 65 years. The body was brought to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Page Hickman, on the Jarrell farm near town, on Thursday and the funeral was held yesterday, Friday afternoon, with interment at Still Pond. Undertaker W. H. Krusen had charge of the funeral.

Freight Wreck on R. R. Delays Passengers

Twenty or more ladies and gentlemen on the Pennsylvania Railroad last Friday, coming from Baltimore to Chestertown and elsewhere, were very much inconvenienced and disappointed in not being able to reach their destination until the following day. A freight wreck near Havre de Grace caused a delay of more than an hour and the train failed to make connection with the express at Porter's.

The conductor notified all passengers for Chestertown, Centreville and points South to leave the train at Newark and go to Wilmington, where they would be cared for until the next morning. The reader can imagine the disappointment which existed in that company. There was an orchestra going to play for a dance at Washington College, a young lady going to Galena to see her sick father, several ladies going to attend a dance at Chestertown, &c., &c. But all had to make the best of it, and upon reaching Wilmington were taken care of by the railroad company.

In the company were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Skipper, Mr. and Mrs. Fred. G. Usilton, Misses Rosalie Cain, Mabel Lentz, Annabelle Harrison, Miss Skirven, Messrs. Samuel Hicks, Owen C. Smith, George Parrott, Stanley Porter, Chester Cousey, J. Frank Harper, Aaron Heller and several couples for Sudlersville. All survived the delay and every one seemed to make the best of it.

THE following new books have been added to Chestertown Public Library.

A Circuit Rider's Widow, Cora Harris.
The Hillman, E. Phillips Oppenheim.
The Last Ditch, Will L. Comfort.
The Story of a Pioneer, Anna Shaw.
