SATURDAY, JANUARY 19, 1918.

DON'T scold the coal merchant. He is doing his best to keep you warm.

MILFORD has voted in favor of hogs in town. Glad we don't live there.

EDITORS Frank R. Kent and John W. Owens have done a great service for the State by getting out the Maryland Almanac, successor to the Sun Almanac. This little book has a vast store of information both useful and practical.

THE Chestertown Gas Company are to be congratulated for keeping the public supplied with gas during the recent cold spell. At Elkton, Easton, and various places, the gas tanks became clogged with ice, cutting off the supply, to the great inconvenience of consumers.

THE Cecil Whig says they care little one way or the other about annexation. But we care a whole lot about seeing one man make a monkey of a great party. We also care very much about seeing the Republican party become the tail to the kite of Mayor Preston and John J. Mahon.

IF the U. S. Government would spend one-third of the money it is now wasting in the tons of circular letters, posters, etc., and invest it in newspaper and magazine advertisements we believe it would get better results and not take so many clerks in Washington and clog the U. S. Mails.

BOTH the Easton and Centreville papers have raised subscription price to $1 50. The Baltimore Sun has announced a second increase in its subscription rates to take effect next Monday, the first increase having been made about a year ago. To use its own language, "the increase in price has been made necessary by the heavy burdens imposed on newspapers by the war."

The NEWS hopes to continue at the old price of $1.00 and if our patrons will pay up we feel confident we can do so. Bills are being mailed and the responses very gratifying.

WHAT THE ORDER MEANS

All industrial plants to close until Wednesday, Jan. 23rd, all stores, offices, theaters, saloons billiard and pool rooms to close for 10 Mondays, beginning Jan. 28th. Food stores may remain open until noon, while drug stores may keep open all day. Schools will likely close for the five-day period and every Monday thereafter for 10 weeks.

The Government hopes to save 30,000,000 tons of coal by this order.

Miners say there are miles of loaded cars at the mines, but because of a shortage of engines and men it cannot be moved.

THE Peninsula Horticultural Society which closed its annual meeting at Dover last week went on record as advocating many reforms by legislation. The recommendations included the passage by Maryland and Delaware of a land title law to faciliate the search of land titles and allow such proof of a title when once proven, to be recorded with all transfer of deeds and thus do away with the necessity of a new search of title with each transfer.

The society favored the proposed federal law relative to packing, grading and labeling of apples; the passage of laws in Maryland and Delaware requiring cannery saved seed to be labeled as such; pledged themselves to do everything in their power to produce all foodstuffs possible during the coming year and to use every influence to conserve labor and eliminate waste of food products; pray that the federal authorities take steps to have the great food producers more adequately represented in the council of the Food Administration. Mr. Walter B. Harris, of Kent, was elected vice-president.

LEGISLATIVE NOTES

Delegate Willis was accompanied to Annapolis this week by Alexander Mair, of Betterton, who has been named as one of the employees. As stated last week, Mr. Hartman, of Rock Hall, is also an employee.

Annexation has held the attention of the legislators this week, and it looks like a sure-winner. Delegate Benson doesn't think so.

enators Bartlet and Crothers and Delegate Fox have each introduced the Anti-Gambling Race-Track Bill. Senator Frick of of Balto., has offered a bill to "regulate" racing with a sop of $2500 a day to the state.

Prohibition on the test vote in the Senate has a clear majority, and should do equally well in the House.

A bill to repeal the Wilson ballot law has been introduced.

Hon. Wm. P. Jackson was elected State Treasurer succeeding Hon. John M. Dennis.

THE Philadelpia, Baltimore and Washington Railroad on Tuesday passed out of existence as a separate entity, and will become a part of the general Pennsylvania System, under the lease which is to run for a period of 999 years. As the result of the taking over of this property under the lease the Pennsy has created what is known as a Southern division—the first in the history of the company. This new division will embrace the Maryland, Delaware and Baltimore divisions.

STILL POND GRANGE NOT A DEAD ONE, BY ANY MEANS

Wide Awake Members Hold Interesting Meeting

The night that Still Pond Grange died,
I never shall forget,
All the crowd got full as a tick, and some ain't hungry yet!
As long as the "oats" were passed around, of course the gang all stayed,
And Samuel Roseberry at the piano, played and played and played!

Mary Harris sat in a corner, blowing out her grief,
When Sister Gale and Sister Kelly came hurrying in with some beef.
They sneaked up to the supper room,
and what do you think they found;
Alta Price had eaten so much, she couldn't make a sound.

Everything was going fine, there was plenty of supper for all,
When Harvey said to Albert, "You've got an awful gall"!
I thought that it would start a row,
and sure enough it did,
For Albert was carving the turkey,
on the piano lid.

The eating grew fierce, and fast and loud, the Grangers all pitched in,
And the way they treated that turkey,
it surely was a sin!
And there was Sister Nichols, now
what do you think she done?
She stood the corpse on its head, in a corner, just for fun!

But they ate 'till it all was eaten up;
the waiters they got stung,
For all that was left of that turkey,
was the place where he got hung.
Yet down they sat, these waiters did,
to finish up that wake,
And this is the chorus that they sang:
"For a corpse, you take the cake"!

And that is what every one there thought, when the "wake" was over! Positively, the liveliest meeting we have had for many a day! A lot of "dead ones" were there, but no one knew that they were dead, and three new members were taken in.

Still Pond Grange demonstrated to itself the value of advertising and the value of sandwiches, and as her part in the war believes that the thing can be done! What? Everybody will know before long. Sister Moore, in charge of the ceremonies, proved a delightful entertainer, and her program will remain in the minds of the patrons for a long time. Patriotism was there, and profit too, and the speech of L. L. Burrell combined them both, for he gave us a fine picture of the Thrift Stamp, and then spoke of the corn, potato and pig clubs.

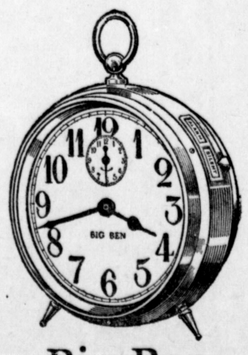
Mr. Nichols was "there" with the "wake" and told us the history of it; Mrs. Price told about "When Pa was Ma," or the reverse, if you like it better that way.

Duets were sung by Sisters Price, Nichols and Harris, and the latter made a conservation plea for the grangers to consider, to wit: Big Spreads! Hoover says, "Go back to the simple life, be content with simple food, simple pleasures, simple food! Work hard, play hard, play hard! Do it all courageously! We have a victory to win."

So for the period of the war, Still Pond Grange will cut out the big spreads, for sandwiches, which were brought instead of the flowers, proved so toothsome, and the work of serving was so simple, that we had more time for play, got home sooner, so had more time for sleep. Hoover asks us to "do it all courageously," and we are not afraid to establish a precedent of any sort, dead or alive!

E. HARRIS, Sec. pro tem.

P. S.—Bessie Taylor gave us several selections, and Sister Gale talked on farming fifty years ago, while Walter Harris told of it fifty years hence.



Big Ben

the clock you've read so much about in the magazines, arrived in my store yesterday with 23 brothers.

They're the finest alarm clocks I've ever laid eyes on. They're built right and right from the ground up. I'm a practical clock man and I know.

They'll be in my window for the rest of the week and I wish you'd come in and look them over.
