THE GRANGE TREE KNOWN BY ITS FRUIRT

Some Good Work Done By Kennedyville Grange

While many Patrons lament the little interest taken in the work of the order and consequent slow growth of the same fortunally there are others who put doing ahead of lamenting and so avoid regret by activity in the many things that may be done to impart life and spirit into the work.

If some members of dull Granges would stop deploring the dullness of the meetings and by shutting out every other thought for a moment give their faculties over to meditation and serious inquiry, there would come to them a vision of the great possibilities of the Order, a conception of what the Grange can and should do, also the extremely important fact that success can only be attained by the united effort of all—every man and every woman doing their bit, making use of every opportunity to say a word or perform an act for promoting some line of activity as previously planned and agreed upon by the body.

Let a line of work be selected, some phase of which being assigned to each member so there shall be no cyphers and no slackers. Each patron a factor actively engaged in working out his problem. For "it is working that makes a good workman" and it is activity that makes a good grange. Everyone of us subscribing to the slogan "plenty of work and every body busy." An appropriate yell for such a grange would be:

Good, better, best
Never let us rest
Till our grange is better
And our better best

An example of this is to be found at Kennedyville, Kent County, Maryland where they have added more than 25% to their membership and a still larger rate of increase to their treasury. In addition to this they have organized and trained two degree teams and have utilized them in initiating classes of about fifty accessions, doing the work with improvement to themselvns, pleasure to the candidates and great profit to the order. This work demonstrates the dignity of the Fraternity, commands the respect of those who join us and shows that farmers have as much sense as other people and can do things when they try.

As first impressions are most lasting candidates coming into the grange where they are received in due form, marches, drills, lectures and tableaux all effectively rendered—receive an impression of the beauty, dignity and grace of the work, together with the sublimity of its teachings that challenge the admiration and secures the esteem of such candidates right at the threshold of the Grange.

The Grange referred to above, having been requested by Valley Grange, Cecil county, to confer the 1st and 2nd degrees on a large class of candidates, chiefly sisters, answered "yes" and so arranged to make this trip of fifty miles or more, taking with them the paraphernalia, tableaux requirements, etc. Leaving Kennedyville at 3.30 P. M. Tuesday, June 5to, the hall at Hopewell was reached in three hours including some delays. Ample preparations having been made at the hall to please the lovers of the beautiful by the artistic arrangement of cut flowers as well as to satisfy the wants of the "inner man," fifty of the Kent Patrons sat down to a beautiful repast served by the Cecil sisters in a manner characteristic of Maryland hospitality and measuring up to Grange ideals of community spirit and fraternal cordiality.

Supper being ended the degree work began. Owing to the electric storm which swept over the peninsula at this hour, a dozen or more candidates were kept away, but thirty of the fair sex and eleven men presented themselves for initiation. Brother Edgar R. Pennington as Master of the team, Sister E. R. Pennington as director of marches and drills and Sister McCabe as manager of tableaux, together with assistants did the work in an impressive manner. The initiation being finished, short speeches were made by Bro. Pennington, Worthy Master of Kennedyville; Bro. McDowell, W. M. of Valley; Bro. Wm. G Smyth, W. M. of Kent County Pomona; sister T. E. W. Crew, State Sect'y, and the writer, announcing Field Days to take place in August next. This brought to a close a most extraordinary occasion, one that will be remembered with pleasure in the years that lie before us. Notwithstanding the heavy rainfall with some slippery roads, the round trip was made without accident, the party of eleven automobiles reaching home before breakfast all happy and ready to repeat such a trip when circumstances favor it. It is splendid to be in touch with such life and vim. It helps to keep us young.

We expect Valley Grange to return this visit Monday, June 18th, at which time the 3rd and 4th degrees will be conferred by the home Grange in their hall at Kennedyville. Let the whole State say hurrah for the Kennedyville Grange Tree!

J. T. ANTHONY.

CAPT. C. H. LEWIS HAS PASSED AWAY

Capt. Charles H. Lewis, one of the oldest and best-known navigators here, died June 7 from the infirmities of age at his home, 1429 William street, Baltimore, Captain Lewis was between 78 and 79 years of age.

Captain Lewis has had a long and eventful career. He began to follow the sea when 12 years old and since then had been all over the world. He was one of the early pioneers who got the California gold fever and in 1849 sailed out of New York on the ship Grace Darling, rounding the Horn to the gold coast. He was also with Admiral Kerry in the China expedition, and during the Civil War ran the blockade out of New York carrying contraband cargoes to to the Southerners. His skill as a navigator is known in practically every port on the Atlantic Coast. At one time his adventure took him to Alaska, where he put into use a patented dredge for the extracting of gold from the sand along the Alaska Coast. He was one of the principal organizers of the Baltimore and Carolina Steamship Company and with M. L. W. Williams, started the line between this port and the Carolina Sounds.

Captain Lewis was the pioneer skipper of the line and for years commanded the George Weems, the first vessel. Later the steamer caught fire off Hatteras and was totally destroyed.

The deceased is an uncle of Capt. Borriegard Lewis, who accompanied him on several trips, the last two being in bringing the Steamer "Carmania" from New Orleans and the last trip the venerable pilot ever made, bringing the Str. "Huntington" this spring from Wilmington, Del.
