Local Notes

If you want good music try Twilley's Chestertown Orchestra. They furnished music for the dance at Centreville last Friday.

The recital and musical to be given next Tuesday night in Christ M. P. Sunday School room promises to be an elegant affair. Mrs. Bertha Noble Borton will be the reader besides other attractions.

The Connelly house on Queen street owned by the late Mrs. Kate Bradley was sold at public sale Saturday by John D. Urie, Esq., attorney, to W. H. Waddell for $1,025.

Silus Saul, a well-known colored resident of Chestertown, was given 60 days in jail for keeping a disorderly house. Si is known to many as "Miss Mary."

The Western Electric Company is represented in Kent by S. W. Granberry. Elsewhere in the News the great advantages of this equipment are set forth. Before buying be sure and give the Western a hearing.

The Kings Daughters of Emmanuel P. E. Church will give a subscription card party on Thursday, April 4th, at 8 p. m., at the home of Mrs. S. Scott Beck, Water street.

A big meeting will be held at Rock Hall next Tuesday evening in High School in the interest of War Saving Stamps. Prominent speakers from Baltimore and Washington. Music by outside talent. The directors of the Fifth District campaign are Elsworth Leary, chairman, W. R. Wilson, Elwood Burgess, John Harman, Norris Ashley, John Kelley, Walter H. Davis, secretary.

The following are the woman directors for the Fifth District: Chairman, Mrs. W. O. Selby, vice-chairman, Mrs. John Brice, Mrs. T. B. Durding, Mrs. James Wood, Mrs. Ringgold Jones, Mrs. Josh Thomas, Mrs. Josephine Walters.

A meeting will also be held at Worton Grange, March 25th, at 7.30 p. m., and at Massey Wednesday evening, March 27th. These meetings are held under the direction of Howard Turner who has charge of the War Savings Stamp campaign in Kent.

Fire, supposed to have been started from a defective flue, destroyed the farm house of Edward Spear, on the Bohemia Manor, Saturday evening. The dwelling was of frame construction. All the furniture of the house was also burned, and the family left practically with only the clothing which they wore. Mr. Spear has been peculiary unfortunate from fires, having had his stock barn burned while living on the Lockwood farm near Warwick, three years ago. At that time twelve horses and 2000 bushels of grain were burned. The house in this case was insured for $1,000, but the loss will more than double that amount. Mr. Spear had bought the place but a few months ago.

The Chestertown Bank and its branches have for sale War Saving Stamps issued by the U. S. Government. Patriotism is not only for our gallant men behind the guns which roar out Liberty's challenge but we must all do our part as well. Buy Thrift and War Savings Stamps which pay 4 per cent. compound interest. Call and find out how it works.

Tuesday morning, when Carey Reinhart, president of the board of county commissioners, went to his corn crib on his farm near town, he discovered that the wire netting had been torn away, and a quantity of his feed corn was missing. He discovered footprints leading across his corn field towards Georgetown, a negro settlement about a mile from his home. Following the trail it lead to the house of a colored farm hand. Mr. Reinhart found a quantity of his corn in the possession of the negro, who was arrested and bound over to work for Mr. Reinhart and others for a year.

The Chestertown Choral Society on Tuesday evening presented a wrist watch to their leader, Prof. Ten Hoor, who leaves for Georgia in a few days. President A. M. Culp states that the club hopes to give a concert early in May to consist of numbers which will please all tastes.

Pay increases of 15 per cent. for all employes of the postal service, recommended by the Senate postoffice sub-committee in revising the postoffice appropriation bill, were approved by the full committee, which ordered the bill favorably reported. The increase does not apply to postmasters of the first, second or third classes, but obtains in the case of fourth class postmasters deprived of credit for stamp cancellations.

A curiosity in the shape of a plant is growing in the home of Mrs. Garrett Foxwell on Washington ave. She calls it a "Snake" plant.

Annie E. Cole was arrested in Wilmington on a charge of bigamy and placed in Chestertown jail to await Court.

The following committee on the War Savings Stamps in Chestertown named by Howard Turner are James G. Beck, T. W. Perkins, A. L. Sparks, Norman Jefferson, R. G. Parks, C. S. Smith, P. M. Brooks. Publicity—R. H. Collins, W. B. Usilton and L. B. Russell.

The Fairlee Auxilary house donated by Mrs. A. M. Kendall was formerly opened for work Thursday at 11 a. m. Quite a number of earnest workers, garbed in white, were soon initiated into the mystery of making surgical dressings, Mrs. Jane Robinson supervising, and Mrs. James W. Crouch being the instructor in making hospital garments.

HAND OF DEATH

William J. Rutter died at his home in Locust Grove Friday morning, Mar. 15, at about 7 o'clock. He had been in poor health for a number of years. The deceased was the oldest son of William J. and Susan A. Rutter and was in his 53rd year of his age. The funeral services was held at the home of his brother and sister near Locust Grove on Monday afternoon at two o'clock, conducted by Rev. Peter Schaurer, of Kennedyville M. P. Church, interment in adjoining church yard. The pall bearers were Cornelius and Harry Jarvis, Linwood and John Redmile, George Rasin; undertaker W. H. Krusen, in charge.

George E. DeCorse died at Laurel, Md., on Saturday, March 9th, of pneumonia, and was buried at Salisbury on Tuesday, March 12th. Mr. DeCorse was formerly of Kent county and leaves a widow and four brothers. J. P. DeCorse, of Chestertown, Barney and Thomas DeCorse, of Baltimore, and Frank, of New York.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Wethered Janvier on Monday was the largest seen in Kent for many years.

Mrs. Amelia Ford, died at the home of her sons, Joseph and Lewis Ford near Townsend, Del., Thursday evening, March 14, aged ninety-four years. She is survived by eight children: Mrs. Anna Bramble, Massey, Mrs. Mary Golt, Townsend, Mrs. Elizabeth Hessey, Locust Grove, Mrs. Susie Jewell, Summit Bridge, Mrs. Rachel Blanchard, Earleville, Thos. Ford, Elkton, Joseph and Lewis Ford, Townsend; also by thirty-five grandchildren. Services were held at Delaney's Chapel, Rev. J. M. Link, of Warwick, officiating, with interment in adjoining cemetery.

LEGISLATIVE NOTES

One week more and the Maryland Legislature will adjourn.

The Annexation Bill has passed and the public will be glad. It has been an issue for several years. We hope it is settled right so that it will not come up again.

The House quietly and finally passed without a dissenting vote, Delegate Willis' State-wide dog law, thus taking from the counties that political bone which has sent many a man to the Legislature—and kept as many more away from the fair city of Annapolis. The bill provides a uniform license fee all over the State; says a man may kill any unlicensed dog found on his premicis, and has drystic provisions for the recovering of damages for sheep or other cattle killed by stray canaies.

The Fox State-wide anti-betting law which would prohibit all gambling at racetracks, came to the floor of the House with a favorable report from the Judiciary Committee and was rassed to i tsthird reading.

The State-wide Hunting bill, introced by Delegate Bryant, of Baltimore county, was passed to its third reading in the House by a practically unanimous vote, and it has good chances of going through and of being passed in the Senate. Substantially the same measure is now in effect in 44 states.

It provides that every gunner in the State shall have a license permitting him to hunt, that the fees for residents of the State shall be $1 for license to hunt in the county of which he is a resident, and $5 for a State-wide license, and that non-residents shall pay a license fee of $10.

Appreciating the necessity of properly providing for the maintenance of the State roads system, the Senate adopted without a dissenting vote the schedule of motor-vehicle license fees agreed upon by the Finance and Ways and Means Committees last week.

This schedule increases the license on pneumatic-tired automobiles from 50 to 60 cents per horsepower and establishes the following fees for the registration of solid tire machines or trucks:

One-ton truck, $20 a year; two-ton truck, $40 a year; three-ton truck, $60 a year; four-ton truck, $100 a year; five-ton truck, $150 a year; six-ton truck, $300 a year; seven-ton truck, $500 a year. Electric trucks to pay one-half the fees charged for other trucks.

Another amendment prohibits the registration in the future of anything larger than five-ton trucks.

Senator Frick secured the adoption to the bill of an amendment giving pedestrains the right of way over automobiles at street crossings in cities and towns and automobiles the right of way at other places.

Finally an amendment was adopted making the bill an emergency measure to take effect April 1 instead of June 1.

PERSONAL AND SOCIETY EVENTS IN KENT COUNTY

HOG CHOLERA PREVENTABLE

Hog raising is a boon to Maryland. A campaign to make it a safe industry in Kent county is being inaugurated by County Agent L. L. Burrell.

Hog cholera is discouraging the farmers of Maryland from trying to raise hogs. To aid the farmers in this difficulty, the Extension Service of the Maryland State College of Agriculture, the State Board of Agriculture, and the United States Bureau of Animal Industry co-operating are conducting a systematic campaign throughout the State for the control of this disease. But it must be remembered that success in the work depends on the farmers themselves, for the fight must be made on the farm. When meetings are arranged for your neighborhood it is urged that you attend. What you will learn regarding the management and care of hogs will prove profitable even though there is no hog cholera in the community.

Failure on the part of the farmers and stock raisers to attend these meetings means that Kent county will continue to suffer large and unnecessary losses from this dread disease.

Meetings arranged for next week are as follows:

Tuesday, March 26, Locust Grove, School house at 8 p. m.

Wednesday, March 27, Kennedyville, School house at 8 p. m.

Thursday, March 28, Still Pond, School house at 8 p. m.

Ladies especially invited.

During the following weeks meetings will be held throughout the county.
