PERSONAL AND SOCIETY EVENTS IN KENT COUNTY

Hon. Wm. M. Slay and sister left Wednesday for a two-weeks stay at one of the Florida resorts.

We are glad to report Mr. M. W. Thomas who was operated on at Easton Hospitel last Friday, as doing nicely.

Mrs. Mollie Lambourn, (nee Miss Millie Taylor) sister of Capt. Wm. J. Taylor, had the misfortune to fall down stairs at her home in Wilmington last week fracturing her shoulder blade, dislocating an elbow, and fracturing a rib. A letter from her home states that she is doing as well as can be expected.

Mr. James Metcalf the Chestertown grain dealer, received notice last Tuesday evening of the death of a cousin in South Africa in one of the uprisings there among the natives against the British Government. Mr. Metcalfe has many relatives in England and this makes the seventh cousin that Mr. Metcalfe has lost since the European war began, the other six sleeping in stricken Belgium, along the banks of the Verdun or beneath the frozen sod of Flanders.

Mr. Carey Jarman, son of Dr. and Mrs. G. Allen Jarman, of Chestertown, who is attending college at St Johns, will be in line for a commanding position in the army at a salary of $1750, the appointment to take effect at the close of the Collegiate year. Mr. Jarman is one of the most popular students of St. John's and he well merits this appointment.

Mrs. W. J. Sparks, of Crumpton, has as her guests her neice, Mr. and Mrs. J. Preston Dovell, of Cristobal, Panama. Mrs. Dovell has been in ill health for some time and will be unable to accompany her husband to the Isthmus in March. Mr. Dovell has been an official of the U. S. government for the past 12 years and is at present Superintendent of the two largest coaling stations in the world.

Miss Susie Frazier attended the inauguration, Monday, being the guest of her brother. She spent several days in Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. William Carter, formerly of Montrose, but now of Edge Moor, observed their twenty-seventh wedding anniversary at their home Monday. The day was also Mrs. Carter's birthday anniversary and she was given a post card and a handkerchief shower by her friends. On Saturday night Mr. and Mrs. Carter were given a surprise party by a number of friends. Mr. Carter is postmaster at Edge Moor. Mrs. Carter is well-known here as Miss Florence and is quite an invalid. The NEWS sends greetings on behalf of the many friends in Kent.

R. Groome Parks, Esq., scoutmaster of local Boy Scouts, has organized a library for the boys and will be glad to receive books from anyone who will give them. Nearly all the boys have contributed books and quite a little library is being built. The boys elect their own librarian each week and have taken great interest in the new movement. Mr. Parks deserves great credit for his work with the boys in helping them build up strong characters and fine young manhood.

Mr. Jack Hackett has concluded to return to Baltimore.

G. W. Tracy, a poultry man of national reputation, commenting in the "American Poultry World Journal" on the recent Madison Square Garden Poultry Show, had the following to say concerning a Kent County Poultry Breeder: "Mr. John H. Moffett, Lynch Md., a leading Southern Breeder of S. C. R. I. Reds, spent several days at the show. He is a poultry judge of good repute and has been successful as a breeder and exhibitor, surprising them all at Philadelphia where his first prize cock bird was the "gem" of the show. Mr. Moffett enjoyed his visit and promised that he would be back next year with a string of his birds."

Rev. Milton McCann, pastor of Smyrna Circuit took his wife to a Philadelphia hospital recently to undergo another operation.

Mr. Charles L. Hoff and Miss Rose M. Unger, both of Chester, Pa., were married at the parsonage of Christ M. P. Church last Saturday morning, the ceremony being performed by Rev. J. L. Ward.

Local Notes

TALBOT packers are offering $15.00 per ton for tomatoes.

PART of the wharf at Cliffs was carried away by the ice.

MEASLES are prevalent among the young folks in town.

THE Greek—Graham, Clements & Sutton trial has been removed to Caroline court in May.

THE beautiful operetta, "Priscilla," will be given by the Chestertown Choral Club April 17th and 18th.

GASOLINE and whiskey make a bad mixture, especially when the gasoline is in the car and the whiskey in the driver.

CHESTERTOWN'S new shoe store, conducted by Mr. A. Sachs, of Baltimore, will be opened in the Toulson building about March 15.

THE lot on Water street opposite John D. Urie, Esq., has been purchased by Mr. Howard Strong who will erect a cosy residence thereon early this year.

THE Executive Committee of the Inter-State Milk Producers Association has fixed the wholesale price of milk for March at 5½ cents per quart until further notice.

IT is reported that the Pote farm near Kennedyville has been sold at private sale to Mr. John Comegys for $7500. This farm contains 86 acres. Mr. Comegys now tenants the Hurtt farm.

BY advertisement in this issue the County Treasurer gives notice that all taxes remaining unpaid April 1st will be collected according to law by the advertisement and sale of the assessed property.

THE following names have been given local roads in and near Chestertown because of their fearful condition: Washington Avenue—Panama Canal; College Avenue—Suez Canal; Fannell's Branch road—Culebra cut.

THE owner of Still Pond cannery, Mr. G. W. Oliver, of Somerset, is contracting for tomatoes at $15 per ton. Mr. John N. Bennett is their agent, and he informed the NEWS on Tuesday that he wanted 175 acres at that price.

THE Smith-Webster Co. of Bel Air, last week sold a carload of three pound "spot" tomatoes, belonging to a local packer, for the remarkably high price of $1.65 per dozen. Last year this same pack would have sold for 85 cents.

THE team driven by Master Skirven Startt broke down near the cemetery on Monday morning and dumped the occupants in the road. The horse came running down High street with shafts only and was caught at Sheats' shop. No one was hurt.

THE new drug store on High street will be ready for business on or about March 20th. Mr. A. L. Sterling, the proprietor, has met with success in all his undertakings. He even set a hen Friday on 13 eggs and she came off Friday with 13 chicks all alive and chirping. This is a good omen.

THE Chestertown Order of Moose held a fine banquet last week. The Voshell House chefs cooked the turkey, while Messrs. Herbert Lusby and Jake Wilbur made the salad and cooked the ham. A feature of the spread was the Texas salad made by Mr. John G. Usilton which was enjoyed by all. About fifty were present.

THE new bridge at Georgetown will be constructed to the South of the present structure and that travel will not be interrupted. It is said that labor will be paid $2 per day which is playing havoc with the farmers' plans.

THE County Commissioners sitting as a Board of Review, will begin their sessions next week, cards having been sent to tax payers of the 6th district. It is said that the total assessment is above the present, the greatest per centage of increase being in the 1st district. It is hoped that the Commissioners will be able to overcome all injustice.

ENGINEER C. S. GALE was presented with a handsome silver loving cup by the eight engineers of the State Roads Commission who have been under him in Easton residency prior to their leaving for other posts. Those who were party to the gift were Engineers Hawkins, Shure, Eisenhardt, Fort, Crouch, Krummel, Day and Heile.

THE town commissioners have granted the request of some of Chestertown's citizens to erect a monument to the Union and Confederate dead on the public square. Full particulars later.

AN infant was found on the crossing between Hurlock's and Thompson's store in Chestertown Wednesday night by Officer Cooper, deserted and dead. The coroner deemed an inquest unnecessary and the undertaker took charge of the body.

MR. CLAUDE TRUSLOW received about three hundred and fifty fine white leghorn hens last week for breeding purposes and another big lot this week. He expects to have about 5,000 chickens later. They have been snugly housed in his new houses across the river from town. Mr. Truslow has received thirteen fine cockerels of the Lady Eglantine strain and is prepared to furnish eggs for setting.

THE Chestertown Laundry will reopen as soon as machinery can be installed. Mr. James W. Crouch last Saturday purchased the laundry from Mr. J. W. Russell. Mr. Norman Crouch will be business manager with Mr. A. K. Heller as foreman. The fine work turned out by this local industry is now appreciated since other laundries on the Shore have been tried. It is one of the much-needed concerns here and merits the support of all.

THE new Order of Owls being organized at Chestertown by Mr. G. L. Cook now has about thirty prospective members. The new order is meeting with flattering success, says Organizer Cook, and if the present rate keeps up the Chestertown Nest of Owls will be a large one.

THE public sale by John D. Gill, on the Drummond Farm, in Middle Neck, advertised in KENT NEWS, was largely attended despite the miserable condition of roads. Stock and implements sold netted $1900, but the sale was stopped at 4 o'clock because of the bad weather. Two brood sows, weighing 175 pounds each, sold for $84. Eight other brood sows brought $28 to $36 each. Twenty-seven head of ewes brought $15.50 each. The implements which had been used but three seasons, brought high prices. Mr. Gill had been offered $6 000 for the proceeds of the sale but he declined the offer. He recently sold his farm to William Price for $27,600, and will move his family to Philadelphia. The remainder of the stock will be sold later.
