Why Buy McClure's?

McClure's Magazine is bought and read in homes not because it is a magazine, but because it is the magazine. Why?

FIRST—THE PRICE. It costs but one dollar a year, or less than ten cents a number, for over thirteen hundred two column pages of reading matter. This amounts in actual bulk to twenty or twenty five books costing anywhere from a dollar to two dollars a volume.

SECOND—QUALITY. The reading matter is written by America's leading writers—the best short story writers on timely articles, the best writers of important serials, such as Schurz's Reminiscences or Baker's Railroad articles.

THIRD—TIMELINESS. The reading matter in McClure's is not only good; it is not only entertaining, amusing, instructive and inspiring—it is also about the subjects in which you and all Americans are most interested at the time. No subjects in the next 12 months are going to be so important as the question of railroad rates and rebates and the question of life insurance. Both of these questions will be discussed by authorities in an impartial, careful, interesting way.

FOURTH—ITS CHARACTER. McClure's Magazine is not edited for children, but at the same time, there is never a line in it that any young girl might not read. Its advertising pages are as clean as its editorial pages.

McClure's Magazine

in your home is intended to work only for good. Send $1.00 to-day for one year's subscription, or leave an order at your book-store.

S. S. McCLURE COMPANY, 47 East 23d Street NEW YORK

You can earn a good income by taking up the business of securing subscribers for McClure's. It is clean and self-respecting—a publication any man or woman would like to represent. The pay is 25 cents for each $1.00 subscription, in addition to big cash prizes for the best work. Write to-day for full particulars.

HELEN ADAIR'S PALM BEACH LETTER.

Picturesque and Charming Models.—Gradual Change In The Figure Of The Woman Of Fashion.

Surely fashions were never before so picturesque and charming as those gracefully worn by the fashion leaders among the early arrivals at Palm Beach, whose gowns represent the latest efforts of a score of the world's best modistes.

The striking features of last season's modes are being developed along the lines to which we have given our approval, and each day sees some new and clever adaption of these general ideas translated into lighter materials.

And while our present styles continue—and they seem to have taken a new lease of life—there is no known fabric that can possibly supersede silk. Every day brings forth from our silk looms creations more beautiful than the last, in such attractive profusion, and so as one with the mode, that no one can make a mistake in choosing silk for gowns intended for any occasion—however much the models may differ.

And genuine silk,—silk that will wear and look well until one is tired of seeing it can be obtained. It is a matter of confidence, not so much, perhaps, in our merchant's honesty, and in his judgement.

It was native astuteness on the part of a great American expert in silks, possibly, and the belief that our clever woman would richly reward the man who could gain their confidence in his judgement of silks, that caused him to do such a before-unheard-of thing as to start the little twenty-second street shop where nothing but silks were to be sold. He named his shop "Nothing but Silks," and the result is now an old story—Success!

It is interesting to note the gradual change in the figure of the woman of fashion. Only last year the large waist and pointed front effect were the aim of the leading corset makers, but now the most popular C-Ba la Spirite models are giving a decidedly smaller waist, and the more tight fitting the effect of coat or waist the smarter the costume is thought.

In matters of underwear, the wardrobe of the woman of fashion contains little that is not airy and beautiful, and bulkiness is a thing of the past. Instead of seven pieces of underwear only four are used.

Gowns with incoming of thinner silks, will naturally be shirred and flounced, and materials that adapt themselves to such handling will be much in demand.

For such gowns China and India silk are extremely pretty, and among the successful innovations in inexpensive silk for this use nothing equals the soft and lustrous Suesine silk of which the gown on the right in my illustration is composed. Suesine silk has enough silk to preserve all the lustre, color and fine draping qualities of the best China silk, and enough cotton to keep the price within reach of her whose wardrobe allowance is limited.

"Taupe" or smoked brown, formerly called leaf brown, is especially popular this season, its softness of tone being particularly becoming.

HELEN ADAIR.

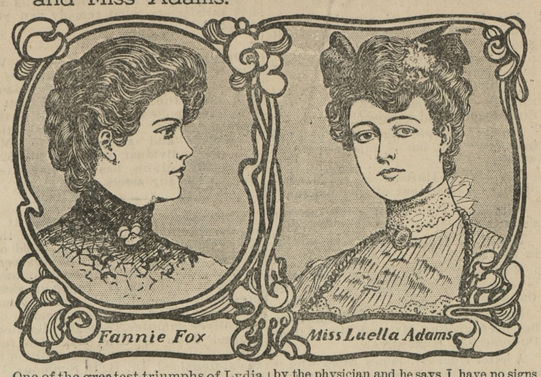
Apple Cure for Drunkards.—"For ten years," said a physician, "I have advocated apples as a cure for drunkenness. In that time I have tried the apple cure on some forty or fifty drunkards, and my success has been most gratifying.

"Let any man afflicted with the love of drink eat three or more apples daily, and the horrible craving will gradually leave him. The cure will be greatly helpsd along if he also smokes as little as possible.

"I know a woman who cured a drunken husband without his knowledge by keeping always a plentiful supply of good apples on the dining table. The man ate these apples and finally stopped drinking altogether.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Tumors Conquered Without Operations

Unqualified Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in Cases of Mrs. Fox and Miss Adams.



One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's dread enemy, Tumor.

So-called "wandering pains" may come from its early stages, or the presence of danger may be made manifest by excessive monthly periods accompanied by unusual pain extending from the abdomen through the groin and thighs.

If you have mysterious pains, if there are indications of inflammation, ulceration or displacement, don't wait for time to confirm your fears and go through the horrors of a hospital operation; secure Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once and begin its use and write Mrs. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass., for advice.

Read these strong letters from grateful women who have been cured:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— (First Letter.)

"In looking over your book I see that your medicine cures Tumors. I have been to a doctor and he tells me I have a tumor. I will be more than grateful if you can help me, as I do so dread an operation."—Fannie D. Fox, Bradford, Pa.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— (Second Letter.)

"I take the liberty to congratulate you on the success I have had with your wonderful medicine.

"Eighteen months ago my periods stopped. Shortly after I felt so badly I submitted to a thorough examination by a physician, and was told that I had a tumor and would have to undergo an operation.

"I soon after read one of your advertisements and decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. After taking five bottles as directed, the tumor is entirely gone. I have again been examined by the physician and he says I have no signs of a tumor now. It has also brought my periods around once more; and I am entirely well. I shall never be without a bottle of Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the house."—Fannie D. Fox, Bradford, Pa.

Another Case of Tumor Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"About three years ago I had intense pain in my stomach, with cramps and raging headaches. The doctor prescribed for me, but finding that I did not get any better he examined me and, to my surprise, declared I had a tumor.

"I felt sure that it meant my death warrant, and was very disheartened. I spent hundreds of dollars in doctoring, but the tumor kept growing, till the doctor said that nothing but an operation would save me. Fortunately I corresponded with my aunt in one of the New England States, who advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before submitting to an operation, and I at once started taking a regular treatment, finding to my great relief that my general health began to improve, and after three months I noticed that the tumor had reduced in size. I kept on taking the Compound, and in ten months it had entirely disappeared without an operation, and using no medicine but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and words fail to express how grateful I am for the good it has done me."—Miss Luella Adams, Colonnade Hotel, Seattle, Wash.

Such unquestionable testimony proves the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and should give confidence and hope to every sick woman.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all ailing women to write to her at Lynn, Mass., for advice.
