SUBSCRIPTION PRICE $1.00 PER ANNUM

Entered at the Post Office at Chestertown Maryland, as Second Class matter.
Obituary and In Memoriam notices cost 5c per line, each insertion.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1917.

THE full quota for Kent county has been sent to Camp Meade.

"GET the most out of life." Who hasn't heard that remark in Chestertown? Some imagine "getting the most out of life" is accumulating riches, hence we have some rich men. Others think it means getting much gleasure, hence we have some fagged out, inefficient, mentally stagnant and poor men. But our idea of getting the most out of life is expressed in the words of Emerson: "He most lives who thinks the most, feels the noblest, acts the best." Try that plan; it'll work and leave no bad after effects.

NOT a single pro-German negro has, up to this writing, been found in the United States. To a man they are for Uncle Sam and the United States first, last and all the time. It is not saying too much, perhaps, to state that every negro in Calcasieu and other parishes in that section between the ages of twenty-one and thirty-one years wanted to go to the war. With them the claims for exemption were few and far between. Five times more than the quota required reported and crowded the places enlistment until they had to be ned away. In Kent there was not a lored man who asked to be exempted.

HOG CHOLERA is still playing havoc in nt. In Somerset county meetings on olera control are being held. All the etings were attended and the farmers e various communities were much terested in the talk by Dr. Biles, Govment Veterinarian, on hog cholera ntrol.

During the talk it was emphasized that g cholera can be controlled by quartine, sanitation and vaccination. It s also brought out at the meetings at much of the hog cholera in the nty in the past was spread by the eams of the county and by the buzzards. After each of the meetings Hog Growers Associations were organized by the County Agent. The object of these rganizations is to keep a strict lookut for hog cholera in the community d take proper measures to protect any tbreaks of this disease. We would commend such action on the part of ent farmers.

THIS WILL INTEREST YOU

The new rules which are to be mailed o the local exemption boards next week ill govern all future drafts, and are rimarily intended to simplify and expedite the process of military selection reafter. In effect, the purpose is to blish a system of classification that save the 10,000,000 men registered ler the draft law a great deal of unessary trouble, and perplexities of exemption boards when the next n is called to the training camps. der the new method each registrant recieve a set of questions, called a stionnaire, which he must answer return to his local board. From e answers the registrants will be ed in five classes, in a clearly de- d order of priority. In this way, n the next traizing call is made, the class liable to immediate ser- will be brought before the boards is estimated that probably 95 per f the men who would have been rged under the old plan will be matically eliminated.

s easy to see how much time and le will be saved by this new arnent, if everybody concerned will a point of co-operating promptly patriotically.

s questionaire classification does ean that there is to be an immesummons to the camps under it. prehension should be felt on that . It will probably be several months re the next call is made. It is ply designed to put every man in the ss to which he belongs.

Million Letters In the Mails Today Bearing Magic Words "With the Colors"

Keynote of the Splendid Work the Y. M. C. A. Does Among Our Men In Uniform Is Keeping Them In Touch With the Folks at Home.

STAMPED WITH STARS AND STRIPES AND RED TRIANGLE

Multifarious Ways in Which the Association Appeals to Your Boy, Your Neighbor's Boy, or Some Boy You Know and Love—Creates a Helpful Environment in Cantonment, on Way Overseas, in Front Line Trench and Beyond—First to Aid as He Comes Tottering Back—Give Your Share of the $35,000,000 Required to Accomplish This "Last Evidence That Somebody Cares."

IT was evening on the broad Hempstead Plain, Long Island, where the Rainbow division was spending its last night before embarking for France. It had been raining hard in the afternoon—a cold, steady autumn downpour—and there was nothing to suggest the rainbow in the outward aspect of the camp. Lines and lines of sodden canvas housed 27,000 men, gathered from 27 different states. The ground was dotted with pools and quagmires. Under the wet canvas it was damp and cold, with a penetrating chill. Lit by flickering candles, the tents were far from cheerful shelter for a man's last night in his native land.

But there were seven big tents where electric lights, numbers and friendliness made the night pleasant.

Music, Games, Good Reading and Correspondence Facilities in Y. M. C. A. Building.

In each of these a soldier was strumming on a piano; others were reading books and magazines; hundreds were writing letters home. Behind the raised counter at one end three or four young men were busy passing out notepaper and envelopes, selling stamps and weighing parcels, which the men were sending home. One of the soldiers said to me as I stood in the tent used chiefly by men from Iowa: "We came all the way here from Des Moines, and we were mighty lonely. Then we found this Y. M. C. A. on the job, and it's been a home and more than a home to us. It gave us what we wanted when we needed it most. We'll never forget it. The boys' best friend is the Y. M. C. A."

Fine, Clean-Cut, Upstanding Fellows.

How close those benches were packed with men, bending over the long tables absorbed in their writing! What an appeal to the sympathies those great groups of soldiers make! Fine, clean-cut, upstanding fellows, some of them mere boys, one thinks immediately of the sacrifice they have made for the rest of us and how precious they are to some one back home. Somewhere, in far off farm or village or city street, there are parents or brothers or wives who would give all they possess for one glimpse of those sunburned faces as you and I see them on their last night before going across. And it was with a throb of the heart that I watched them, bent over their letter paper, in one after another of those seven big tents.

These were the tents of the Y. M. C. A. On that last night in America the association was serving the soldiers in the best of all ways—giving them an opportunity to write home. On previous nights they had enjoyed boxing bouts, movies, concerts, dramatics and a score of healthy entertainments as well as religious meetings. But on this last night home ties were strongest. And perhaps that is the keynote of the splendid work the Y. M. C. A. is doing among our men in uniform—keeping them in touch with home.

Magic Words, "With the Colors."

In these times there are some letters that mean more to us than any we have ever read before. They are written on sheets of paper stamped with the Stars and Stripes and the red triangle of the Y. M. C. A., and they bear the magic words, "With the Colors." There are many more than a million such letters in the mails now while you read this. Perhaps one at least is on its way to you. Each one of our 16 cantonments, where the new national army is being trained, is using more than a million sheets of this paper every month. In the draft army alone that means 16,000,000 filaments of love every month reaching out from the great encampment where the men are being trained into the greatest army this nation has ever dreamed and binding them to the hearts at home. Multiply that by thinking of all the other places where Uncle Sam has men with the flag—in navy yards, on the high seas, in arsenals and officers' training camps and "Over There" in France. In all these places men are writing home. Those unassuming little sheets of notepaper gladden millions of hearts a day. They transfer more love from one part of the world to another than statistics can express. Statistics are pretty poor anyway when it comes to reckoning in terms of love and human tenderness. Let's put it this way: That the Y. M. C. A. is the biggest express company the world has ever seen, and the parcels it is handling are the loves and devotions of human beings.

World's Best Loved Trademark.

This war has made us think hard and fast. Your boy or your neighbor's boy or some boy you know and love has been called to do his share in the big job of policing the world for democracy and human liberty. Is it any comfort to you to know that wherever his duty may call him your boy will have a friend that will serve him in body, mind and soul? Are you glad to know that this friend will place books and magazines at his disposal, organize classes to teach him whatever he wants to learn, give him a pocket testament and invite him to join religious meetings of the faith that he was brought up in? Did you realize that the association provides athletic equipment for his favorite games, teaches him games if he knows none and holds concerts, lectures, movies, Bible classes, dramatic entertainments and every kind of wholesome amusement to keep him interested? Are you glad to know that this friend will go with him overseas, help to shield him from a score of difficult and dangerous temptations and follow him right up to the front line trench and beyond it? The last contact the soldier has with this life he loves so well is a cup of tea given him by the Y. M. C. A. free just before he goes "over the top" to a hand to hand struggle with the enemy. And as he comes tottering back from No Man's Land, wounded, but strong enough and plucky enough to keep on his feet, even before his wounds are dressed the Y. M. C. A. is waiting for him with tea and sweet chocolate, the great comforts of the man in the trenches. Do you wonder that the Red Triangle is called "the best loved trademark in the world?" One soldier in France has called it "the last evidence that anybody cares."

If every thinking citizen could see with his or her own eyes something of the actual work being done for our men by the association there would be no question of the Y. M. C. A. having to appeal to the public for money. Rather than let this essential work falter for an instant rich men would sell their motorcars, poor men would

THE object of this bill is to procure a decree for the sale of the real estate of Mary E. Meyers, late of Baltimore City, deceased.

THE BILL STATES:

1st. That a certain Mary E. Meyres, late of Baltimore City, deceased, was in her life time and at the time of her death possessed in fee simple of certain real estate situate in the Seventh Election District of Kent county, Maryland, in what is known as Quaker Neck, and containing thirty two acres of land, more or less, being improved with a dwelling and necessary outbuildings and which property is now in the tenancy of Bedford Titter.

2nd. This property was left to the said Mary E. Meyers by William W. Brown, late of Baltimore City, by his last will and testament, a cetified copy of which is filed among the Will Records for Kent county, Maryland, and a copy of said Will being filed herewith as Plaintiff's Exhibit No. 1 and prayed to be taken as part hereof.

3rd. That being so seized and possessed the said Mard E. Meyers, died intestate on the 10th day of July, 1916; Letters of Administration have been granted upon her estate to Robert C. Clark and James F. Thrift, who have duly qualified as administrators; copy of said Letters of Administrations being filed herewith as Plaintiff's Exhibit No. 2 and prayed to be taken as part hereof.

4th. That the said Mary E. Meyers left surviving her, neither children, descendants, father, mother, brothers or sisters or descendants of such, but left as her next of kin and only heirs at law, a large number of first cousins, who, your Orators are advised, are entitled as tenants in common to the estate of the said Mary E. Meyers, after the payment of all debts and expenses. That the said personal estate of the said Mary E. Meyers is sufficient to pay all debts and expenses, and all creditors have been paid in full.

5th. That the parties in interest who entitled to participate as next of kin in the estate of Mary E. Meyers, all of whom are living at the time of the death of the said Mary E. Meyers, all of them being first cousins and collaterals of the same degree, are as follows:

a. J. Frank Haynie, who married Ella R. Haynie.

b. Susan O. Coleman, who married Charles Coleman. Both of whom are the children of John Faithful Haynie by his second wife, Sarah C. Haynie.

d. John Oliver Haynie, who married Louisa Darby Haynie.

e. James W. Haynie, who married Carrie V. Haynie.

f. Alice I. Milbourn, who married Stephen C. Milbourn.

All of whom are the children of of Willard S. Haynie and —— Haynie, his wife, the said Willard S. Haynie being an uncle of Mary E. Meyers.

g. Emma F. Frederickson, who married James Frederickson.

h. William Brannan Haynie, unmarried.

i. John Milburn Haynie

All of whom are the children of William Macy Haynie who married Anna M. Brannan, the said William Macy Haynie being an uncle of the said Mary E. Meyers; that it is not known definitely whether the said John Milburn Haynie was living at the time of the death of the said Mary E. Meyers as he had not been heard from for upwards of forty years.

j. Millard Fillmore Haynie, unmarried.

k. Annie B. Haynie Fickett, who married Alvin Fickett.

Both of whom are the children of Stephen William Haynie and Margaret Ann Haynie, his wife, the said Stephen William Haynie being an uncle of the said Mary E. Meyers.

6th. That all of the above named parties in interest are first cousins of the said Mary E. Meyers on the side of her father. That she had a number of first cousins living at the time her death on the side of her mother who, your Orators are advised, share equally with your Orators, as follows:

l. Robert C. Clark, who married Mary Clark.

m. Sarah G. Brown, who married G. Dell Brown.

n. Ida Nillert, who married Emmett N. Nillert.

All of whom are the children of John H. Clark, who married Elizabeth C. Clark, the said John H. Clark being an uncle of the said Mary E. Meyers.

o. Charles T. Clark, who married Florence Clark.

p. Mary B. Ringot, who married Joseph Ringot.

q. Emily F. Glover, who married Charles S. Glover.

r. Cornia R. Pacheco, wife of Augusto F. Pacheco.

s. John H. Clark, who married Frances H. Clark.

t. Valentine D. Clark, who married Anna Clark.

u. Augustine M. Clark, unmarried.

All of whom are the children of Robert C. Clark, who married Isabell Clark, the said Robert C. Clark being also an uncle of the said Mary E. Meyers.

v. Mary Higgins Holton, who married Francis H. Holton, a daughter of Emily Gorsuch Higgins, wife of —— Higgins, the said Emily Gorsuch Higgins being an aunt of the said Mary E. Meyers.

7th. That the above named parties, together with any unknown heirs of equal degree of the said Mary E. Meyers, are entitled as co-tenants to a portion of said property according to their several interests and that such partition cannot be made without loss and injury to the parties in interest.

It is thereupon, this 13th day of November, 1917, ordered by the Circuit Court of Kent county, in Equity, that the Plaintiffs by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in said Kent county, once in each of four successive weeks before the 17th day of December next, giving notice to the said Charles T. Clark, Florence Clark, his wife, Mary B. Ringot, Emily F. Glover, Cornia R. Pacheco, Augusto F. Pacheco, her husband, John H. Clark, Frances H. Clark, his wife, Valentine D.
