SATURDAY, MARCH 23, 1918

Kent County needs a Free Wool Fund and at the opening day at Fairlee Auxiliary house the project was launched by one man saying, "I will be the one hundredth man to give $10.00 towards a fund of $1,000." Another man said, "I'll be the second," another "I'll be the third." So the leaven has started—choose your number and be one of the 100 patriotic men to donate $10 each.

A GREAT INJUSTICE

The Government has issued a bulletin entitled "An Open Letter to the Farmer" and sent it in plate form to the newspapers of the country. It appeared on the 6th page of the "News" last week. This bulletin certainly does the farmer a great injustice in stating that only two per cent. of farmers were holders of Liberty Bonds. In Kent county the bulk of the subscriptions came from farmers.

The Government no doubt has failed to list as farmers the land lords who receive their incomes either directly or indirectly from the farm and these men almost without exception are holders of large blocks of bonds.

If every class of men would be as liberal in buying Bonds as the farmers of Kent there'd be no cause for complaint.

Kent county has always played an important part in the affairs of State and Nation in times of peace and war. This Great War for Humanity finds her giving up her sons and daughters to the cause of right. The first to fall and to receive the Cross of War was Private James F. Potts.

ONE HOUR WILL DROP

At 2 o'clock in the morning of Easter Sunday, March 31, a piece of Federal legislation will go into effect which will change the habits and daily routine of every man, woman and child in the United States

At that hour on that day a mandateof Federal Government will require the advancing of every clock in the country just one hour.

All business of whatever character on the morning of March 31 will begin on the new time basis. It is designed to wake the country up an hour earlier each day, in order to give the American people the opportunity to live a little longer in the daylight. The gain in this direction, of course, is at the end of the day, not at the beginning.

For the time being, the daylight saving scheme is to remain in effect for only seven months of each year. At 2 o'clock in the morning of the last Sunday in October, the hands of the clock are to be moved back one hour. But before October comes the chances are that the country will be so delighted with the change that Congress will decide to extend the day light saving to the whole year.

There is only one sound objection to extending this to the winter season. This objection lies in the fact that it would compel a great many working people to get up before daylight in the morning.

"NOT A SPARROW FALLETH"

The last letter written by James F. Potts was received by his cousin, W. Ernest Clark, of Betterton,

"Now I want to ask you all not to worry one minute about me, because everything is going along fine and I firmly believe that if God wants me to get back home all right nothing can stop me. But if anything should happen, I say 'His will be done.' Not a sparrow shall fall without His notice."

Miss Julia Clark, 73 years old, will receive the cross of War awarded to Private Potts, of the One Hundred and Seventeenth Trench Motor Battery, who was killed in action in France and who was one of the five members of the battery who were awarded the decoration by the French Government.

In addition, she will receive the $10,000 for which Potts' life was insured under the Government plan for insuring its soldiers.

Miss Clark was Potts' foster mother. She took care of him from the time he was 17 months old, when his parents died, until a few years ago, when he left the house and the two and one-half acres at Betterton, where Miss Clark and her brother, William Clark, live, and went to Baltimore. She took him first to the home in Church Hill, Queen Anne's county, where she and her brother, William, and another brother, Ira T. Clark, were all living together in a big, old-fashioned Maryland farmhouse at Church Hill. A spinster among her married brothers, she always made the Potts lad her special charge, and cared for him consistently through all the movements of the family.

She was not concerned about the insurance when she was called over the phone, but she was deeply interested in the Cross of War. She wanted that. She is small and slight, but active, in spite of her 73 years.

A TRIBUTE TO THE MEMORY OF JAMES F. POTTS

Betterton, Md.

Who is the first member of a Maryland Unit to be killed in action in the world's war.
Dead, dead, dead!
Ah me, what do these potent words reveal?
This boy, the victim of a tyrant's steel.
Awake my friends, let every tongue proclaim
A benison upon the hero's name.
Would we could weep about his lowly bed—
Would we could weave the laurel 'round his head—
Could we but speak one word into his ear,
We'd whisper "Glory"—but, he cannot hear.
No thought, no word can ever now express
To him our sorrow; and the tenderness
With which we shall in after years recall
The name of him who was the first to fall
For you, for me—his fellows of old Kent,
The ones who now most poignantly lament
The passing of this soldier true and brave;
Who's found on alien shores an honored grave.
Resound his praise—let timbrels loud acclaim
His noble worth—all virtues of his name.
Let rostrums lend their power, and eyes grow dim;
And all true hearts grow eloquent of him.
Now lies he there where glowing poppies spring,
Where Saxon on the Hun his legions fling.—
Our prayer is said,—alas, 'twill not suffice.—
He's made for us the one last sacrifice.

LARGE PUBLIC SALE

I WILL SELL AT PUBLIC AUCTION AT MY STABLES IN GALENA, MARYLAND,

FRIDAY, March 29, 1918

Beginning at 10.30 a. m., rain or shine

40 to 50 Horses, Mules & Colts

Some of these mules and horses are as good as you will find in any sale ring. All of my own will be said at the high dollar, and most all commission horses and mules are sold as they usually bring a fair price and very seldom one is drawn.

I sold 21 mules and 33 horses and colts at my last sale and I have more good ones at this sale.

Will sell a few good fresh cows, heifers and stock bulls. 150 to 200 shoats and pigs are sold at every sale. One farmer, having bought a tractor, will sell five or six of his best horses, two John Deere Riding Plows, three 20th Century Manure Spreaders, and farm Wagon and a lot of harness.

Make special mention of a resistered Holstein Bull Calf and a pair of twin bull Calves from the best Holstein Cow this farmer ever raised and I expect one of the best cows in Kent Co., and by a registered Holstein bull. These calves will make fine bulls for a farmer to head his heard with.

Will begin selling horses at 12 o'clock.

Will sell rain or seine.

TERMS CASH.

S. G. CALDWELL.

My next sale will be April 12th.

Public Auction

My first SPRING SALE OF HORSES, MULES, COLTS, CATTLE, HOGS AND PIGS will be held at my stables in Cecilton, Md.,

Thursday, Apr. 18, 1918

At 10.30 A. M., rain or shine.

I do not know how many and kinds of each I will have, but will say I will try and have them as good as I can buy; and you all know if they can be had I always buy the good ones; none too good for me.

At this sale I will make a specialty of selling stock for other parties and solicit any consignment of anything you wish to dispose of, either live stock or any other goods. Parties having anything they want to dispose of will let me know as soon as possible, so it can be advertised in advance of sale.

I intend to buy myself for this sale a carload of Good Cows, and I always sell my stock and not appraise it. My record is the five sales made by me in the fall of 1917.

This will be the first sale I can have this spring, as I do not return from the Maryland Legislature until early in April; but I will try and make it a good one.

JOHN ANDERSON.

P. S.—I have at private sale One Carload o Deering Binder Twine, Deering Binders, Mowers Rakes and Repairs. Give me your order early. mar16-ts

PUBLIC SALE —OF— Valuable Real Estate

THE undersigned, as attorney and agent for the owner and under and by virtue of competent authority, will offer at public sale in front of the Court House door, in Chestertown, Maryland, on

TUESDAY, MARCH 26, '18

AT 11.30 O'CLOCK, A. M.
