DRAFT CALLS 21 FROM KENT

Approximately 150,000 men will be sent to training camps during the fiveday period beginning April 26, under orders sent to state governors by Porvost Marshal General Crowder for mobilization of the April call of the second draft. Of the 150,000, Maryland will furnish 2,120 men. Kent county's quota of the new draft is 21 men. The list will be completed next week.

A TERRIFIC STORM

April 9, 10 and 11 will be known as the big rain, hail and wind storm in Kent. Trees by the score were blown down in various parts of the town and county. Officer Cooper's chimney was blown off, the roof on the electric light plant lifted off and other minor damages. R. Hynson Rogers had one of his boats smashed up while the other went adrift. R. H. Collins' motor boat also is a wreck and a number of small boats have been sunk, broken up or sent adrift down the river.

A plate glass window in the Candy Kitchen front was blown out as well as other smaller window glass elsewhere about town.

The travel over Bohemia bridge was cut off by a sunken scow and all autos and others had to go by way of head of Sassafras.

There was no Tolchester boat on Wednesday and the Ford had great difficulty in making Rock Hall.

ASPHYXIATED BY GAS

Sam Rosen, a Russian, who has been conducting a shoe repairing factory on High street, next door to W. T. Bramble, died at Easton Hospital Monday night, after being unconscious for more than 36 hours from gas asphyxiation. All sorts of rumors have been going the rounds but the facts as we learn them from authority is as follows:

Rosen was found unconscious Sunday morning about eight o'clock by Harry Reusky and John S. Vandegrift. When discovered he was lying on the floor in the rear of his store that was used as a kitchen, or living room. One burner in a gas cook stove was burning in the oven, and the top burner was wide open. A small table was pushed hard against the stove. Conditions of the room appeared as though Rosen had prepared a late supper and while sitting at the table had fallen asleep and pushed the table against the stove in such a manner as to open the upper cock.

Rosen had made arrangements to go to Philadelphia on Sunday morning and had requested Harry Rensky, who occupied a room on the floor above to awaken him. It was in compliance with this request that Rensky found Rosen unconscious as stated. An entrance was forced into the room and Dr. H. G. Simpers promptly answered a hurried call. The physician applied every remedy known to medical science at his command, in the effort to resuscitate the unfortunate man, and succeeded in bringing about normal respiration, but because of the impoverished blood from gas poisoning was unable to restore consciousness. Physicians from Philadelphia were sent for at a cost of $350 but they could do no more than had been done and Rosen was taken to Easton Hospital on Monday in Mr. Walter Wright's big car.

The deceased leaves a son, in business in Centreville, and a wife and daughter in Russia.

Rosen had been trying to arrange for his wife's trip to America and had sent her as much as $1,000. He received letters stating that the Germans had robbed her home, money and everything. These matters made Rosen extremely unhappy.
